Dear Parents/Guardians:

The Department of Pupil Services is excited to have Missy Wrigley, Consultant from the State Education Resource Center (SERC), presenting What Parents Need to Know about Secondary Transition Planning Services. While this is geared towards the parents of high school special education students, all are welcome. A recent flyer from SERC included the following:

“What is the student’s dream for life after high school?” Parents and other family members are vital to the transition planning process, especially because a student’s ethnicity and culture must be considered when developing a plan for secondary transition. To become informed participants in the transition process, family members must know about the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA 2004) regulations specific to the Individualized Education Program (IEP) and transition services at the secondary level, as well as about adult service agencies that can provide supports.*

Please join us on Wednesday, March 29, 2023 at 4 pm in the Lyman Memorial High School Library to learn how you can prepare your child for life after high school. Please RSVP by Wednesday, March 22, 2023 using the link below:
