The Character Trait for April is Self-Control

If you learn self-control, you can master absolutely ANYTHING.

Dear Families and Students,

Next week is a very important week: it's the week of parent-teacher conferences at White Pass Elementary. I know that teachers have been working very hard to schedule times for a conference for every single student, and preparing report cards and work samples and anything else they need to share with you on your child's progress. Our goal is for every student to have a conference, because progress for every student is important, and making a family connection for every student is important too. So I'll be around the building during conferences, and I invite you to come say howdy and we can chitchat for a bit about school, your kiddo, and/or anything else you like.

The week after that is spring break: April 1st through 5th. Enjoy your family time, and get outside and take a good deep breath of our wonderful East Lewis County spring air.

Looking ahead, our annual Child Find is scheduled for April 17th here at school. This is where early childhood specialists from our area come to school and screen young children (4 years old and younger) for health and development. It's also where we figure out how big next year's kindergarten will be! So if you haven't already, please call up Miss Christy and schedule a time at Child Find for your little one.

Finally, a big thank you to our very own Mrs. Kruger, who found the missing black microphone! That's all for now. Have a great weekend.

Kind regards,

Nathan Coutsoubos
