- Organic Valley has donated $10,000 to the district to be used at the discretion of the board and administration. Some thoughts for the use of the funds: support the Robotics Program, VB equipment, elementary school programming, exercise classes for staff and community members.
- Discussed Clean Diesel Program/Grant which would replace diesel buses with electric or propane; electric buses need warm storage to preserve the battery and at this time, our buses are parked outside. We also need to think about long term planning. The grant is available for the next 5 years.
- The pool use survey will be pushed out on the district website as well as having paper copies for those who wish to take the survey and do not have internet access.
- Pool update: the lockers in the team locker room have been delayed, with a delivery date of Sept. 19th; the delivery of the chemical controller and heat pump have also been delayed, pushing the opening date of the pool to October 1st.
- A diploma has been specially ordered for a veteran who went to war during his senior year, with the possibility to schedule a news release and a virtual presentation.
- The new playground equipment is scheduled to be delivered and installed in October.
- Lines were put on the gym floor on Monday and scheduled to be sealed Thursday and Friday this week.

Proposal for Music Instrument Purchase

I've been communicating with Doug in regards to our instrument fleet, reasons for updating, quotes, and a prioritized list. This is a summary of what and why:

Based on the inventory list, I asked SSE to quote replacements for the instruments. Age, condition, and need were the main reason I asked them to quote what they did. Also, the largest, most expensive instruments are generally owned by the school, whereas the smaller, less expensive, most common instruments are purchased/rented by the students.

Here are the reasons I asked for quotes on the following instruments:

Piccolo - My instrument inventory shows we have two piccolos, but since my time here, I have only ever seen one. I do have an empty piccolo case, without an instrument, sitting in my back office.

Tenor Sax - The school owns 4 tenor saxophones:

Buescher, 60 yrs, Fair Yamaha YTS-24, 40 yrs, Good Yamaha YTS-52, 30 yrs, Good Yamaha YTS-52, 20 yrs, Fair...needs work

Bari Sax - The school owns 2. I found out one was a donation about 15-20 years ago. Yamaha YBS-52, 30 yrs, Good Yamaha YBS-52, 30 yrs, Fair...needs work

3/4 Tuba - The school owns 3-3/4 size Tubas: Yamaha YBB 103, 30 yrs, Fair Yamaha, 30 yrs, Good Jupiter, 15 yrs, Good

Tuba - The school owns 2 full sized Tubas: Yamaha YBB-641, 40 yrs, Fair...needs work Yamaha YBB-641, 20 yrs, Good

Euphonium/Baritone - The school owns 5 baritones and 2 Euphoniums Yamaha-Baritone, 10 yrs, Good
Holton-Baritone, 20 yrs, Good
Holton-Euphonium, 40 yrs, Fair
Yamaha-Euphonium, 20 yrs, Fair...many patches
Holton-Baritone, 30 yrs, Good
Yamaha-Baritone, 10 yrs, Good
Conn-Baritone, 50 yrs, Needs Work

Marching Harnesses...The main reason I asked to quote the harnesses is that when we march, the High School and Middle School use the same drums. Harnesses are adjustable and meant to be fit to each individual, however, the adjustments take time. With extra harnesses, it would be beneficial to fit each individual to a harness and then share the drum only.

SSE Quote Not a Yamaha, Gemeinhardt, or Jupiter dealer. Quote is models that would be similar to the brands we currently own.

Doug also asked me to clarify how long an instrument should last. This was my response:

It's extremely hard to say "how long" an instrument should last. If instruments are well maintained and cleaned every year, essentially they should last until something breaks and deems it "unfixable." Replacement parts are available for all the major brands of instruments. For instrument models that are no longer made, most repair shops have 'graveyard' instruments in their shop they will take parts off of to keep fixing other instruments, and some of the good repair technicians will fabricate parts if needed. I've seen "professional" instruments that are 60-80 years old that have been well maintained and still work. My concern is if some of the fleet is not continuously looked after and upgraded, all of a sudden, the entire fleet is 40-60 years old and cost more to repair and maintain then what they are worth, simply because they are student or intermediate instruments that are lower in price to begin with. Kickapoo is fortunate to have a full inventory and many people have donated instruments over the years. In my estimation of the entire inventory, the average age of an instrument is 35 years old.

Finally, Doug asked me to prioritize a list:

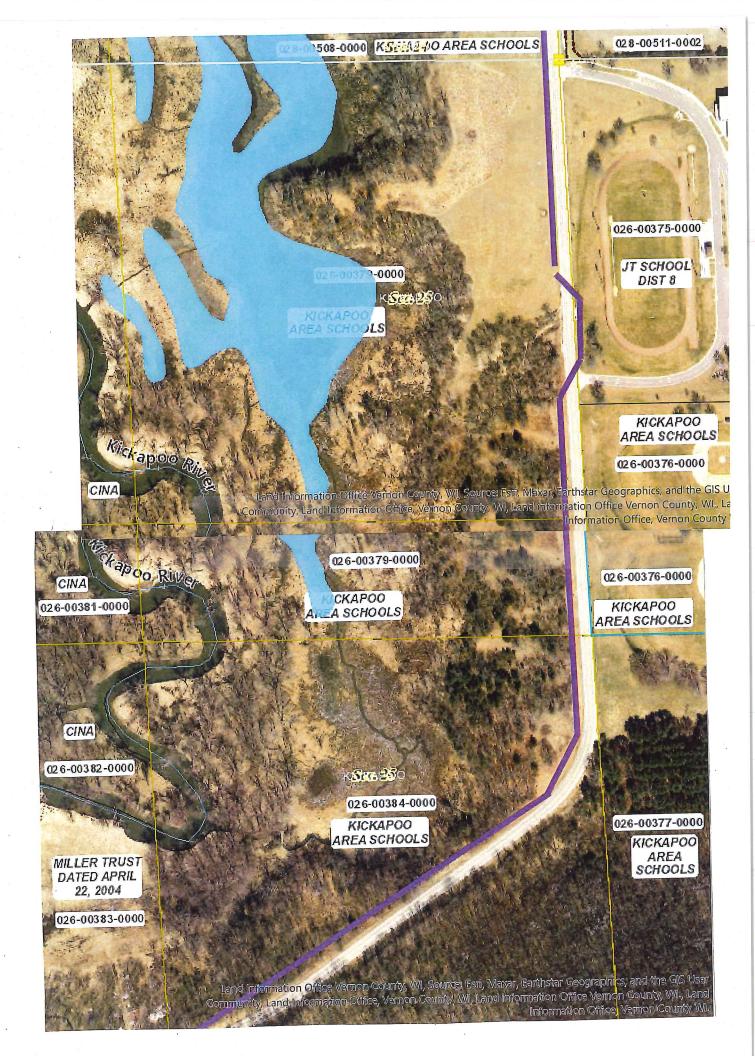

Here is a prioritized list and a "cost estimation" based on the quotes:

- 1) 1-Euphonium ($2000) and 1-Baritone ($1500)
- 2) Tenor Sax, possibly 2 ($2150 for Student Model / $3100 for Intermediate Model)
- 3) Full Size Tuba ($7000) Direct Replacement of what we own
 - May be able to get some money by selling the oldest model on "Tuba Exchange"
- 4) Marching Harnesses ($350/each) Need 10 to have a complete second set.
 - -These can be upgraded a few harnesses at a time if figured into a yearly budget
- 5) 3/4 Tuba ($4000)
- 6) Baritone Sax ($5000)
- 7) Piccolo ($1000)

Total estimation if purchasing the entire list above: $29,250

Thank you for your time and consideration!
