"What new mob disturbs the days?
Who are these, with intrusive ways,
Who speak with an alien tongue?

* * *

Innocently wicked,
Innocently wise,
Innocently impudent,
Innocently gay—
Boys who are Young America,
Scholars, lean and white,
Or athletes red and gay,
Proud young men America,
Well on its way,
Girls most bewitching,
Boys most untamed,
Hotly praised and preached it; hotly
very hotly blamed.
Who are these? What is their aim?

* * *

This is a chosen people,
This is a separate race,
Speaking an alien tongue—
These are the darlings of (our) heart,
These are the young."

Pledging allegiance to the flag, and the country for which it stands,

And to North Little Rock Senior High and the spirit for which it stands—

You — a chosen people, a separate race,
speaking an alien tongue,

This book is for you—our Young.

The 1953-54 Story --
With Pen and Camera

Approaching from the east, as do some 1200 Wildcats who alight from bus or car each morning, one is greeted by Wildcat Hall's sun-haloed tower and warm buff walls.

Looking east from second floor, there are the beautiful campus and the patient automobiles.

These

Hallowed Halls

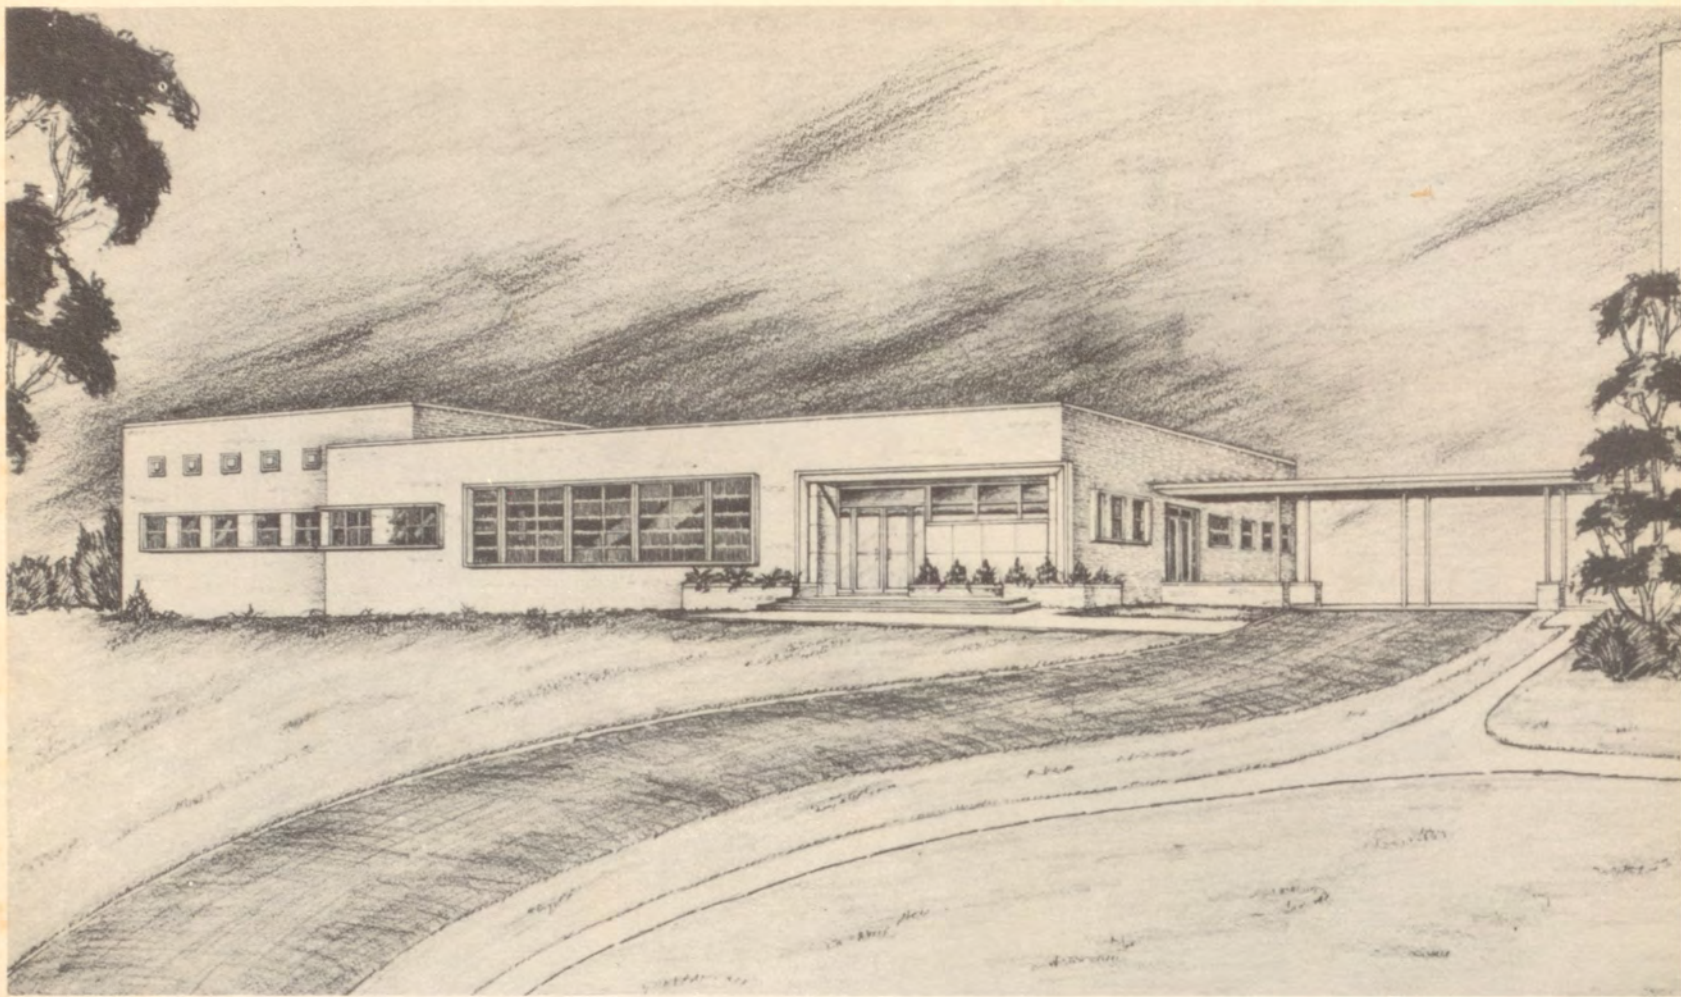

Approaching from the west; one is aware of the sunlight on open windows — a few tenacious leaves on the trees — a serene autumn sky overhead.

