STUDENT COURSE LOADS AND SCHEDULES

Prior to entering high school, each student will develop a four-year educational plan with guidance from their parent(s)/guardian(s), and the school counselor. The plan will be based on the student's educational and career goals and shall be updated annually. The student's annual scheduled classes must fit with the plan. Students transferring into the school shall develop a plan at the time of enrollment.

At the beginning of every school year, each high school student will be expected to enroll in a minimum of six credit bearing class periods during the regular school day. Students that register for a minimum class load, but drop a class, must then attend study hall or register for another credit bearing class.

A physician's certification must be presented if a student's health requires a diminished course load or restricted activities. Students on IEP and 504 plans may be allowed to carry less than a normal workload with the approval of the principal of the school the student attends.
