Students you are taking the English Language Arts Non-Performance task test today. Please make sure this is the test and only test you access today. Please ask your teacher if something doesn't look right or you are confused about which test to take. We have learned through speaking with other schools that this first test is taking longer than expected to complete. Please remember to take your time and know that the test is not timed. You may take all the time you need to complete the test. We have scheduled 3 hours for the test today. Some of you might need the entire time while others will not. 6th grade students you will receive a break for lunch and return to your test afterwards. Please be respectful of your classmates and others throughout the building while testing. Remember that you are not allowed to leave your testing room unless it is an emergency and there are no group breaks. Please speak with your teacher if you have a nurse or restroom need during the test. It is important that you follow proper procedures if you must pause your test. The test can only be paused for a certain amount of time and if you do not follow proper instructions then you may not be able to finish the area that you were working on. Teacher please remember to refresh your screen at least every 20 minutes during testing. Teachers remember we will chime through the intercom system at 9:45 as a warning to report where you are in testing so we can decide if we can stop the test time earlier and continue for the entire block. Students please give your best effort today. Use as much time as you need. Utilize all of the tools that are allowed on ILEARN and make sure you use the strategies you have been working on in your English classes. Good luck today!
