Principal Haro's Corner

Good Afternoon,

Middle School students started state testing this week. The information that we gather about our students is very important. It helps us determine how students are doing in math, reading and writing and then it helps us with our curriculum and what we teach students in order for them to be successful. Please make sure your student is getting a good night's sleep and arrives to school on time.

Prom was a huge success Saturday night. I want to thank Mr. and Mrs. Kau for organizing and chaperoning the prom as the junior class advisors. Additionally, I want to thank the parents that helped chaperone and clean up after prom. The students danced all night and everyone looked so beautiful in their prom regalia. Congratulations to Joel Perry and Mackenzie Larsen for being crowned Queen and King of the 2019 prom.

Athletics are winding down for spring sports. This weekend is the district track meet at McKenzie and Friday afternoon at 4:00pm is the last home game for the baseball team.

Sincerely,

Marci Haro

Great News about the Applegate Panthers!

From Principal Aaron B. Brown

Congratulations to our latest Perfect Panthers!!

You make everyone Proud!

From 1st Grade: Elly June

Elly June is an awesome second grade role model who always has a bright smile on her face and is practically jumping for joy to learn. She is such a hard worker! Her face lights up when she has accomplished a challenging task and her effort never wavers when she hits a speed bump in learning. For example, I have been so proud of her for her perseverance in reading. She will take the time to reread a passage over and over again just so she can not only read every single word correctly, but to also have the most amazing expression while doing so! Her love of reading has now carried over into her writing and she has created quite a few beautiful stories.

Elly June is also a very sweet friend to her peers. Her kind gestures make everyone around her feel noticed and appreciated. It's always wonderful to see her working with another student on a math problem and hear her using the math vocabulary we have learned, while still being a very fair and understanding partner.

I am so proud of Elly June for working hard and making so many gains while in second grade! Keep up the good work and positive attitude!

-Mrs. Barrong

From 4th Grade: Jonah Cooper

Jonah is the Perfect Panther of the week because of his steadfast work ethic. He listens to me while I teach a concept, and even if he is not sure of it the first time he works hard to make sure that he gets it. Jonah is willing to try new things. He was in the "Play Project" this winter and ended up with a speaking role.

He has really enjoyed being on the Oregon Trail. His character had a dog. I looked forward to his daily journal entry that always included the dog. He also was willing to give advice to some of the other wagons and in a good natured way that made it fun for them even when they made basic hunting mistakes.

Jonah will continue to do well in school because he is willing to do the work. He never takes a shortcut and it is a pleasure being his teacher.

Keep in touch, Jonah!

Love, Ms. May

Applegate Project Based Learning Activities

Oregon Trail Celebration

The fourth Grade class completed their Oregon Trail activity with a celebration! They made it to Oregon City. The class worked hard to learn about the Oregon Trail by reliving it as close as a 4th grade can. They journal the daily struggles that the immigrants endured and made exciting stops at forts and land marks along the trail.

Faced with real problems (this year's snow days) and make believe problems, (broken bones, fevers, and dead animals) they completed their journey. The celebration began by making biscuits and butter in the classroom. Then, they continued by reading their journals to the invited guests and concluded by learning an old pioneer craft of weaving. It is a fun way to learn and is always enjoyed by everyone!
