

Porter Potty Phone a Stressful Situation.

By:

It all started at Gray Animal Park. Natalie, my mom, and I had looked at the deer and other little critters. We were heading over to the bears. We stopped to look at a coyote on our way. Right across from the coyote were the porter potties, so we decided to use them.

Oh the smell. Plug your nose. I went to the bathroom first, Natalie went second, and mom went last. When my mom got up we heard a clinking noise. My mom had lost her ^{new} phone, in the porter pottie! She couldn't find it anywhere. Natalie and I were helping her look for the phone.

One of the thoughts that went through my mom's mind was what if somebody comes to use the bathroom and the phone starts ringing. She thought that maybe she could have someone take the phone out for her. She also thought she would not want to use the phone again. My mom started searching all pockets of the life is good bag.

She had searched almost all the pockets. She almost gave up. But when she looked in the tiny one in the front she found her phone! We were all relieved.

Natalie said that she thought the clinking could have been the button on my mom's capris. We were so excited to go
