More Information

Who can join Scouts BSA?

Scouts BSA is a program for boys and girls ages 11-17. Youth members participate in single-gender Troops. The Troop listed on this flyer is comprised of either all-male or all-female youth members. You may join at any age – please note that no prior Scouting experience is necessary.

When will Scouts meet?

Scouts BSA is a year-round program. Meeting days and times vary from Troop to Troop. Some meet once a week, others twice a month. Scouts, adult leaders, and families can work together to choose a meeting schedule that is most convenient for everyone.

What will Scouts do?

The Scouting program provides fun, adventure, learning, challenge and responsibility to help boys and girls become the best version of themselves. Whether it's camping, hiking, community outreach or building remote controlled robots, the programs and outdoor adventures help youth develop confidence, self-reliance, leadership and character. These qualities make Scouts leaders in their classrooms, leaders among their peers and leaders in their future careers. Scouting is the ultimate form of learning by doing. Scouts are introduced to countless hobbies, interests, sciences and even future career choices along the way.

What is an Eagle Scout?

Scouting builds leaders. The highest Scouts BSA rank, Eagle Scout, requires an enormous amount of hard work, dedication, and leadership. An Eagle Scout has proven their leadership by making a positive impact in their own life, their family and their community. Being an Eagle Scout carries a significance not only in Scouting, but also in education, business and the community.

Where and how do I enroll in Scouts BSA?

Attend the enrollment event on this flyer to learn more about your local Scouts BSA Troop. If that Troop is not a great fit for your family, then contact us and we can help find alternatives if available.
