Dedication

Allen Standridge

Superintendent of Magazine Schools 1991-1994

Allen Standridge was born in Opal, Arkansas, on January 22, 1934, to Joe and Ida Tackett Standridge. Allen was the youngest of seven children. Although he was born in the small town of Opal, he grew up in the backwoods of Arkansas and attended Oden High School near Mena.

While at Oden, he accomplished things many students just dream about, including being elected to the all-state basketball team twice, his team winning the state basketball tournament his senior year, and earning the title of valedictorian, and the nickname "Slim." Of all his brothers and sisters he was the only one to finish high school.

During his high school days, he began dating a girl by the name of Rosemary Sloan. They dated off and on for years. When he left for college on a basketball scholarship, they kept in touch with letters. They were married his junior year of college.

He graduated with a four-year degree in math and physical education. He began a job as coach and math teacher and throughout the years earned his masters degree and his administrative degree. He began his first job as superintendent at Oglesby, Texas, in 1982. After 11 years at Oglesby as coach, math teacher, principal, and, finally, superintendent, he moved to Arkansas and eventually became the superintendent at Magazine.

He served as superintendent of Magazine Schools for three years. Unfortunately, he was forced to retire at the end of the 1993-94 school year due to his health. In honor of his work with the school and students of Magazine, we would like to dedicate this year's annual to him.

Why do students have part-time jobs?

Jeannie Roseberry "I have a part-time job because I don't like spending time with my friends! No, really I have my job for extra money, so that I can afford to be a senior."

Ronnie Shelton "For money to pay my truck payment and because I am the boss at work."

Dustin Garrett "So I'll have money to fix my truck when I tear it up."

I can't get this stuff off my shoes.
Johnny Peugh

Hi! Welcome to today's KFC-TacoBell.
This is Carrie. How can I help you?
Carrie Isaacs

The Senior Class goes all out for Red, Black, and White Day, even threatening classmates with their lives if they did not wear red and black.

Jessica Hughes wears bunny ears and mismatched shoes for Wacky Day.

Jason and Jessica Shelton lead the eighth graders in their homecoming pep rally cheers.

The camera catches sight of Brandon Tate, even in his camouflauge.

Homecoming Spirit Week

December 12-15, 1994

Monday-Pajama Day

Tuesday-Hippie Day

Wednesday-Wacky Day

Thursday-Camoflauge Day

Friday- Red,Black, and White Day

LeAnn Stein looks like she just got out of a time machine from the 1960's.

Jennifer Haller is all decked out for wacky day.

Danya Cravens, Joy Bell, Angie Kirk, Deidera Dickens, Mrs. Scharbor, and Phyllis Clare wish it was this easy to get ready for school every day.

Kym Thayer and Audra Kennedy are, like, so cool man!

Robbin Pilgreen, Misty Girty, Josh Stafford, and other eighth graders look ready for combat.

Joe Bob Staton and Todd Gilbert help Jim Kirk D.J. the Homecoming Dance.

Frank Hart enjoys the dance.

Homecoming Dance '94

The Senior Class sponsored the Homecoming Dance after the games, December 16, 1994. The dance was short, but everyone seemed to have a good time while it lasted. Senior Jim Kirk served as the D.J. for the dance.

Johnny Peugh and Stephen Clare seem bored at the dance

These Jr. High girls show older Rattlers how to boogie!

Kristy Daniels isn't able to convince Buddy Moffet to dance.

Everyone got into the "Boot Scoot Boogie" just before the lights came on.

Class Rings

Amanda Young asks Mrs. Beck to turn her ring. Tradition says that the last person to turn a class ring (the 96th in this case) gets a kiss.

Amanda West and Darci Krigbaum dream of the day it will be their turn to order class rings.

Joe Standridge, Deidera Dickens, and Astra Herman carefully inspect their class rings after the long wait for them to arrive.

Mollie Beggs wants the perfect fit for her perfect class ring.

Ouch! Paying for class rings often strains the budget of juniors. Sam Duvall, at far right, prepares to pay for his.

Lilly the Tiger

Have you ever held a 10-week-old Siberian Tiger cub in your lap?

On August 25, Lilly the tiger came to Magazine. Lilly lives at Turpentine Creek Exotic Wildlife Refuge in Eureka Springs.

