WELCOME

Over the last few years, LCC has started each school year with a school-wide theme, some of which have included: "Start Something that Matters," "Use the Power of Your Word in the Direction of Truth and Love," "If it Doesn't Challenge You, it Doesn't Change You," "Rise Up, Soar Above," and "Rebuild the Nest." School themes aim to boost school spirit and unite a school community around a central idea, where common language will allow students, faculty and staff to connect through meaningful discussions, reflections, and actions.

After working on a strategic plan as well as developing accreditation goals over the last year, we are set on "Stick to the Plan" for the 2022-23 school year theme. Both of these initiatives are five-year plans that outline goals for our staff and students and were created by the staff, members of the school governing board, and other stakeholders. It will be important that we use our new S.O.A.R. (Spiritual, Opportunity, Achievement, Resiliency) period at the end of the day to allow time to adequately plan, track progress and measure our growth towards these goals. This time will also be used to meet with students individually while encouraging them to work toward their goals, hold class meetings and other school events, receive one-on-one academic support, and allow for some of the school groups/clubs to meet.

Our goal of being a high-performing school in which students are grounded in their faith life and equipped with 21st century skills, is embedded in our strategic plan alongside our recently approved accreditation goals. We are committed to periodically reviewing and/or amending these plans, especially as we analyze data or if the need arises due to the ever-changing nature of the world we live in.

As we embark on another school year, guided by these two initiatives, I'd ask for your prayers as we carry out our newly-crafted vision: "At Lima Central Catholic High School we will serve Christ and heed his call to resilience as we work to impact positively our community in a changing world." Please know of our commitment to adopt and work diligently to "Stick to the Plan," not only those in writing, but HIS plans for our students and for this school year, whatever it may bring.

WAYS TO SUPPORT LCC

LIMA CENTRAL CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL

LIMA CENTRAL CATHOLIC EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION

FINANCE

Annual Fund - The Annual Fund is the ONE fundraiser that supports all aspects of the LCC experience for our students. This crucial initiative serves to offset the operational costs of the high school, as tuition and fees only cover about 60% of the expenses needed to provide the educational services offered at LCC.

General Asset Fund - A gift to the Lima Central Catholic Educational Foundation helps keep tuition costs down and provide tuition assistance for students who might otherwise be unable to attend LCC. The Educational Foundation is funded through donations and memorial gifts or bequests.

Our Annual One Day of Giving is a great way to support the Annual Fund! All gifts made on Tuesday, November 8th will be matched!

Arts Endowment - Involvement in the arts is shown to support the social and emotional learning of students. This endowment was created to establish, develop and maintain a performing and visual arts program for the students of LCC, recognizing the important role of arts education.

Teacher Endowment - Student achievement is linked to the quality of the teachers in the classroom. Market trends indicate a growing shortage of individuals pursuing the field of education nationwide. The LCCEF's Teacher Endowment Fund serves to provide ongoing resources to properly compensate and retain the dedicated faculty at LCC, and attract the best talent when we have openings. It serves to close the salary and benefit gap that currently exists between our faculty and their public school counterparts.

Operational sustainability for the near and long term was the focus of the successful campaign of the LCC Educational Foundation. It has also become one of the pillars of our new strategic plan. Enrollment at LCC is growing for the first time in many years and trending upward for the next several years. Out of pocket tuition costs are down for all students, those on state scholarships and those who are not. As we move past the campaign and look forward to the next initiatives of a now growing school, we are reminded of the continued need of financial support of our annual fundraising and continued development efforts.

LCC has long been an institution full of great people who are dedicated to serving the students. We can all name teachers or coaches who made an immense impact on the adults we grew to become. Nationwide there are fewer and fewer choosing education as their career path, creating shortages being seen in both private and public schools. We will be the best school only if we can secure the service of the best teachers and staff. The establishment of the LCC Educational Foundation's Teacher Endowment Fund was a crucial first step in providing financial resources, yielding modest salary increases for this coming year. But there is more work to be done on this front.

We are also not immune to the inflation that has impacted our operation and will continue to do so. We pride ourselves on our fiscal responsibility, but need your support of our Annual Fund and other fundraising activities and events to combat rapidly rising costs. Our commitment is, and always will be, to honor your stewardship with responsible spending while seeking maximum efficiency.

