Dear Families and Students,

Thanks to everyone who has returned their school surveys to their teachers or Miss Christy! We sent them home yesterday, and I was happy to see that some are already rolling in! A couple of teachers decided to hang on to the surveys yesterday, and send them home with their regular Friday packet today. So check your kiddo’s backpack, and please do take a couple minutes to fill out the survey. Your input is very important to us.

State testing is rolling along very smoothly. Each morning, before that day’s class starts to test, I like to visit and give them a little pep talk. My usual reminders are for kids to read the whole question before they start to answer, to work with determination and courage even when the question seems difficult, and to always remember all of the mighty and powerful knowledge they already have in their brains. In fact I make a point of telling students that I won’t wish them luck—and that’s because they don’t need luck, because of all the wonderful things they already know. The power to succeed on our state tests is already within each and every one of our students.

Finally, we have lots of cool field trips coming up. We are always in need of parent volunteers to join our field trips as chaperones. Please contact your child’s teacher if you would like to help out. It’s a great way to be involved with our school.

Kind regards,

Nathan Coutsoubos