The Turpentine Creek Wildlife Foundation, which loves and cares for these wonderful animals, was kind enough to let Lilly come for a special birthday girl. Kenny and Willena Stevenson planned to surprise Magazine School. Were they ever surprised!

A teacher said, "Buck told me you were bringing a real tiger, but I didn't believe it." The whole grade school fell in love with Lilly.

Is the pep rally really that scary?

Mrs. Cleveland, what has you so worried?

Expressions show mixed feelings about class. Is it really that exciting?

Mr. Isaacs cheers Sarah Holt on.

The 6th graders express their spirit in different ways.

Activities and Organizations

Jr. High Cheerleaders entertain with a sock hop!

Watch out Garth Brooks, here come the Lost Boys!

Seniors crown Mr. Isaac "King of the Rattlers."

Everyone participates in the Victory Line to show their school spirit.

Joe Shea Standridge and Carrie Isaacs take the Ratlers on a wild ride.

PEP RALLIES

Jr. High Cheerleaders show their creativity and talent.

This year, pep rallies have gotten to be a bigger part of life at Magazine. New ideas and enthusiastic cheerleaders have made pep rallies seem new and exciting.

Mrs. Scharbor goes "EL FLIPPO" during a pep rally.

Seventh graders get fired up to win the spirit stick.

Jessica Shelton, Wayne Britt, Joey Robinson, Justin Keathley, Spencer Starling, and Chrissy Shelton pose for the high school costume contest.

These kids are waiting anxiously for their turn to go through the spook house.

Justin Keathley struts his stuff at Fall Festival!

Do you recognize this cowardly lion? Mrs. Young

Mandy Robertson, dressed up as Pebbles, helps Sophomores with their booth.

Chrissy Shelton awaits her doom at the dunking booth.

Ashley Eckles and Adam Carter were crowned King and Queen of the Fall Festival.

Fall Festival

The Fall Festival was held on Friday, October 29, 1994. It was sponsored by the Jr. Class, and it was a huge success.

Homecoming

The Homecoming Royalty: Queen Kara and her Court

Superintendent James Isaacs crowns Kara Beavers.

Lauren Davis, Montana Cowan, and Jadyn Cleveland served as attendants during the ceremonies.

Matthew Holt and Lance Holt rolled out the red carpet for the court.

Dear Jeannie,

You have always made us proud. You are always there for family and friends. You're a very special person, beautiful, intelligent, sharing, and, most of all, loving and caring. We hope all your dreams come true. Just remember, never cut yourself short; you can do anything you set your mind to!

Congratulations!!

We love you,
Mom, Dad, D.A., and Josh

Jean Marie,

Just a note to let you know how very proud of you I am. Since you were the first grandchild, you are special, but what makes you even more special is the fact that you were born on my birthday. You have accomplished a great deal in 17 years and I'm sure you will accomplish a lot more in the years to come. I wish you lots of luck in your future years.

Lots of Love,
Grandma

God took the softness of a cloud,
The sparkle from the dew.
Warmth and tenderness He took
From summer skies of blue.
Gladness from a twinkling star,
Wonder from the night.
Brightness from the noonday sun,
From the moon, its glowing light.
Then he added His own love
And sent it to my heart....

Anita you surely are
God's greatest work of art.

Anita Sue Emmert

We've watched you grow into quite a young lady
Through your younger years you almost drove us crazy.

With hearts full of love, we've asked God above to make life special for our dear lady

Iraqi leader Saddam Hussein orders his troops to the border of oil-rich Kuwait. The U.S. sends 350 warplanes to the area to support the Kuwaiti forces. By October 11, Hussein orders the withdrawal of most of his forces.

Russian President Boris Yeltsin calls out his poorly trained military to subdue a rebellion in Chechnya, a southern republic the size of Connecticut. Critics accuse Yeltsin of resorting to totalitarian methods of the old communist Soviet regime to keep the shaky Russian Federation unified.

Europe's worst flood in this century kills at least 30 people across Europe. Inland floods caused by melting Alpine snow and relentless rains hit Belgium, France, Germany, and the Netherlands, whose famous dike system begins to crumble late in January 1995 in the face of rampaging rivers. Dutch authorities evacuate 250,000 people from the lowlands.

