a generation bound for greatness. Throughout our lives, we strive for what we believe in. Our ambitions, our desires, and even our failures make us who we are. We have created the foundations for the rest of our lives by our experiences here at school, in the classrooms, on the fields, and with each other. Our time here is evident in our achievements, our awards, and the memories we leave behind as we go on.

We all have different answers to the question, "Why do I go to school?" For some of us, it is to see our friends, to participate in sports, or simply because we have no other choice. But, regardless of what we say, our primary reason is to learn, and at Magazine we have lots of great opportunities to do just that.

Dakota Kohler runs the ball.

The line gives Michael Corbitt plenty of time to look for an open receiver.

he memories made this year were fantastic as our Rattlers broke the school records for scoring and the most wins in a season. Their strength, their teamwork, their love for the game took them far this year. A companionship was made, not just the members coming together for the game, but the members sacrificing for each other. David Delay gave Michael Corbitt his pads when Michael left his at home. David Ellis gave up his jersey so Dewayne Dority could go in to carry the ball and score a touchdown. The 2008 team finished their season with their first playoff game, but they never quit giving it their all, and they made us proud by leaving it ALL on the field.

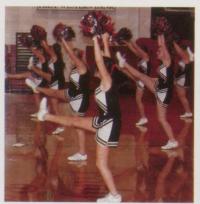

Thanks for a great season!!

It's not about the wins. It's not about how many points you score. It's about the heart of the game. In those last few seconds of the fourth quarter, it doesn't come down to skill. It comes down to who wants it the most and who takes it. That determines who dominates the court. The Lady Rattlers showed their hearts consistently throughout the season. They played with energy, even when they were tired, and they played with desire, even when they were down by twenty points. These are the elements of a true Lady Rattler.

Homecoming Dance

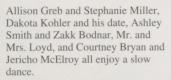

Go Rattlers!

Homecoming week is always one of the highlights of the school year, and this year was certainly no exception. We wore our silliest clothes all week long, stayed long hours after school decorating our lockers and making signs, cheered our loudest at the homecoming pep rally, watched our senior boys proudly escort our royalty onto the court, cheered as Kelly was crowned our queen, laughed when Victoria ran back across the court, supported our Rattlers and Lady Rattlers to victory, and then danced the night away. What a week!

Amy Fairbanks explains the concept of dancing to Cory Chambers and T.A. Riddle.

Tierra Phillips, Kimberlane Swift, Skyler Jones, Kenly Lewis, Doug Boss, and Amanda Young form a train around the dance floor.

Pep rallies are a chance for us to go a little crazy. We cheer for the Rattlers and get involved in the competition between the classes for the Spirit Bell. This year's pep rallies were interesting when the juniors declared that Chuck Norris wishes he was a Rattler, and the seniors came back with Michael Phelps and then Edward Cullen wishing they were Rattlers. Sierra,

We are so proud of you and all of your accomplishments. Now is the time to set new goals and begin a new part of your life. Follow your dreams and remember that we love you and will always be here for you.

Ashley,

We are so proud that you came into our lives on March 20, 1991. Everyday has been an adventure filled with love and joy. We are so proud of you. May God watch over you and bless you as you embark on the next chapter of your life.

Love,

Mom and Dad

To Grandpa's Monster Monkey,

You brightened our lives the minute we knew you were ours. You've filled our life with laughter and delight. We are both proud to be your grandparents. May God watch over you and keep you safe. If not, I'm the grandma who will pack up and move with you. (Ha-ha!)

We love you, Grandma and Grandpa

The last 17 years have been unbelievable since Ashley Ciera has been my niece. The excitement we have shared sitting watching her play her sports is unforgettable. We're going to miss you, the only sports player in our family. We have nobody left to play our sports in Magazine.

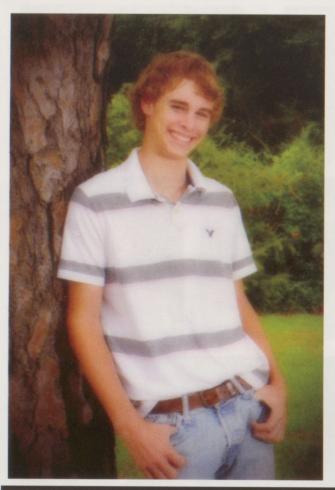

Love you, Aunt Dolly and Jimmy

Ashley,

Congratulations to my most favorite niece and Little Mexican. Follow your dreams and your life will be filled with joy. We love you.

Aunt Juanita and Family

Dear Drew,

It is hard to believe that you are a senior. The years have just flown by, and you have grown up to be a fine young man. We are so proud of you. Your name means courage, and you have demonstrated courage throughout your life. These past five years have been extremely challenging for us as a family, and your faith and beliefs have gotten us through the tough times. We hope you always continue to uphold the morals and values that you have lived by, and continue to have the courage to live life by following God's ways, and not the ways of the world. As this next chapter in life begins, we wish God's blessing upon you, and much success in every aspect of your life.

All Our Love.

Sara Dawn

Sara,

I can't believe I'm doing this. I "blinked" and you grew up. You have been, and still are, a ray of sunlight to our family's eyes. I am SO proud of you. You are a RARE flower in the world we live in today. You have always stood solid on what you believed in and never made a lot of noise while doing it. You have a TRUE beauty that out shines any title or label the world has to give. You are the most remarkable person I've ever known. You find beauty in the ugliest of things. You find good in the worst of people. You have qualities that most people, young and old, only dream of having. I love you so much Sadie Dawn, teach me to be like you. Love, Mama

Matt

You son, are a warm spot in our hearts and a smile on our lips. In the beginning you were charmingly innocent, putting your complete trust in us. You came to us for a hand to hold and for the security only our arms could provide. You shared your tales of adventure and knew how proud we were of your discoveries and accomplishments. All your problems could be solved by a hug and a kiss from us, and the bond we shared was so strong it was almost tangible. Time passed and our innocent little boy started to test his limits. You let go of our hands and raced into the midst of life without thinking ahead or looking both ways. Your problems grew along with you and you learned that we could not always make your life better or kiss your troubles away. You spend much of your time away from us. and though we long for the closeness we once shared, you chose independence and privacy. Discoveries and accomplishments aren't as easy to come by now and sometimes you wonder about your worth. But we know the worth of you, son. you are our past and our future. you are hopes and dreams that have made it through each and every disappointment and failure. In our hearts you are precious and treasured. Together, we have struggled through the years to find the right amount of independence for each new stage of your life, until finally, we had to learn to let you go. Now we put our trust in you, leaving you whom we hold so dear totally in your own care. We hope you always remember that we have a hand for you to hold and arms to provide comfort and support. Most of all son, we hope that you believe in yourself as much as we believe in you and that you know how much we love you. Mom and Jerry

Bridget, You're our only girl, but even if we had a dozen, you'd still be #1. You're our favorite---daughter, sister, niece, and granddaughter. We love you so much and can't wait to see the wonderful life you'll be leaving us to make for yourself. Drive slowly. Enjoy the journey. Love, Your Family

Years down the road, we'll look back and see ourselves in our greatest time of transition. We are changing into the people we are destined to be. In the future, when we flip through these pages, we will be reminded of where we came from, what we went through, and realize that how we survived is what makes us who. . .
