

Supporting Neurodiverse Students

PROFESSIONAL LEARNING SYSTEM

Description

The Supporting Neurodiverse Students Professional Learning System includes regional training sessions, webinars, online discussion groups, book clubs, website resources, a needs assessment with accompanying toolkit and other professional learning opportunities to support educators serving students with disability-related needs in the areas of social and emotional learning including self-regulation, social communication, flexibility, resilience, sensory processing, and executive functioning. This professional learning system is funded through an IDEA discretionary grant and is provided by a statewide coordinator. All training materials have been developed by the statewide coordinator and DPI and are based on needs identified through a statewide stakeholder process. Additional contributions to the training content were made by an external DPI workgroup. The training system is beneficial to educators supporting students with autism, students with emotional behavioral disabilities, or other neurodiverse students. Emphasis will be placed on utilizing Universal Design for Learning, inclusive practices, self-determination and self-advocacy, College and Career Ready (CCR) IEP Five Step Process and CCR IEP Five Beliefs enriched by evidenced-based improvement strategies.

Targeted Audience

Educators, family, community members and people with disabilities working towards supporting best outcomes for students with IEPs.
