

The Evil Sister

11-5-B (L)

I'll tell you a story of the time in kindergarden when my sister ^{was} was a really mean ^{and a} liar to me and hears why she was so mean.

It was a sunny day and I was waiting in kindergarden for the bell to ring. My older sister was in the classroom with me.

My older sister knew mom was going to pick us up ^{today} ~~to day~~ but I forgot. So I asked her and she thought I knew so she kidingly said "Were riding the bus today". She was going to tell me the truth after but then the Bell rang so not ^{Knowing}~~knowing~~ mom was picking us up I went outside to get on the bus.

When I got home from school I came running down the hill to our house like I always do!

When I got inside the house I yeld "Mom Mom Mommy dad daddy"

At that moment I noticed that I was all alone, I started crying and crying I was so scared. Luckily I have a short walk to my grampis house.

So I grabbed a orange vest because it was hunting season and ran as fast as I could down to my grampa's house still crying.

When I got there I ~~hardly~~ ^{could} talk because of all the running and crying I was doing. When I finally ~~came~~ ^{calmed} down a little ~~he~~ ^{grampa} asked me what happened and I told him everything. He said
"Well ^{first} of all we better call your mom and tell her where you are and after that we will wash your face
with hot water *because of your tears"

So he picked up the phone to call my mom when she picked up the phone he told her that I was down at his house and why I was down at his house. After a hour or so my mom came down to pick me up and I was glad to see her.

She said she would have talked with my sister and she did.

My sister said sorry but I still think about why she did that ~~at~~ ^{some} nights and how mean she was that day.