Camilla Parker Bowles, allegedly Prince Charles' mistress, announces her divorce from her husband, Andrew Parker Bowles. Princess Diana is said to be negotiating a divorce from Charles, who will be free to remarry without giving up the throne—unless unhappy subjects force a referendum on the monarchy.

More than 900 passengers die, 140 are rescued when the Estonia, a 15,500-ton Baltic ferry sinks off the coast of Finland in a violent nighttime storm. The storm's 30-foot waves swamp the ship which lists and sinks in a matter of minutes.

After a peasant uprising in Chiapas and two major political murders, Mexico gets a new president. Ernesto Zedillo, an economist, assumes office only to face a stockmarket crash, a ruined economy, and a loss of international confidence in the wake of the North American Free Trade Agreement.

Bucquet-Sorlin from Gamma Liaison

Conservative religious groups and those who believe in individual rights clash over issues of education for women and family planning at the U.N. International Conference on Population and Development in Cairo, Egypt, September 5.

On July 25, U.S. President Bill Clinton welcomes King Hussein of Jordan, right, and Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin to the White House, where the two sign a historic nonaggression pact that ends a 46-year state of belligerency between Israel and Jordan.

Joyful residents of Belfast celebrate after the Irish Republican Army (IRA) announces an end to its military operations in Northern Ireland as of August 31. After 25 years of British military presence and over 3,000 killings, the IRA says it will now seek Irish union only through political channels.

Tipper Gore, wife of U.S. Vice President Al Gore, visits Rwandan refugee camps in Zaire in July. Thousands of refugees, fleeing ethnic conflict in Rwanda, die of cholera, dysentery, and other infectious diseases. Fresh water supplied by the United States military greatly reduces the number of cholera deaths.

Palestine Liberation Organization chairman Yasir Arafat returns to Palestine in July 1994 after 27 years of exile in Tunisia. Arafat kisses the ground in the Gaza Strip, now a Palestinian autonomous zone under the terms of a 1993 peace accord with Israel.

Millions of South Africans travel weary hours and wait in mile-long lines to vote in the first all-race elections. After more than a century of white rule, the voters choose former political prisoner Nelson Mandela to preside over the dismantling of apartheid.

Jimmy Carter, former U.S. president and self-styled global troubleshooter for peace, negotiates on behalf of the U.S. in Haiti, Bosnia, and North Korea. He even offers to help settle the baseball strike.

AP/Wide World

In Japan, an earthquake with a magnitude of 7.2 collapses buildings, derails trains, buckles elevated expressways, and causes fires throughout the city of Kobe. Over 5,000 people are killed and 26,000 injured. The Japan quake occurs January 17, 1995, one year to the day after a quake devastated Los Angeles.

Larry Downing, Sygma

U.S. President Bill Clinton, right, and British Prime Minister John Major take part in ceremonies in June 1994 at a military cemetery during the 50th anniversary commemoration of the Allied D-Day invasion of Europe, the event that sealed the fate of Nazi Germany during World War II.

India suffers an outbreak of pneumonic plague, carried by flea-infested vermin. Workers in Bombay earn five rupees for each exterminated rat; one thousand rat-tails earns a color TV.

Catherine Herrin, ICONA

Chinese school children, dressed to look like Colonel Sanders, welcome the president of Kentucky Fried Chicken to Shanghai in May 1994. Few of the country's many foreign business ventures thrive, but KFC becomes a Chinese favorite. The finger-lickin' enterprise makes plans to expand its outlets from 28 to 200.

A triumphant Jean-Bertrand Aristide reclaims his position as president and restores democracy to Haiti with the help of U.S. troops. Haiti had suffered under the rule of a military junta led by General Raoul Cedras, who goes into exile after reaching an agreement with U.S. mediators.

Reuters/Bettmann

In one of the most successful antiterrorist operations in aviation history, French commandos storm an Air France jet-liner and kill four Algerian hijackers, freeing the plane's 173 passengers and crew.

Alan Tanenbaum, Sygma

Thousands of Cubans flee their economically depressed homeland, hoping for a better life in America. Many set off on homemade rafts and other small vessels only to be intercepted by the U.S. Coast Guard. The United States and Cuba reach an agreement in September that allows 20,000 Cuban immigrants to enter the United States each year.

