Gratitude Tree

I did this last year, and it was fun to see the things the guests at my house were thankful for. Cut out several leaves of different colors (large enough for people to write on) and leave them in a bowl with pens and tape for people to put on the tree throughout the day. Hope you find lots of things to be thankful for this year.

From the Superintendent
School Lunch
School Calendar

Fall is upon us. The first quarter of school is complete and the grades have been sent home. We have completed our Fall Activities and the Middle School has started the first round of Winter sports. Students and staff are now working to get two more units completed before the Thanksgiving break.

When this letter arrives, we will have just completed the first step of our strategic planning. Step one included Stakeholder Engagement sessions. I hope as many of you as possible participated. Step two will begin immediately after, with the process of analyzing responses and goal setting. These will be our goals for the next five years. Once the goals are set, an Action Plan will be created. This plan determines what we do to achieve our goals.

Fall also brings election time. We have 11 candidates vying for four school board positions. What a great time for us to see so many people interested in being involved. Over the next four years the board will be exploring how we get our schools into the 21st century. The process has begun but we have some work ahead of us. Very exciting to be a part of the process.

As we move into winter and the days slow a bit, we will be asking questions about the 4 ½ day school week. We will be looking at our academic data but will also want the perceptions of the community. Our need to have extra time with those that struggle the most has not changed but are there other, more effective, alternatives. We hope to begin these discussions after the first of the year.

Please enjoy the beautiful fall weather.