Looking west from the second floor windows, there is the terrace—bare now that the tardy bell has rung.

Alas . . . the roads leading up to Wildcat Hill have once again become crowded . . . slow at first, then faster and faster until young spirits soar.

Brave and rugged athletes who have trained long and hard, begin the fight . . . teaming with enthusiasm . . . adhering to loyalty.

Rush and hurry is the motto of the Seniors as they cram their all into these last nine months, while Sophomores are just beginning their climb . . . their sun not yet risen.

North Little Rock's completely unpredictable Wildcats had a tough and upsetting season.

Despite a mediocre season record of 6-6, the Wildcats went through their schedule with all the fight they could muster. Although the poorly underrated Wildcats played their first big-seven conference game against El Dorado, they played one of their best games and beat the oil town Wildcats 18-12.

In the Wildcats' first game of the year, they ran over the Subiaco Trojans 20-0. The Cats had a lucky break in which big, husky Buddy Voegle picked up a blocked punt and ran over for a touchdown.

The Cats held off the Blytheville Chicks, but they were defeated when Franky Beard was caught behind the goal for a safety, 2-0.

On the road the week before, the tired Cats met Camden and the hard-hitting Panthers beat the Wildcats 13-7.

Next the underdog Cats went to El Dorado where they made a sensational come-back to beat the oil men 18-12.

After the Wildcats had that splendid victory, they met the Cyclones to keep the old ball rolling, and beat them 26-0.

Again the Cats went out-of-town to make a marvelous win over the Hot Springs Trojans 40-14 and to ruin their homecoming.

The Golden Hurricanes came thundering down out of the north to defeat the Wildcats 21-13.

Pine Bluff came to our fair city to whip the Cats 20-6 with passes. Billy Hooten and Buzzy Duckworth did a wonderful job on defense.

The Wildcats then went to Van Buren and beat them 62-6. Bill Rainey led the scoring with three touchdowns.

Hard-hitting Tommy Worrell made two touchdowns to keep the Wildcats on top over the Fort Smith Grizzlies, 38-0.

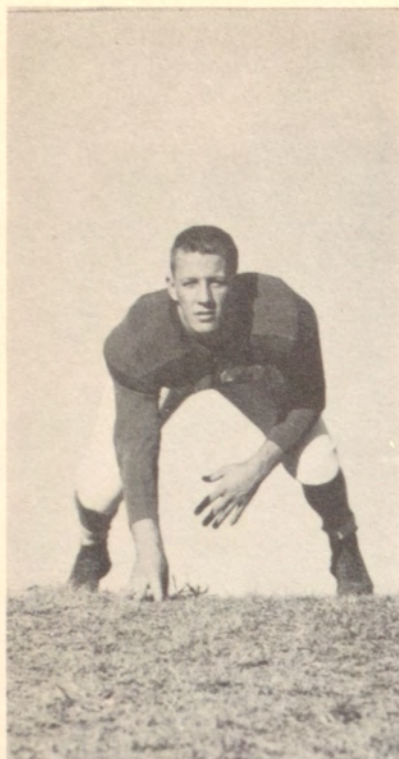

The Wildcats met Texarkana on home ground only to be punished and beaten, but put up a good, and well-spirited fight. The Razorbacks were supposed to be one of the best teams in the state. Buddy Roberts did an excellent job in running but couldn't hold the Hogs. Score, 20-7.

The Cats made their annual journey across the creek Thanksgiving Day to fight the bloody battle with the Central Bengals. The Cats fought hard against the Tigers but couldn't hold them, and lost 20-0.

DR. W. M. BURNS

*"Death's but a path that must be trod
If man would ever pass to God."*

During the holidays we were saddened by the loss of our beloved Dr. William Milton Burns, who for 37 years held the title of the best booster the Wildcats had.

Of him, all North Little Rock High might say;
"He achieved success who has lived well, laughed often, and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it; who has always looked for the best in others; whose life was an inspiration; whose memory, a benediction."

The beauty of the Christmas pageant – the loss of someone we loved.

January 19, the football team was honored at a banquet. May, Mathis, Hooten, Gilbert, Weed, and Duckworth heap their plates.

Then sat down for a feast and jolly good fellowship—or hammed for Wildcat cameraman Johnny Garrison Everywhere there were smiles and happiness. This was a big night.

And the faculty, school board, and other notables enjoyed it no less than the team, the cheerleaders, and the royalty.

Soon after the holidays came the football banquet and the awarding of letters.

Student Council, the governing body of the school, is composed of representatives from each home room, and the four officers elected by the student body.

To promote the general welfare of the students and create better pupil teacher relations are the primary aims of the Student Council.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Eva Fearnside this group suggests modes of school improvement to officials, while sponsoring talent, awards, and special assemblies, color day, and sock hops.

Representatives from our council participate in Southern, State, and District Conventions, and the Big 7 Sportsmanship committee.

Student Council creates an active interest in scholarship, leadership, service, and citizenship; essentials for the successful student council members.

Orman Simmons

Winter was the time of stirring activity for all the organizations—like the Student Council.

The Drill Team forms a W.

To promote loyalty and to support the cheerleaders in increasing the school spirit is the chief purpose of the PepCat organization. Any pupil in school may be a member of this club.

PepCats meet every Tuesday afternoon after school during the football and basketball seasons. Uniforms consist of the royal blue skirt, white blouse, white jacket, and saddles.

Goals of the PepCats include a Drill Team, which performs before each football game and also the making and selling of color streamers. In order to be elected cheerleader, a student must belong to this organization.

Mrs. Vada Cowan is the teacher-sponsor of the PepCats.

PUBLICATIONS

Students edit the Wildcat, the Hi-Comet, and the Flying Saucer. The Wildcat is the annual, a 208-page book picturing the students, faculty, and activities of each school year. Most of the photography is done by the students enrolled in journalism, and they do all the writing, picture mounting, editing, and art work for the book.

The Hi-Comet is the official school newspaper, a six or eight-page bi-weekly containing news and sports, stories, features, editorials, and photographs of school life. It is published by the students enrolled in journalism and sells for five cents per copy.

The Flying Saucer is a mimeographed literary magazine carrying fiction, poetry, features, essays, and humorous bits written by students in the English classes.

Edited by journalism students and produced under the supervision of the Commercial Department, the Saucer sells for fifteen cents per copy, and carries no advertising.

