Principal Newsletter

Dear Parents and Guardians,

Next week we look ahead to a fun week of festivities planned for students, alumni and friends of Lima Central Catholic for Homecoming week. Student Senate members and advisors, as well as members of the administrative team, have worked hard to create what we hope will be a memorable week for our students. Within the newsletter, please look for detailed information about Spirit Week and the theme associated with each day. If students decide they do not want to participate, they are expected to be in their school uniform. It often takes the hands, hearts and time of many individuals to make an event come together, but that is what makes Homecoming week so special.

While Homecoming week is certainly intended to help students create fun and safe memories, I cannot overlook the fact that students may be faced with choices specifically as it relates to post-dance activities. Many of you will help your student by giving him or her money for tickets and dinner, or by helping pick the perfect outfit for "Meme Monday" or "Group Wednesday." All of that is important and part of the fun of Homecoming activities, but please don't avoid the very real and necessary conversations that need to be had with your children. My prayer is that all our students have a fun but, more importantly, safe week.

Blessings,

Ms. Williams '98

Recap of Start with Hello Week

National Honor Society Tutoring

Does your student need help with any of their classes? Students in the National Honor Society are willing and able to help tutor any class. We have peer tutors available during every study hall every day, during SOAR and every Thursday from 2-3pm in the Quatman Room. So there really should be NO excuses for your student to not get the help they need. Email Mrs. Thompson at tthompson@apps.lchs.edu if you would like to set up some tutoring for your student.
