White Pass School District is a small, rural district located in the foothills of Mt. Rainier and Mt. St. Helens in eastern Lewis County. The district serves approximately 430 P-12 students from the three unincorporated towns of Glenoma, Randle, and Packwood. The students are served on one central campus consisting of an elementary and a junior/senior high school located in Randle. This beautiful setting, a geographical area of about 1000 square miles, has enjoyed tremendous support from the community with the continual passage of the maintenance and operations levies. In addition, the community supported a bond which enabled a new junior/senior high school to be built and the elementary school was remodeled

The successful candidate can enjoy an outstanding quality of life with opportunities to hike, hunt, fish, and snow ski if so desired. The cities of Yakima, Seattle and Portland are all within a two hour drive.

The quality of the staff and community support makes this an outstanding personal and professional opportunity.