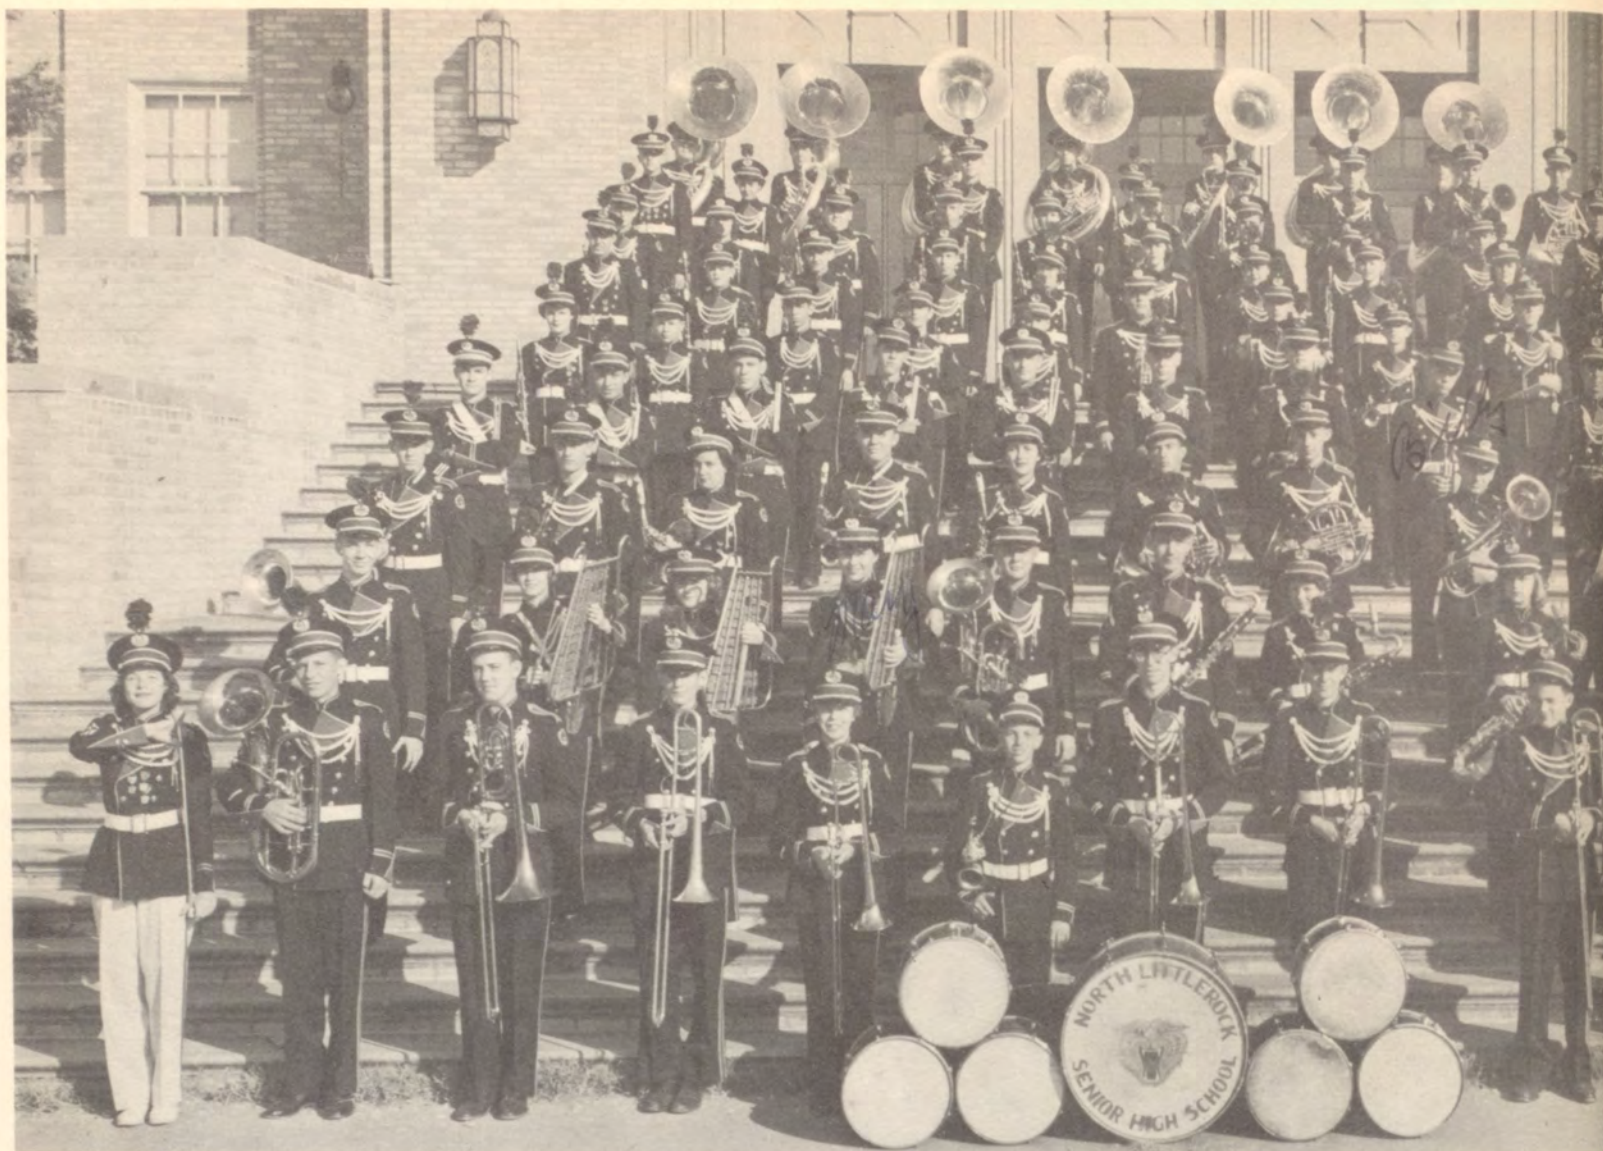

Fifth and Sixth Period Journalists: Row 1: Peggy Kimbrell, Wilma Bradbury, Pat Maddox, Yvonne Weaver, Hazel Curtis, Nancy Green, Carolyn Hand, Ann Moon, Betty Rothermel, Alice England, Carol Trent, Nancy Veazey. The Wildcat band is composed of more than 100 students, under the direction of Mr. J. Raymond Brandon. The band's activities during the year are divided into two seasons; football season in the fall months, in which the band concentrates on marches, marching and maneuvering; and concert season in the winter and spring, which includes the playing of more difficult music, concerts, the spring festival and the all-state band, which is the dream of all serious band musicians.

And the Band toodled and tweedled and executed their inimitable drills.

