Dear Parents, Grandparents, and Friends of SCCS,

I have been reflecting lately on how to help make our school become a more prayerful school. This means that we need to look for opportunities for our students and staff members to call on God. We have our daily religion lessons, our weekly Masses, and a variety of rituals, traditions, and first time plans for our school to seek wisdom and guidance by the acts of Faith, Love and Service.

Our children have the answers in their hearts. This is because they have the souls and minds that are open, trusting, and forgiving because they are children and they don't know any different. They are able to fully immerse themselves, they believe, they have hope, they can forgive and move on. They are humble. When Jesus said, "Bless the Little Children," he surely gave us a directive to be like them, the children.

At St. Charles we have the best combination of people: we have teachers who will teach the children and we have children who will teach the teachers. Add the commitment/dedication and prayers of school parents and our school becomes more holy day by day! Together we form one amazing and dynamic faith community who grows and moves together in ways that surely make God smile!

Pi Day Celebration

On Mar. 14 people from around the world will be celebrating Pi Day (3.14). Students will be learning about the significance of pi and how it relates to circles in their classes. In addition to this, as part of the day our school will be collecting canned goods that will go to the Christian Corner Community Center. If your child brings in a canned good they will have their name put into the drawing to "pi" an 8th grade student volunteer in the face. This has become a much loved tradition over the years here at St. Charles. Thank you for your generosity!

Need a surprise Easter gift? Forgot to grab a book while the book fair was open? Want to pre-order the new Dog Man? No worries! Our online store is still active until Thursday. We will earn the proceeds from all sales using THIS LINK ❤️📖
