Burkeville Cade Building

Summary

The Lush Girls Day Camp was created to empower girls ages 8-18 as they navigate their childhood into adulthood. We promote education, a healthy self-image, community involvement, and the freedom to create. Camp features panel discussions, interactive activities and break-out sessions to enrich the day-to-day lives of campers. This year, the Lush Girls Day Camp will feature a luncheon, packed with insight, art and service projects. Our theme: “Self-Love. Self-Care. Love your Selfie!”

Camp

Camp is free to all attendees as we seek to revitalize our community. Volunteers, sponsors and generous donors make this annual event a success. This year, each attendee is asked to bring a gently used item (clothes or shoes) to donate to the Anani Memorial International School in Ghana, Africa. As we strengthen our community, we want to always remember those in need globally. We anticipate 50 attendees and need your support to make the event memorable. This year, our first camper Alexis Peacock graduated! We look forward to cheering her on as she pursues a degree in Art.

If you're interested in sponsoring and/or being a part of this event, please contact event founder, Ebony Fowler at lushgirlsdaycamp@gmail.com. We look forward to hearing from you, soon.

Respectfully,

Lush Girls Day Camp Founder, Ebony Fowler