The Junior Choir is the stepping stone to the Senior Choir. It is the first step toward becoming a real choir. As juniors, students learn the ropes toward becoming the Senior Choir to represent the school.

The Girls' Ensemble is a group which works hard to further enlighten the appreciation of our musical organizations. It is composed of eighteen senior girls who are chosen by the director.

The Boys' Chorus is another group which helps to promote music. This group is made up of sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

HI-Y

The Hi-Y is dedicated to upholding the standards of good conduct and good sportsmanship. It is an organization bringing boys from all grades and ages in high school closer together. The state Hi-Y conventions are held in different cities throughout the state. The purpose of these conventions is to find out how the other Hi-Y Clubs are functioning and all about their activities.

The Hi-Y and Y-Teens, co-ed clubs, sponsor the Chapel Services held every Wednesday morning. They bring preachers from churches of every denomination to speak to the students.

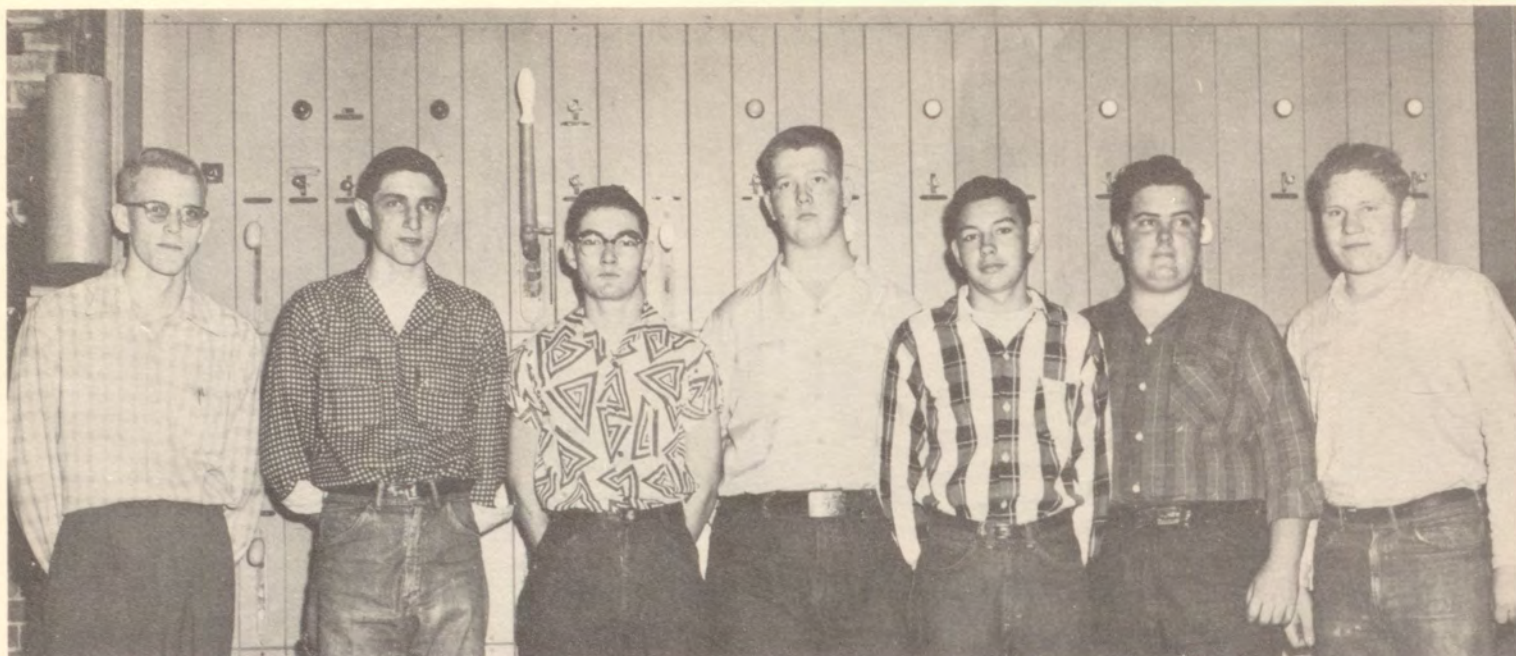

Once yearly, this organization sponsors an assembly in which every member participates.

HI-Y OFFICERS

Bobby Smith, Benny Hope, James Pearson, Jerry Bowers, Bob Pratt.

Hi-Y and Y-Teens offered moral and spiritual guidance

Members of the Stage Crew faithfully take care of all the little backstage chores that make for a good performance—whether it be regular assembly, a group of guests from another school, professional performers, band's concert or the choir's big Musical Varieties show. They are experts with lights, curtains, scenery, properties and sound.

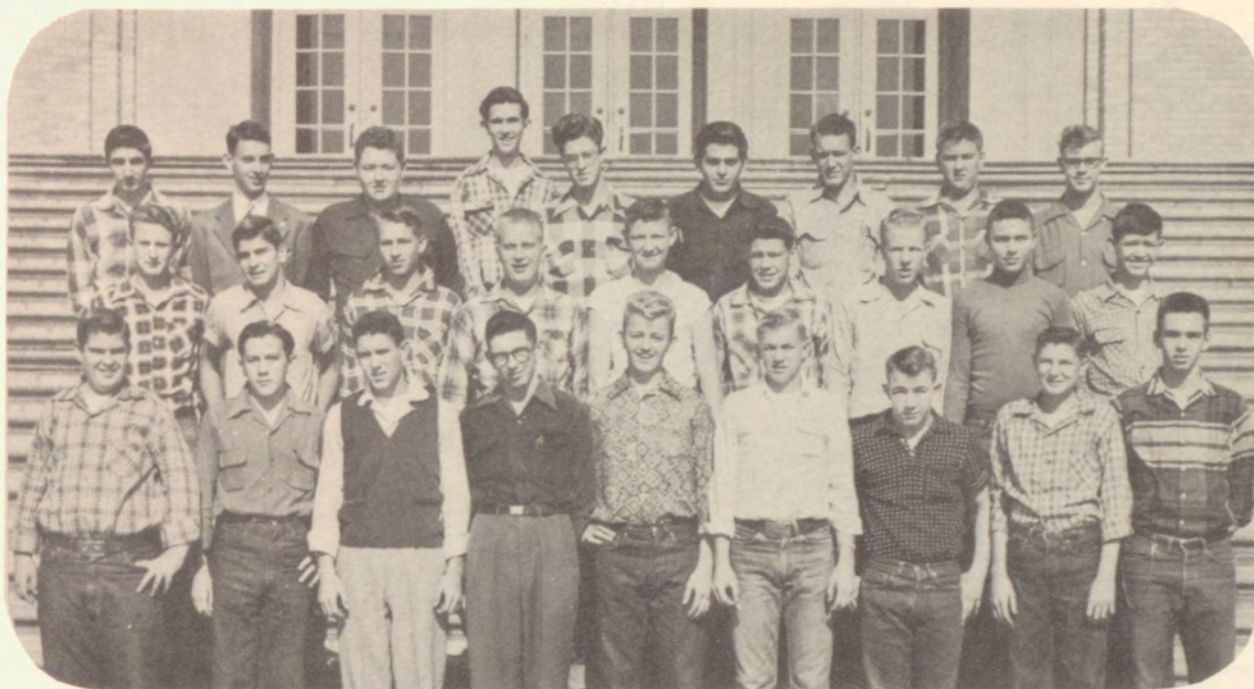

Monitors—First row: Julia Hedgecock, Carolyn Koheler, Myrna Millener, Martha Hedgecock, Shirley Humble, Barbara Derrick, Billie Carmack, Joada Hankins, Patricia Bramlett, Mary Bridenthal, Jo Ann DeWitt, Juanita House, Sally Ann Moon, Paula Dobbs, Barbara Waymire, Virdie Lyons, Betty Smith.

Row 3: Louis Kayser, Mark Andrews, Bryant Foster, Bill Penney, George Latimur, Clarence Mansfield, Billy Newton, Don Briley, Bill Strawn.

The Monitors for the school's extensive audiovisual aids to instruction care for and operate the motion picture, slide film, opaque, and all other projectors and screens, the recorders, and record players, for every classroom.

Keeping affairs running smoothly in the offices of the principal, girls' adviser, guidance director, vocational director, and community relations director, were the faithful monitors who ran a thousand errands, checked a thousand names, typed thousands of words, and answered the demanding telephones.

Students volunteer for these positions, and are approved by the faculty.

While the Monitors and Stage Crew held the school together

FUTURE TEACHERS

The R. B. Brawner Club of the Future Teachers of America received its charter April 17, 1950.

Activities at the regular meeting include talks by teachers and administrators, movies about the teaching profession, panel discussions by members and the practice of parliamentary laws. The second and fourth Thursday mornings of each school month are set aside for the regular Future Teacher's meetings.

The observance of American Education Week is one of the highpoints of the year, concluded with a meeting of the state organization including banquets, study groups, and the election of state officers. There are six delegates elected to go, three of whom may vote.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS

Free education is the right of every young person in America, and so it is with the Future Business Leaders of America, preparing for useful occupations that will make America a better place for everyone.

Every young person has a right to earn a living and be actively interested in the cooperation of business, industry, the home, the school, and by the peoples of our own and other lands.

In believing and doing all this the members have found it easier to reflect credit to themselves, their associates, their school, and their community.

FUTURE TRADESMEN OF ARKANSAS

Future Tradesmen of Arkansas is a club limited to those students regularly enrolled in vocational courses. One of its objectives is the promotion of a better understanding between the school and the community.

The only requirement to be a member is to be a full time vocational student.

Meetings are held monthly where members discuss their business and social events.

The biggest social event of the year is the State Convention which is held April 4, 5, 6, in Little Rock.

As did the Future Homemakers and Future Tradesmen

The purpose of the Junior Red Cross is to perform services for their community and local institutions. This club is a student off-spring of the original American Red Cross.

The members of this club have many activities such as providing games, making ash trays, afghans, and holiday favors for service men, hospitalized veterans, and other patients in local institutions.

They also furnish programs, decorations, and refreshments for the ill and shut-ins.

Membership in this organization is open to any student who is seriously interested in the welfare and happiness of the more unfortunates of his community.

Red Cross Officers: Janette Harris, Martha Mobbs, Carole Faverty, Emogene Nantze.

Theta Science Club

Theta Science Club was organized to fulfill the purpose of helping those who possess scientific ability and interest. To become a member one must obtain a petition from the secretary and have it signed by five students who are already members of the club, and two teachers. To hold membership, completion of a scientific project is necessary.

Attendance and punctuality are stressed by the organization. Those who are absent a certain number of meetings with no excuse are dropped from the roll. Ten cents is collected from every person who is late to a meeting.

A council, consisting of three members from each grade, plans the club meetings and activities. Officers, who are elected by the club members, govern the club.

The science teachers serve as sponsors.

MATH CLUB

Miss Bess Johnston is the sponsor of the Math Club which is composed of members of the solid geometry and trigonometry classes. It is not an honor society but an organization in which all students of higher mathematics are members.

The Math Club was organized to create a greater interest in Math. The club does not meet on any specified days, but only when a meeting is called. Generally, the Math Club meets during class time.

Officers of the Math Club are elected by the members of the club.

While Artists and Math students created things pleasing to the eye.

Where are those brave young athletes of previous months? Starry-eyed, giddy heads are these as they amble along with a sweet young thing.

Then comes the Senior Breakfast, Musical Varieties, Banquets . . . and Seniors are engulfed with activities.