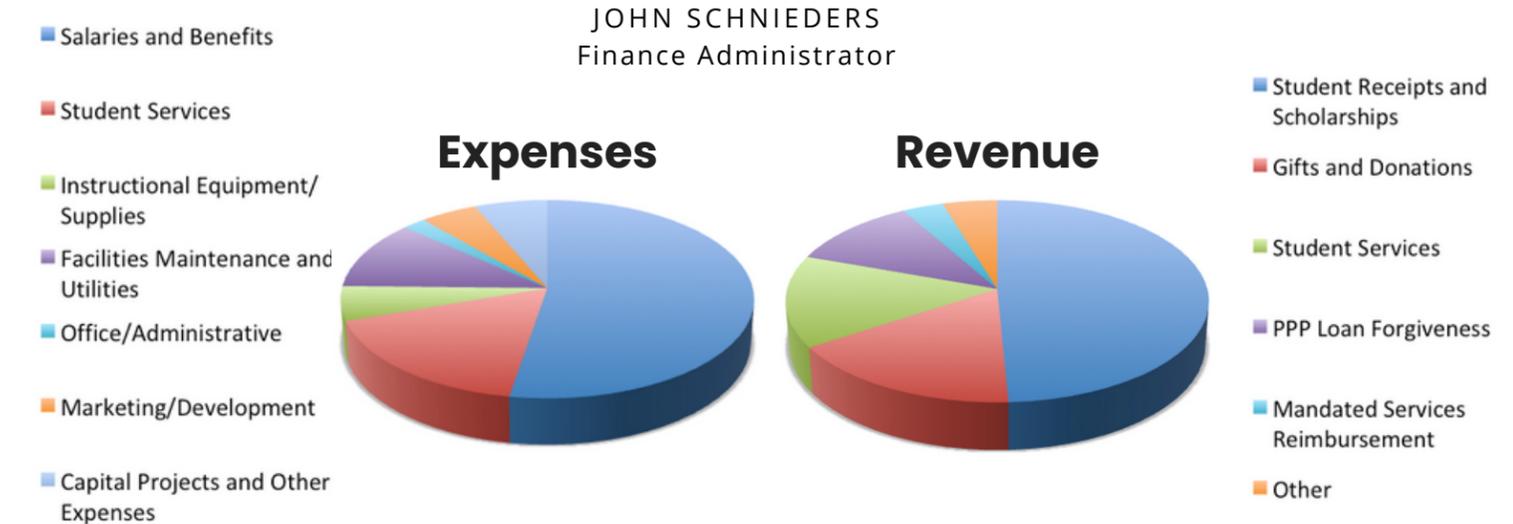

Lima Central Catholic continues to hold an important place in this community by providing secondary education embedded with the values of our Catholic faith. It serves students of diverse backgrounds with the opportunity to come together, learn from one another, and create experiences that honor both the sacrifices made by the families to enroll them here and the gifts made by generous folks who understand how important this school is in molding the next generation of servant leaders. If we want them to put those values into action, it is our responsibility to the students to do our part to make those experiences a reality. I invite you to stay connected, stay involved, and support Lima Central Catholic High School.

Auction - Our annual auction is our biggest in-person fundraiser of the year. Support the Auction by sponsoring the event, offering an item or experience, attending the event, or bidding on items virtually!

Athletics - Athletic donations can be restricted to specific items or sports or left unrestricted for our Athletic Department to use where there is the greatest need. Over the last year, donations have gone towards the purchase of new team uniforms for girls basketball, softball, football, volleyball, and cheerleading. In addition, Athletics purchased new cameras that will benefit our teams on the court.

Named Scholarships - Establish a scholarship to attend LCC for current or incoming students in your name or someone's honor. By establishing an endowed scholarship you are able to provide funding in perpetuity. For a full list of current scholarships, please visit our website.

The Diamond Thunderbird Circle - The LCC Educational Foundation created the Diamond Thunderbird Circle in order to recognize alumni, parents and friends of LCC who have chosen either to leave a gift to the Foundation in their will or make the Foundation the beneficiary of a life insurance policy. By joining the Circle you will be able to assist the Foundation to ensure a faith-based, quality education for our students long into the future.

YOUR GREATEST IMPACT IS YOUR PARTICIPATION, NO MATTER THE LEVEL!

We celebrated a successful, in-person Auction after two years of virtual events, a record setting One Day of Giving and Annual Fund, and closed the LCC Educational Foundation Capital Campaign, exceeding our goal of $6 million! It is through your gracious giving and support that Lima Central Catholic High School continues to provide a Christ-centered education to our students. We hope you will join us for one of our many upcoming Alumni events!

