A ROSE BY ANY OTHER NAME - Brandy Hogan displays her winning Herbalscape entry, featuring pink double Knockout roses.

Hogan repeats win at Maymont festival

by Emily Camden
PECHS Horticulture Teacher

Prince Edward County High School horticulture student Brandy Hogan, who graduated with the Class of 2012, placed first in Maymont's annual Herbs Galore and More Herbalscapes competition Apr. 28, repeating last year's win.

The Herbalscapes contest requires contestants to create a container garden that includes the herb of the year and illustrates a theme.

The 2012 herb of the year is the rose. Brandy chose as her theme "Breakfast in Bed - A 'Rosey' Collection of Recipes for Mother's Day."

Competition rules specify that 75 percent of the arrangement must include herbs. The presenting student is judged on the look of the container, placement of plants, and content knowledge of the plants in the arrangement.

Brandy used pink double Knockout roses, purchased at Lowe's in Farmville, as well as 'Alaska mix' Nasturtiums, fern-leaf dill, and sweet basil, from B&M Greenhouse. She also used orange mint and thyme donated by her mother, Jody Hogan, and oregano donated by Emily Camden, PECHS horticulture teacher.

The container was constructed by Keith France, building trades instructor at the Prince Edward County Career and Technical Education Center. It was fashioned to look like a serving tray.

Lapierre Davis, also a graduating senior, drew roses on the container's sides, which Brandy then wood-burned and stained in a light cherry finish.

Brandy and the PECHS horticulture program donated the container and plants to Maymont to sell to help raise money for Maymont's programs.

It was a busy day for Brandy, who rushed home after the competition in time to shine at the PECHS prom that evening at Longwood's Grand Ballroom.

PECHS graduates 'a very strong class'

That is what Prince Edward County High School Principal Craig Reed called the Class of 2012 when he welcomed the seniors to their graduation practice and thanked them for a good year.

And the numbers back him up. Of the 162 members of the class, 58 are honor graduates, earning a GPA of 3.0 or higher. Of those students, 21 earned a GPA of 3.5 or higher.

Twenty-two graduates are members of the National Honor Society.

More than half the class plans to attend college, and a number of them have earned scholarships.

Thirty-five graduates are Commonwealth Scholars, having followed a rigorous course of study that included foreign languages and physics. The program is a business initiative designed to increase the student's success in college and the workplace.

Eleven members of the class passed the exam to become Certified Nursing Assistants.

Another 41 have passed career and technical credentialing exams. Twenty-five passed the exam for Workplace Readiness Skills for the Commonwealth, which tests the academic, communications and personal skills identified by employers as necessary skills for their employees.

One student passed the NOCTI (National Occupational Competency Testing Institute) Automotive Technician exam. Four passed the NOCTI Architectural Drafting exam.

Eight students earned the Microsoft Office Specialist certification and three passed the National Restaurant Association's Pro

STEPPING UP TO MIDDLE SCHOOL- As their older brothers and sisters graduated from high school, fourth graders prepared to move up to Prince Edward County Middle School. At their "stepping up" ceremony May 22 students from each fourth grade class read essays on what they had learned in elementary school. Dr. K. David Smith, division superintendent, and PECES Principal Janice Paige presented certificates to each student.

Everything I need to know ...

Fourth graders tell us what they learned at PECES

As fourth grade pupils prepared to become middle schoolers, their teachers assigned one last essay, asking them to reflect on their elementary school years and what they learned. The following essays were contributed by Fourth Grade Teachers Angela Booker, Jason Crowe, Susan Eanes, Elizabeth Fitts, Janice Goode, Sarah Norton, Jen Townsend, Linda Webber, Joanne Weidinger, Breanne Wolf and Heidi Woodson.

Elementary school is a special time. You pretty much learn everything you need to know, like reading, writing, honesty, sportsmanship, fairness, etc. You practice these things all your life, and if you skip that, you might not have a clue of what to do at Middle School, High School, and College! So I'm going to tell you some of the things you learn, not really in lessons, but in life experiences.