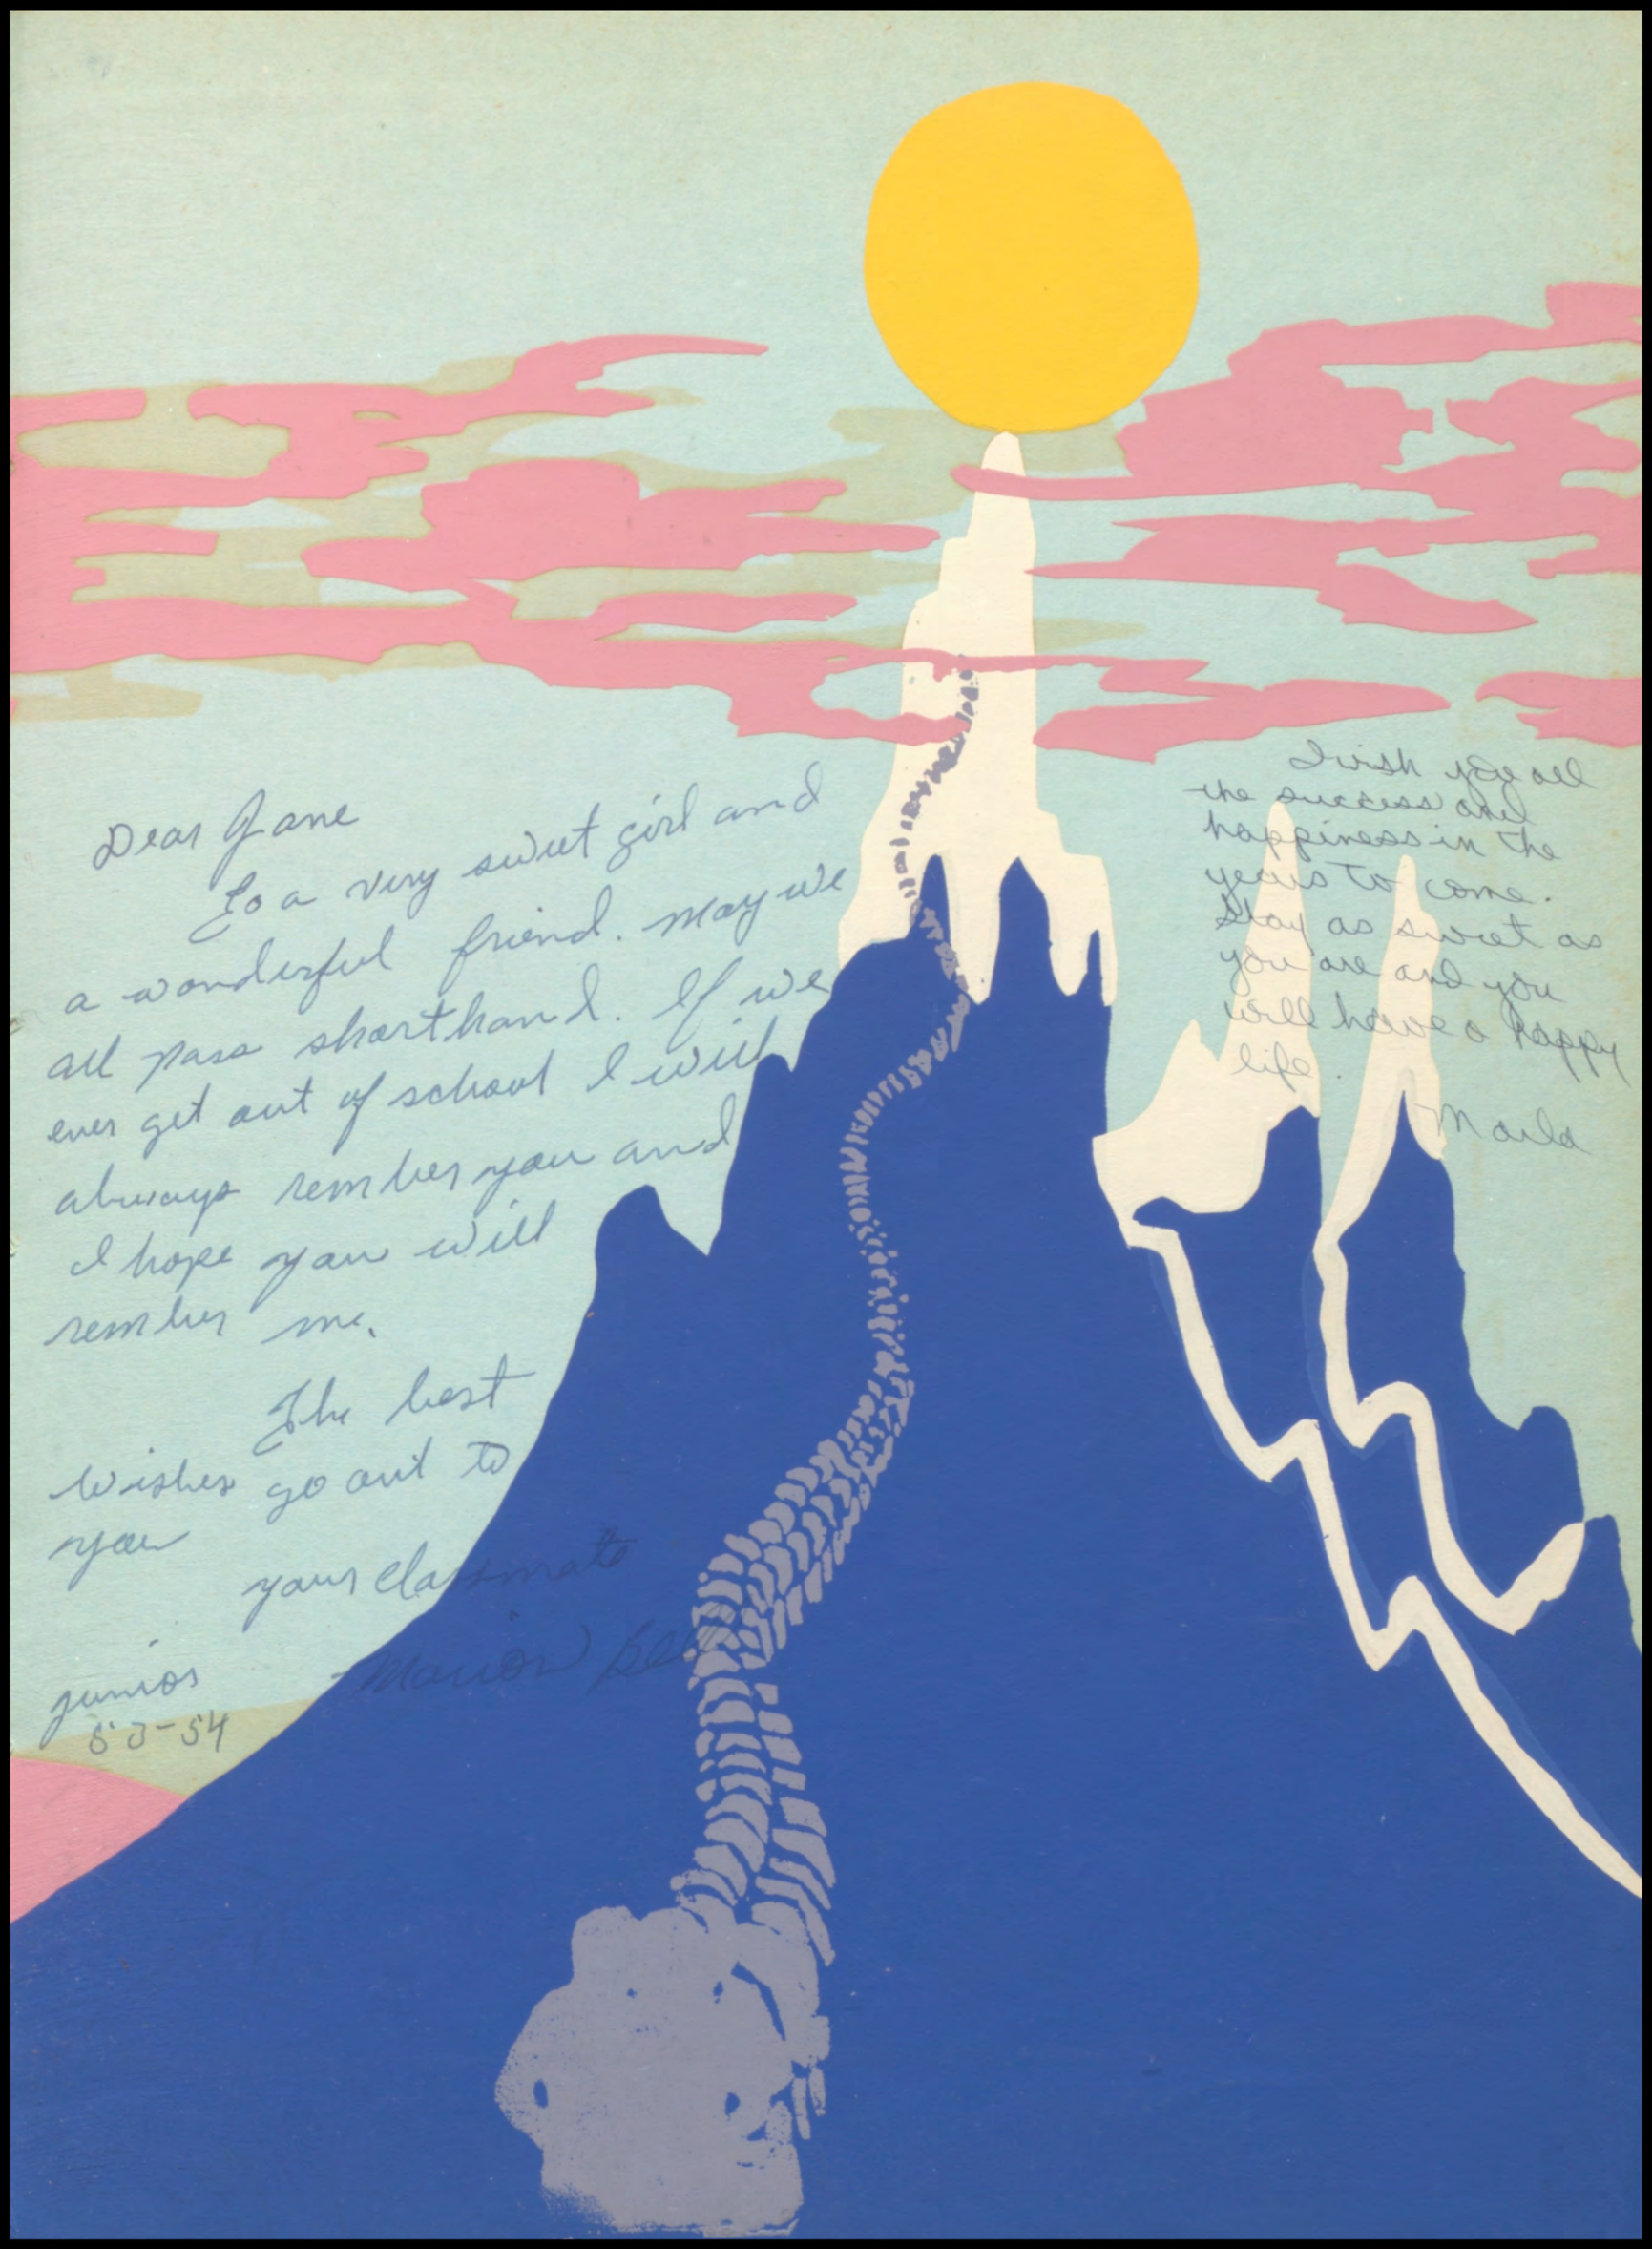

Graduation becomes the topic of conversation as Seniors prepare themselves for departure. They reach the peak of their climb and the sun ascends high in the sky . . . shining down on other fields . . . introducing other battles . . .

"Proud young America
Well on its way,

"These are the darlings of our heart,
These are the Young."

*Dear (name)
I want to wish you the best of luck in your undergraduate someday.
of luck is anything to each other something
We may be a lot of fun

Dear Jane
To a very sweet girl and a wonderful friend. May we all pass shorthand. If we ever get out of school I will always remember you and I hope you will remember me.

The best wishes go out to you your classmate

Senior High's three visitors were Mr. Kerr of Bar-B-Cuisine, Mr. Bailey of Dyke Brothers, and Mr. Koehler of Koehler's Bakery.

They saw Wildcats at work all over—and enjoyed everything from the auto mechanics, to dissecting Oscar in biology, to the making of blueprints in chemistry, to learning the art of sewing in home economics.