You may have received postcards and emails asking you to confirm your alumni information. We are working with a third party company, PCI, who the school has worked with on several occasions over the last 20 years, to help compile our alumni directories. All information you provide to them is secure and will not be sold to solicitors. At the end of your call, they will offer you options to purchase a variety of packages. Please know you are not obligated to do so! If you have not received a postcard or email, and would like to share your updates with us, please call 1-877-893-9702. ## CONGRATS TO OUR RETIRED STAFF

Once a T-Bird, Always a T-Bird

Barb Schmiedebusch

I have been at LCC for 28 years.

My motivation has been the students and the people I work with. Wanting to make a difference in student's life, having students come back and visit and tell me I made a difference and having parents thank me.

I'm sure there are plenty of embarrassing moments from my career, some particular ones would be the following: I once wore 2 different shoes to work, one navy with silver studs on them and one plain black one. I didn't even notice until lunch, when a student asked me if I knew I had on two different shoes. Another embarrassing memory was when I slipped on a grape in the cafeteria and fell down, luckily there were not that many students watching.

In retirement, I am most excited to spend time with my grandkids, play more tennis/walk, and travel to see my daughter whenever I want, not just in the summer.

My words of wisdom would be, life is all about choices, make good ones and as my mom would say "be the bigger person".

Nan Root Rogers

I worked at LCC for 25 1/2 years.

I have always loved my job, but I always seemed to favor the quiet and shy students; I think because I'm that way. I have been known to look after a student or two that had trouble getting to school on time!

My most memorable experience was the phone call saying "there's a bomb in there!" That was our first lock down and a very scary day. Another was the senior that went in the bathroom and called school saying his son had a Dentist appointment. The only problem was there was a very loud echo. I put him on hold, called his Dad. Then I picked up the phone again and informed the student that he was busted!

I was always motivated by the students that needed a little extra attention.

My advice is: Always remember that LCC is the best part of some students day! Be willing to listen and give a little extra!

Deb Schenk

I worked in education for 46 years and at LCC for 28.

There are so many memories to look back on. During my years of coaching / Asst. AD, all the teams and individuals that went on to championships will always be a source of great memories. The joy expressed by my first volleyball team to move on to District finals was something I'll never forget. This was a team that simply loved to play volleyball and helped build our program into one that would win a State Championship in 2007.

In retirement, I am most excited to simply relax....no bells, no deadlines, no papers to grade, etc. But I know it won't take long before I get involved in other things.

Some words of advice: For students I just want to, as always, tell them to do the work and put in the effort. Get involved and take advantage of as many opportunities as you can while you're here. It's worth it! Pay day will come when scholarship offers start coming in to take you to the next level. The last thing you shouldn't have when you finish high school is regrets.

For my fellow teachers, carry on. LCC is fortunate to have the teachers / staff we have as they are great people who truly care about our students. They are amazing and I hope everyone appreciates their hard work.

COACH'S SPOTLIGHT

Lima Central Catholic boasts multiple state championship teams and individual state champions, which highlight the level of excellence of our student-athletes and their commitment to be the best. This level of consistent excellence is not by chance, but through the diligent effort and sacrifice of our high school coaches. It is their passion for coaching and desire to see our student-athletes achieve their goals and dreams that allows LCC to experience athletic success unrivaled in the area. This past school year, three LCC head coaches reached significant career win milestones. We are blessed to have them on our sideline.

Coach Scott Palte won his 100th career game as a head football coach this past fall versus Huron High School.

2022 GRADUATION

“ Look to your teachers, these people have helped your journey of education and a lot of the time, advice. Thank you teachers. Your parent and guardians. These people have made it possible for you to attend this school to receive an education. Thank you parents and guardians. Finally, your fellow classmates that have made these past four years a memorable experience. ”

Emma Mayers

2022 Graduate, Keynote Address Speaker

“ I know I'm not alone when I say I will miss this community so much. While it can be easy to have wished away high school, you can always find the good if you look. If you can take a step back, you can see that they (teachers/staff) challenged us out of love, because as it was repeated to us so many times, 'If it doesn't challenge you, it doesn't change you.' And so we take all of this with us, walking out in graduation caps and gowns and the group of truly beautiful young adults we blossomed into. We went from immature, dependent freshmen, to talented, ambitious seniors. All here, at Lima Central Catholic. It's our turn to say thank you and continue to grow into who we are meant to be. I can't wait to see what we accomplish in the next couple of years, I know we will do great things. Fly high T-Birds and have a great rest of your life. ”

INNERVIEW

LCC students had the opportunity this year to help build up the Kingdom of God and build a better world through the use of our new service tracking platform, InnerView. InnerView helps our students to track their service activities and to see how helping locally can make a global impact. Each activity submitted by a student to InnerView is tagged with one of the 17 United Nations (UN) Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) for a better world by 2030. This allows students to track their personal impact and their collective impact for each goal.