In the wake of the 1994 Los Angeles earthquake and the southern California wildfires of 1993, California experiences more natural disasters in January 1995 when rainstorms cause flooding that kills 11 people and leaves 3,000 others homeless. Flooding is so high in Santa Barbara, fun-seeking teenagers dive off a freeway overpass into 15 feet of water. President Clinton declares 34 counties federal disaster areas.

In 1994, the U.S. registers a one-year population growth of 2.7 million. One-third of the increase is due to immigration, the largest such influx since 1914.

Author and humanities professor, Ralph Ellison, dies at age 80. His 1952 novel, Invisible Man, has been called the most powerful novel written about alienation, identity, and racism in America.

A huge increase in killings by 14- to 24-year-olds raises the nation's homicide rate, while violence blamed on preteens rocks communities nationwide. A boy, 13, is sentenced to life for strangling a four-year-old. In Chicago, an 11-year-old boy kills a 14-year-old girl and is then executed by his own gang. In Washington state a pair of 12-year-olds shoot a migrant worker.

The death of Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis in May 1994 marks the end of an era, a time when America was prosperous, fighting for civil rights, and heading for the moon. The former first lady is buried next to her husband, President John F. Kennedy, in Arlington National Cemetery, Washington, D.C.

Called the Republican revolution, November mid-term elections put the Republican party and its anti-big government platform in control of Congress for the first time in 40 years. Georgia's Newt Gingrich, author of the GOP's "Contract with America," is the new Speaker of the House.

Heat, drought, and lightning combine to set Western states ablaze in late June and July. Fires consume 2,000 acres in Colorado's South Canyon when 50 mile-an-hour winds whip the flames into a firestorm, killing 14 specially trained firefighters; 10 men and four women.

Jeffrey Markowitz/Sygnia

The volunteers for Silent March bring shoes from every state for one of the quietest demonstrations to ever take place in Washington, D.C. Each empty pair of shoes represents one of the more than 40,000 Americans who have been killed by handguns.

Despite powerful National Rifle Association lobby efforts, Congress passes a crime bill banning the sale of 19 types of assault weapons. The Brady Law goes into effect; in one month 23,610 people with criminal records are denied the purchase of a handgun.

AP/Wide World

The prosecution seeks the death penalty in the case of Susan Smith, who dupes the nation with a frightening tale of the abduction of her two little boys. The community's early support grows quickly to hatred when Smith confesses to murder—she sent her children to their deaths at the bottom of a lake.

AP/Wide World

The 37th U.S. President, Richard Nixon, dies in April 1994. Nixon was responsible for restoring normal ties with the People's Republic of China following the signing of the Shanghai Communique in 1972.

Rick Phillips, The Associated Press

A rare white buffalo named Miracle draws crowds to the humble Wisconsin farm where it was born August 20. Native Americans believe the calf is the fulfillment of a Lakota Sioux prophecy. Five hundred years ago, White Buffalo Woman told her people that she would return as a white calf to usher in a new age of harmony between all races of mankind.

Weiner, Gamma/Liaison

The Flint River overflows, washing coffins out of a Georgia cemetery after torrential rains from tropical storm Alberto flood Georgia and the Florida-Alabama panhandle. Thirty-two people die, 40,000 are temporarily homeless, and 10,000 square miles are underwater, causing $100 million in crop damage.

Former football star O.J. Simpson is charged with the June 12th stabbing death of his ex-wife Nicole and her friend Ronald Goldman, causing a non-stop media avalanche. The sensational case familiarized watchers with spouse abuse, a televised ride in a white Ford Bronco, "Kato" Kaelin, and DNA testing. Simpson faces the jury in January.

Reuters/Bettmann

President Clinton, with Republican leader Bob Dole, signs legislation implementing the U.S. role in an expanded General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), one of the most sweeping trade liberalization pacts in history. The legislation makes the U.S. a member of a new 125-member World Trade Organization. Protectionists worry that GATT may promote world trade but won't sufficiently protect American jobs.

The Secret Service considers restricting public access to the White House after a gunman fires 27 rounds at the building's facade in October. In September, a small Cessna airplane crashes on the South Lawn and comes to rest at the base of the White House below President Clinton's bedroom, killing the pilot.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration blasts the tobacco company executives at a congressional hearing in March 1994 for denying that nicotine, a drug found in cigarette smoke, is addictive. Tobacco industry workers fear losing their jobs if the FDA succeeds in classifying and restricting cigarettes as a drug.

