

Elected School Boards have the ability to create positive, holistic educational experiences through policy.

It is vital that the needs of each local community are not over-ridden by broad statewide policies. Compliance with the state accountability system must also recognize local community priorities.