Prince Edward County Public Schools

Volume 2, Issue 2

35 Eagle Drive, Farmville, Virginia

June 2008

Congratulations, PECHS Class of 2008!

Graduates, pages 2 - 8

Graduation Speakers

Prince Edward County High School graduates Marlowe and Evelyn Jones Foster addressed the 170 graduates of the PECHS Class of 2008 at commencement exercises May 23. The husband and wife pair urged the class to follow the example of the Biblical Good Samaritan, to take the opportunity to clear out negativity, as they cleaned out their school lockers for the last time, and to fill their lives with goodness. Mr. Foster, a graduate of Virginia Commonwealth University, is assistant director for government relations for Pfizer, Inc. Mrs. Foster, a graduate of Hollins University, owns and operates "The Total Package," a company which plans and manages corporate and social events.

Brown Scholars

Prince Edward County graduates of St. Paul's College, recipients of the state's Brown Scholarships, were honored at the high school graduation May 23. In the front row are Brown Scholars Geneva Jones and Rita Moseley, with high school interim principal Barbara S. Brown. In the back row are Brown Scholars Gary Smith, Douglas Vaughan and Crawleigh Hall. Not pictured were Brown Scholars Gloria Lockett and Carl Styles.

Joy Utzinger named PECPS Teacher of the Year

Elementary school art teacher Joy Utzinger has been chosen as the school division's Teacher of the Year. She will represent the Prince Edward County Public Schools in regional competition.

In her application essay, Mrs. Utzinger said she loves teaching art. Art is important because it reinforces other subjects and because it is "a great equalizer," she said. "You can excel at art, even if you don't excel at other academics."

She praised her fellow teachers for their support of the school's art program.

Other finalists, chosen by their colleagues at each school, were biology teacher Sarah Fulcher and physical education teacher James Scott from Prince Edward County High School, band director Ariel Maloney and special education teacher Teresa Vance from Prince Edward County Middle School, and first grade teacher Antoinette Carter-Chaffin from Prince Edward County Elementary School.