Come Spring—there were the usual cases of spring fever—and Business Education Day.

Constancia Diaz, Clarisse Estrada, and Carolyn Hogan. Constancia and Clarisse were visitors from Mexico.

Paula Kendall, Jessica Coleman, Marla Mills, and Carol Trent—gay Senioritas from Senior High.

Carol Trent, Hazel Curtis, Martha Gregg, Carolyn Hand, Betty Rothermel, Jackie Hall, Emogene Nantze, Barbara Parrish, Sue Collins, Wanda Fudge, Nancy Veezey, Billie Sue Ivey, Carolyn Kelly, Shelby Reynolds, Shirley Shaw, Anna McClannahan, Alyce England—an ensemble of Mexican singers.

Nell Rose Tarvin and Bill Greer; Alyce Hughes and Kent McCullough demonstrate the beautiful steps of the tango.

Mary Green and Mary Frances Penix. The Hat Dance starts out like this, and ends like this.

Carolyn Hogan and Mary Green throw cascarones.

Nell Rose Tarvin delights the audience.

—and Diego (Garrison) slept through the whole fiesta.

Spanish Club honors Pan American Day with the gayest of fiestas.

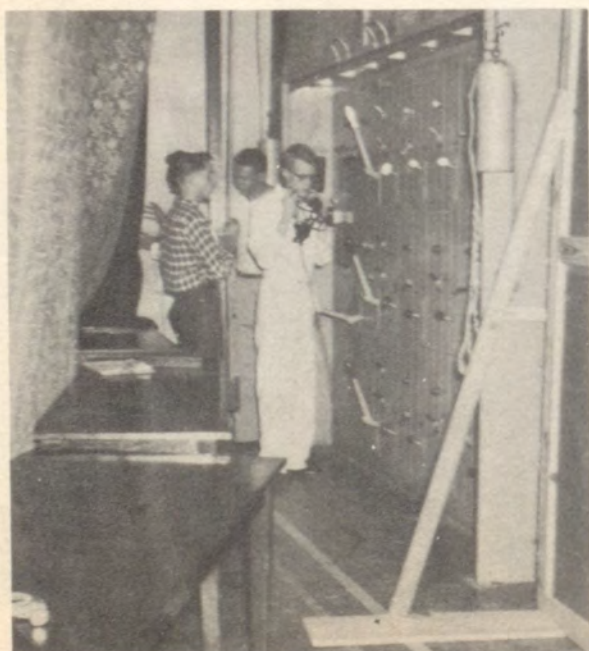

300 voices strong, and in colorful evening dress, the Choir really "gave 'em a good show."