At the launch of the SDGs, Pope Francis endorsed the goals calling them "an important sign of hope." With their focus on ending poverty, fighting inequality, and stopping climate change, the UN goals share many values with Catholic social teaching, including the principles of human dignity, solidarity, the common good, caring for our common home, and preferential option for the poor. In his address to the Fourth World Meeting of Popular Movements (October 16, 2021), Pope Francis referred to how both Catholic Social Teaching and the SDGs call everyone to share and be involved in the common quest to build a better world. By reflecting on each activity as an act of service and an action to support the SDGs, InnerView helps LCC students see the connections between their local actions of service, the Catholic faith, and the issues of our world today.

"LCC STUDENTS LOGGED A TOTAL OF 4,455 HOURS."

During the 2021-2022 school year, LCC students logged a total of 4,455 hours. LCC had 33 students who were recognized for community service as National Award earners and as inspirations for other students to get involved in their community. LCC students are making a difference and helping to build a better world!

“ The Lima Central Catholic Educational Foundation wrapped-up a successful Capital Campaign with a celebration event on June 4th at LCC. We started the Campaign in January of 2019 with a goal of $4M - $6M. To date we have received $6,020,206.43 in pledges. We exceeded our goal and are very pleased.

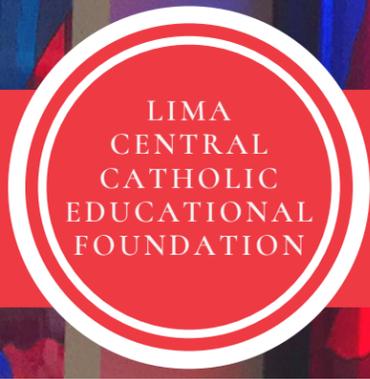

Due to the successes of this Campaign, the LCCEF will be able to award over 90% of LCC students a total of $221,683 in need-based tuition assistance, grants, and merit-based scholarships for the 2022-23 school year. The amount of assistance will continue to rise as pledges are paid, promising the attainability of a Catholic Education for all families for years to come.

The Capital Campaign also resulted in $500,000 pledged for the establishment of a Teacher Endowment Fund to help retain our extremely dedicated and qualified staff and offer salaries that are much closer to what they might earn at area public schools. This commitment by the LCCEF is extraordinary, especially as we seek to fill positions during a nationwide teacher shortage.

As we met with donors during the Capital Campaign, many expressed a passion for the arts and a desire to enhance our arts programming. An Arts Endowment Fund was created and pledges totaling approximately $200,000 have already been dedicated to achieve this goal.

A special thank you to all of the generous individuals, families, and businesses that pledged their support to the LCCEF. ”

CAPITAL CAMPAIGN

Sustain • Retain • Enhance

Remembering our past and Ensuring our future

We are thrilled to be celebrating an end to a successful campaign. We have exceeded our goal of $6 million, thanks to YOU!

In 2019, the LCCEF embarked on a pivotal $6 million campaign to increase the assets of the Foundation which help keep tuition costs down and provide much needed tuition assistance for students, provide near-term operational support for the High School, and invest in our three elementary schools. Through these efforts new initiatives arose, including the establishment of 5 new named scholarships for Lima Central Catholic students, the forming of an Endowment to grow the Arts at LCC, and more.

To date, each of the elementary schools have received over $70,000.

St. Charles used these funds for a variety of new things: document cameras, Clevertouch Boards for religious classrooms and new bibles for grades K-5.

St. Rose used funds for the Friendly program which is a Catholic based social/emotional learning program. They also purchased supplies such as fidgets and weighted vests for students to use in the classroom, as well as religious items to teach the faith, including books, Rosary cards, Mass kits and Jesus and Mary dolls for prayer time.

St. Gerard used the Capital Campaign funds to help fund the building of an 8 classroom addition to the school building for grades PK-4.