The U.S. Interior Department moves the bald eagle from its endangered species list to the less critical "threatened" category. The Pacific Northwest's spotted owl is left to fend for itself when in June a federal judge lifts the 1991 injunction that halted logging in the owl's habitat.

The fossil of a previously unknown dinosaur, the 25-foot-long Cryolophosaurus ellioti, is found in Antarctica.

Despite a so-called fitness craze, the National Center for Health Statistics confirms the American overabundance of food combined with a sedentary lifestyle is creating an epidemic of obesity. Since 1980, the number of overweight adults has ballooned to one-third of the population, with an alarming increase among children.

Some of the 599 newly revealed secret ingredients major cigarette-makers add to improve taste and texture: beeswax, butter, carrot oil, citronella oil, cocoa shells, corn silk, dandelion root extract, 31 chemicals that start with ethyl, oak chip oil, vinegar, and dimethyltetrahydrobenzofuranone.

Three planets are discovered orbiting a pulsar star 3,000 light-years away in the constellation Virgo. One is the size of the moon and two are three times more massive than Earth; all are rocky worlds without an atmosphere.

NASA

NASA's space shuttle mission 64 tests the operations of a Simplified Aid For Extravehicular Activity Rescue (SAFAR) device. Crew member Mark Lee maneuvers successfully outside the Discovery, while Carl Meade photographs him against the background of Earth.

Martin Rodbell and Alfred Gilman are awarded the 1994 Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine for developing a model of cell communication that has medical implications from cholera to cancer.

The Food and Drug Administration institutes new food labeling on almost all foods in response to consumer protest against the many misleading claims of food producers. The new readable labels provide realistic serving sizes, list calories from fat, and allow you to compare different nutrient values.

UPI/Bettmann

The century's greatest chemist and antinuclear activist, Linus C. Pauling, winner of the Nobel Prize for Chemistry in 1954 and the Nobel Peace Prize in 1962, dies at the age of 93. His work on DNA laid the foundation for Crick and Watson's discovery of the double helix.

Institute of Human Origins

In Ethiopia, anthropologists discover the skull of a human ancestor, Australopithecus ramidus, 4.4 million years old. The new species has features midway between apes and humans and promises to provide clues to still earlier evolutionary stages.

Japan's "Love Love Simulation" computer program allows couples to take a non-scientific look at future offspring by digitally combining their own photos to predict a child's appearance.

Scientific News

Astronomers wait at every major telescope in the world to see the historic cosmic crack-up of the 21 big fragments of Comet Shoemaker-Levy 9 as it smacks into the atmosphere of Jupiter at 134,000 miles an hour. Plumes of fire shoot up hundreds of miles, high enough to become visible to telescopes on Earth.

Internet activity rises sharply as surfers find their way around the information superhighway. Advertisers, rock music reviewers, the worldly Voice of America, and others decide it's time to jump on.

NASA publishes a new report supporting the theory that a giant comet hit Earth 65 million years ago and vaporized 100 billion tons of sulphur to create the cloud barrier that froze Earth's atmosphere and killed the dinosaurs.

A cave is found in southern France, full of 300 vivid paintings of woolly-haired rhinos, bears, mammoths, panthers, and owls made about 20,000 years ago. The Stone Age artists also left behind bear skulls, flint knives, footprints, and fireplaces. Experts call it the archaeological find of the century.

One of Lake Superior's enduring mysteries is solved by scientists and marine historians who explore the wreck of the Edmund Fitzgerald, an ore carrier that sank with its crew in a 1975 storm. The ship, overused and in poor condition, was ripped apart by 90-mph winds and 30-foot waves. Most of the 29 crewmen are entombed inside the wreckage, well preserved in the 39° waters.

BSIP from Custom Medical

A long-term study of radial keratotomy finds it generally safe and effective. For the nearsighted, tiny spokelike incisions into the eye improve focusing ability and eliminate the need for eyeglasses. The patient is awake for the procedure.

The non-violent CD-ROM game Myst by Cyan, Inc. becomes a best-selling phenomenon, winning legions of devoted fans and spawning imitators. The fantasy-adventure's graphic visuals are hyper-real; the written word is the key to the mystery.