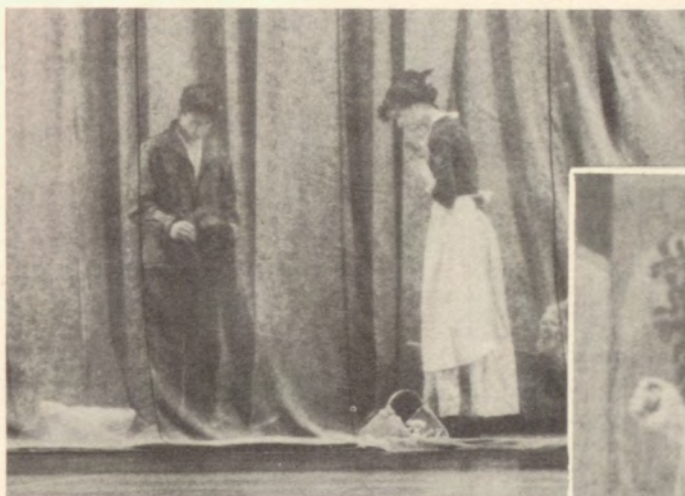

Close up of the center section in official white and blue

Behind scenes the stage crew took care of curtains, lights and sound; and Martha donned her Statue of Liberty make-up.

The Men's Chorus gives out in bright tenor, rich baritone, and thrilling bass.

Living Pictures—annual highlight of the show—photographed through the blue gauze curtain with time exposure. Mike Clark and Mary Jo Roberts in Millet's "The Angelus"; Martha Mobbs poses as the "Statue of Liberty" by Bertholdi; Benny Hope poses Hunt's "Light of the World"; and Nancy Toney, Betty Faulkner, Pat Hubbard, Harriet Oswald, Lillian Miller and Loretta Herscher as "Stars of the Ballet" by Degas.

And the Choir presented its inimitable Musical Varieties.

Miss Bridenthal was kept busy all evening acknowledging applause.

Betty Faulkner added a bright ballet note to "This Nearly Was Mine"; and baritone Shelby Garvin had a beautiful background for "Stranger in Paradise."

Trio members Shelby Reynolds, Jackie Hall and Alice England sang "Make Love to Me."

The popular Senior Quartet did "I Get So Lonely."

*They left me out.

Against a background painted by student artists, the dance ensemble does "Changing Partners."

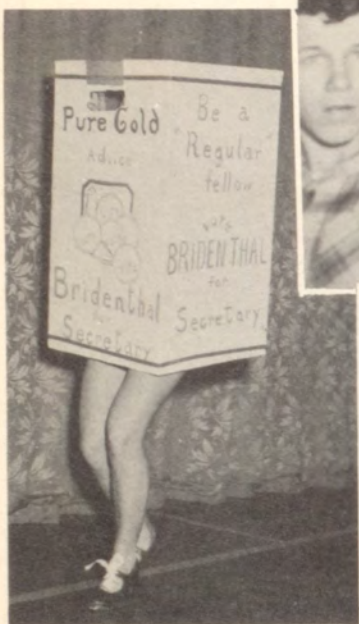

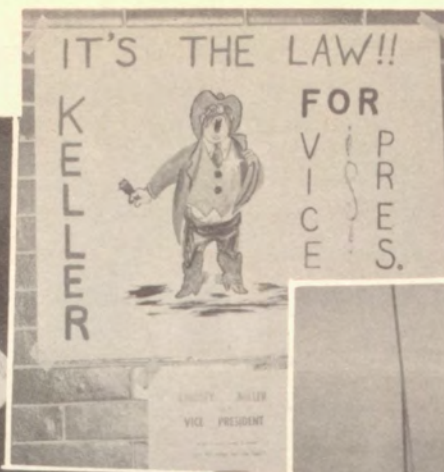

While Anna McClanahan sang "Secret Love," dancers Yvonne Eaker and Johnny Chism perform interpretive steps. Backgrounds by student artists.

And then it was over—Another Musical Varieties was history

With the annual favorites
—the Living Pictures and a Hit Parade.

With a blare, blare, blare the campaign was underway. Halls flaunted signs ballyhooing favorite sons and daughters.

Y'all vote! Loyal supporters presented all kinds of stunts to impress the bal-looters.

The candidates present their cases

Before school and during lunch shifts Wildcats milled about the polls. 925 of the 1122 members voted.

The tally showed Ormon Simmons winner, and opponent Graham Thompson congratulated him.

Then 1200 Wildcats went to the polls to pick their Council officers.

SOCRATES said:

"There is only one good, namely, knowledge; and only one evil, namely ignorance."

PITTACUS admonished:

"Watch your opportunity."

Never before in Arkansas has Opportunity been spelled so bold and big! No longer will the ambitious have to seek Dame Fortune in other places. To you — the CLASS OF 1954 — Opportunity beckons you. Heed her call! Think Big — Prepare Big — Be Big!

Behold! The incomparable glory of a Senior!

The gaiety of the Senior Play — the hurry and scurry of preparation for the Prom and Banquet — the delights of the Picnic and Preview — the solemn message of Baccalaureate — the "trip to the moon" on Class Day — and, finally, the tears and the glory of graduation — even these are past.

Their sun will rise higher — other goals await these proud young Americans — well on their way.

But those unforgettable years, filled with friendship, activities, and achievements, these will forever be treasured in the heart of each young scholar.

Amy accepts date to prom.

What was that awful noise?

Mildred and Charles talk things over.

Mrs. Coates visits the Hughes household.

"Steiny" awaits his date.

Mike tries out his "line".

Mary Rosalie gives Teddy the low down.

Teddy has trouble with his out of town guest.

Jean changes lovers.

Snazzy and Mike have a row!

Mr. Hughes gets slugged by a neighbor.

Snazzy gets bold.

The whole thing is one big headache for Ma.

The table turns on the policeman.

Policeman acquaints Mr. Hughes with Butterfield laws.