WE WOULDN'T HAVE EXCEEDED OUR GOAL IF IT WASN'T FOR THE SUPPORT OF THE LCC COMMUNITY, WE APPRECIATE ALL YOU HAVE DONE AND CONTINUE TO DO FOR LIMA CENTRAL CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL!

JAMES EDGINGTON, 1964

➔ The Start

When the openings for the Space Network White Sands Ground Terminal were announced, I applied and was hired by the main contractor, Spacecom. That began a 35 year stint at the White Sands

Ground Terminal (WSGT), starting out as a Senior Technician and ending up as a Principal Design Engineer. While it was all happening, it seemed a chaotic jumble of unrelated events, but looking back, it just seems like a logical and natural progression.

➔ Most Memorable

The largest project, and one that saved the Space Network from extended down times and data losses, was the design, construction, and installation of the Replacement Data Bus at White Sands Ground Terminal.

It replaced a failing site control system that had never been very reliable, but the sites performance shot through the roof after the switchover to the new hardware. There were definitely other important players in the project design team, including the project manager, the software leads, and the implementation team. Still, it was a real hoot to walk out on the equipment floor and see the indicator lights on my hardware merrily flashing like a marquee they provided a visual indication of the sites activity. I have since designed critical fixes and built many new or replacement devices for the Space Network, but the Data Bus Replacement was the biggest and most memorable. The whole of the Space Network was being controlled by my hardware. What a glorious chance to "spread your wings and fly"!

➔ Lasting Legacy

Some of my latest designs and installations that occurred in the 21st century are still in operation and supporting a wide aspect of our nation's space endeavors. The data for all of those beautiful Hubble

Telescope pictures passed through a little bit of me on it's way to earth. All of the International Space Station data is supported by Local Interface systems that were installed by my Engineering Changes. Launches and range safety now have extensive communication coverage from the TDRS satellites due to a Ground Network Modulator addition that is approximately 50% my design. In the grand scheme of our nation's space efforts, there are many people working "behind stage" that you never know about. They come from towns, cities, farms, etc. all across our nation. To my home town of Lima, Ohio, I extend a hearty "thank you" for the excellent education received in your parochial school system.

JAMES MCBARRON, ST. ROSE '56

James McBarron, St. Rose 1956, was an aerospace technologist who worked on spacesuits for every NASA program, from Mercury to the International Space Station. During high school and college, McBarron worked a series of odd jobs — car washer, Christmas tree lot salesman, movie theater usher, and bartender. When he was hired as a test subject (for spacesuits) for the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base Aeromedical Laboratory in 1958, the work was a lot more exotic and much more grueling. To simulate the extreme conditions of space travel, McBarron was ordered to do tests like sitting in a hot box that could reach temperatures of 200 degrees or dip into an ice water tank that averaged minus-20 degrees. McBarron did all this for $1.85 per hour, $3 per hour for hazardous tests, but he had found his career path. NASA offered him a job as an aerospace technologist in 1961, changing his life trajectory.

McBarron was there during the Apollo 13 crisis that inspired a book and movie. McBarron referenced his experience depicted in the movie Apollo 13 when a man in charge dumps items on a table and challenges everyone to find a solution to build a carbon dioxide filter that would keep the Apollo 13 crew alive as they traveled back to Earth. McBarron was there, in the real-life crisis. "I was one of those guys who had to solve the problem," he said.

McBarron worked for NASA from 1961 until his retirement in 1999. During his time with NASA, he supported the Manned Spacecraft Center at the Johnson Space Center in Houston, Texas and worked with spacesuits for all NASA flight programs including Mercury, Gemini, Apollo, Apollo-Soyuz Test Project, Skylab, Shuttle, and the International Space Station. In 1999, he took a position with ILC Dover, Inc. as Spacesuit Systems Manager where he reviewed advanced spacesuit technology requirements and design concepts for future manned space flight programs. In 2002, he joined the "Gray Beards" and provided knowledge and insight learned from past programs to support development of advanced spacesuit technology and inflatable products for current and future manned-space missions including the Artemis Project.