Sharing is one of the most important because you learn that there's only so much of everything. You share crayons, glue, books, and even playground equipment. You take turns and have fun with it!

Honesty is an important skill because you learn that you should always tell the truth, not cheat, and do your own work. And if you're not honest, you may regret it and it can hurt you later in life - and that won't be nice! Who knows, it could lead to things worse than a trip to the Principal's office. So, that's why you should be honest.

Sportsmanship is important because you learn to be fair when you play games. If you win a game or a contest, don't brag. And if you lose, you shouldn't complain. If you have good sportsmanship, people will be more likely to be your friend, because you're nice and they can trust you.

Caring is important because it helps you show sympathy to others. And if you care, people may be your friends - and they might return the favor! If you don't care for others, people will be likely not to help you if you're hurt or need help. So, if you're caring for others, they're probably looking out for you, too.

So those are four of the things I thought were some of the most important things you learn in Elementary School and Prince Edward Elementary School is a perfect place to learn them. So, if you think about it, all you needed to know, you learned at PECES.

- Hannah Roldan

All I needed to know I learned at Prince Edward County Elementary School. My teachers were wonderful. They have always encouraged me to do my best in each and every thing I do.

I've always loved this school since the first day I started. I loved how the teachers taught me all I needed to know in a way that all my classmates could understand. I also love how they teach us in a fun-filled way so that I could enjoy the lesson but still learn everything I was required to know.

I learned that the teachers treat you with all of the caring attention that they would share with their very own children. I like how the principals care about your education and your health also. I have enjoyed elementary school, the teachers and the way everything was. I will always remember how the teachers taught in a marvelous way.

In moving over to the middle school, I will always love the learning experience that I had at Prince Edward County Elementary School.

- SaRoya Walton

First, in Pre-K I learned how to draw and color. In kindergarten, I learned to count. In first grade, I learned to add and subtract. In second grade, I learned to add and multiply. In third grade, I learned to do multiplication and division. Last but not least, in fourth grade I learned a whole lot. I learned about fractions, long division, and multiplication. We learned English, Math, Spanish, Social Studies, and Science. I learned the difference between fiction and non-fiction and historical fiction. And all of these things came from wonderful teachers. I also want to thank the lunch ladies and men, the resource teachers, our school nurse, plus everybody in the whole, wide world!

- Darius Scott

All I needed to know I learned at Prince Edward County Elementary School. All of my teachers have encouraged me to work hard and do my best. All of the teachers helped me succeed in every skill. I am happy that I go to Prince Edward County Schools. They taught me all of my knowledge.

- Autumn Brockway

At Prince Edward you learn about everything. You learn about rounding, subtraction, and adding. Then about multiplying and dividing. And reading is a BLAST!!!!

The thing I like most is the teachers. They are really fun. They give you projects to do. I love the science projects. They are so much fun.

The thing I will miss most are the teachers. Every teacher I've had, I love them. That is why I recommend coming to Prince Edward!

- Kaleb Hensley

Hello, my name is Anthony Calhoun and I am a fourth grader in Mrs. Townsend's class. I am going to share with you what I like about Prince Edward County Elementary School. It is that they make you use your brain! I admit, I am a troublemaker and they let me learn from my mistakes and correct me when I am wrong. Most of you may think that this is mean, but I think it is that they care.

When I am finished don't clap for me, clap for the teachers. These are the teachers that have helped me use my brain: Mrs. Swink, Mrs. Bobenreith, Mrs. Randolph, Mrs. Fells, Mrs. Capati, Mr. Bisailon, and Mrs. Townsend. In addition to these teachers, many people at Prince Edward Elementary have helped me throughout the years, and I want to say THANK YOU!

- Anthony Calhoun

Editor's note: We certainly do not agree with Anthony when he calls himself a troublemaker. We call him a bright and inquisitive student!