Gerard Lacz, Animals/Animals

Cutbacks in military spending force the U.S. Navy to reduce its elite 100-dolphin fleet trained for use in sonar research, mine sweeping, and underwater recovery. Too tame to be released in the open sea, the veterans of conflicts from Vietnam to the Persian Gulf retire to aquariums and water parks.

The most popular names for newborns this year are Ashley and Michael.

Young people serve their country by volunteering under a new program called AmeriCorps, where 20,000 people aged 17 and up work with community-based organizations in exchange for $7,500 plus money toward college tuition or loans.

One percent of the nation's 50 million school-age children learn at home as families seek alternatives to public schools. In a handful of high-tech experiments, kids submit homework by modem, download books and artwork from the Internet, and collaborate on academic projects with other children around the world.

A survey of college kids reveals their favorite sources of sugar and caffeine during all-night studying to be: powdered iced tea, peanut butter mixed with marshmallow cream, baby food, ramen noodles, raw cookie dough, and trail mix made from chocolate chips, graham cracker bits, and mini-marshmallows.

A lively new cafe society centers around the 5,000 gourmet coffeeshops which spring up around the country. To the often young and trendy patrons, the social interaction is just as important as the espresso. Some cafes offer full-time Internet links so patrons can sip and chat with other Internet latte-drinkers.

Yoga, a Hindu system of stretching exercises for well-being, surges in popularity, mostly because the older generation seeks a technique for alleviating stress and finds yoga better than aerobics.

Colia, Gamma Liaison

Aerobic boxing, with boxing-style leg and arm work, turns out to be one of the year's hot exercise trends, showing up in workout studios and attracting those who want to work off their aggression by throwing a right and a few jabs.

Besides recycled clothing like license-plate bustiers, bottle-cap jewelry, trash-bag and duct-tape dresses, fashion trends include the schoolgirl look with thigh-highs, and the grunge-turned-beatnik look of long, straight hair and a goatee.

A new survey shows that over 12 million Americans are vegetarians, choosing the no-meat lifestyle because of concern about animal cruelty, cost-efficiency, eco-friendliness and/or improved health and fitness.

The hottest merchandise around is Mighty Morphin Power Rangers, so hot Cabbage Patch dolls pale in comparison. Parents criticize Fox's super-violent TV show, but their kids crave Dragon Daggers, Megazords, and the 4-foot, $230 battery powered car. "Go, go, Power Rangers!"

A hot new collectible derives from an old household item. Milk caps, known in some regions as pogs, originally capped the bottles left by the milkman but have now gone funky with colorful printed designs and variations that are traded and used in games.

Although most are forced to settle for Oakley wrap-arounds, stylin' kids, like in-line skaters and urban youth, clamor for Arnet's $80 Ravens with the silver-chrome frames.

led by brash young skate and surf types, two million snowboarders nationwide discover the joy of swooping down slopes on one board instead of two. No hard boots, no poles, no crossed tips, make it easier than skiing. Since their giant frozen wave is a ski hill, snowboarders annoy old-style skiers who want their slopes left undisturbed by shredders.

Nathan Blouw/Allsport

The first generation to ignore colas in favor of fruit drinks, today's young people give Snapple popular cult status. The trend breeds juice wars as Snapple imitators like Fruitopia vie for youth market shares and inundate the airwaves with Generation X-type advertising.

Pope John Paul II authors Crossing the Threshold of Hope, a blend of theology, evangelizing and personal reminiscence. It becomes a best-seller in 35 countries.

Jacques Chenet, Gamma Liaison

Remaining a virgin in the face of peer pressure finds new respect among teens who defend their freedom to forgo sex in a sex-crazy world. The movement is both a demand for real love and a reaction against unwanted pregnancy and health risks, since today one out of four kids are infected with sexually transmitted diseases by the age of 21.

Will and Deni McIntyre/Photo Researchers

It's called "the year of the cottage industry" as more Americans adopt different work arrangements in response to corporate downsizing, either by telecommuting or starting businesses out of their homes.

Kool-Aid makes a cheap hair-dye, an alternative to bleached hair with, say, Prizm Blue added for sheen. The "city fade" shaves the sides of your head and leaves the top longer, and the matted hair look is achieved by leaving the soap in and forgetting to comb.