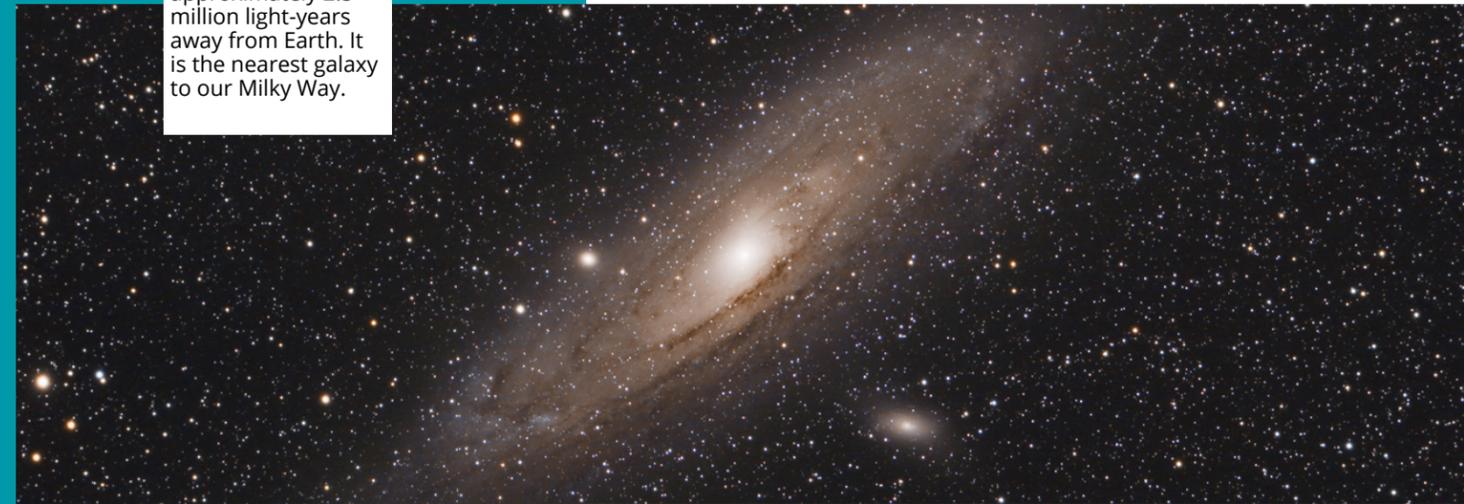

McBarron passed away in November of 2020 at the age of 82.

NICK KOHRN, 2003

M31 (The Andromeda Galaxy) is a barred spiral galaxy that lies approximately 2.5 million light-years away from Earth. It is the nearest galaxy to our Milky Way.

I recall being enthralled by space at an early age. My grandmother gifted me books about space, and I would stare in awe at the enclosed images. However, it was not until recently when I realized that the beauty of our universe could be captured from my own backyard with modest equipment. Once I learned that I do not need the equivalent of a Hubble Space Telescope, I began researching and slowly acquiring more capable tools.

Human eyes are not made for viewing many of the objects we see in space, we use cameras to capture images in order to see the details that we would otherwise miss. Most objects appear as faint, fuzzy, gray blobs when viewed through an optical telescope. However, the objects can come to life, with the help of image processing, after capturing many long exposures. Because space is dark, and because night time is dark, long exposures are needed to collect as much light as possible from the distant and faint objects that we see with our eyes. Typically, each image I take is five minutes long, and I can take upward of 500 exposures, but it depends on the target and sky quality. After I have captured all of the images that I want of a specific target, the files are inspected and processed with software to bring out the colors and details. This is the same process that goes into the images from the Hubble Space Telescope.

IC 1396 (The Elephant's Trunk Nebula) is an emission nebula that lies 2,400 light-years from Earth.

Caldwell 49 (The Rosette Nebula) is an emission nebula that lies 5,000 light-years from Earth, which contains numerous newborn stars.

M42 (The Orion Nebula) is a reflection nebula that lies 1,300 light-years from Earth, and it is visible to the naked eye when viewed away from light-polluted skies.

Astrophotography is a rewarding hobby. With the ever-growing plague of light pollution, there are places in which adults have never seen anything in the night skies other than a handful of the brightest stars. There are ways to minimize your impact on the growing problem of light pollution. To learn how you can contribute to better sky conditions, not only for hobbyists, but also for scientists, you can learn more by visiting the International Dark-Sky Association's website. There, you can learn about responsible lighting and other ways to help us preserve our night skies.

If you have any interest in getting started with astrophotography, feel free to email me at bnkohrn@icloud.com. I will be happy to share resources, knowledge, and provide recommendations that will set you up for a rewarding experience.

Lastly, you can see my current collection of images at <https://www.astrorbin.com/users/nickkohrn/>.
