

Parents/Guardians,

I am sending many things home over spring break. These are things that I would like for you to go over with your child as review. Here are a few reminders discussed during conferences...

- Reading and Math tests are examples of state testing format. These are graded and we have gone over them in detail. Please practice similar type questions when working with your child.
- Black History Month Project papers are returned. The grades have been recorded and please go over the written piece. Some students have made errors that can be fixed by proper editing and proof-reading.
- Don't forget to go on Studyisland.com and Reading Plus (clever.com). That is homework for spring break to help prepare for testing. Focus on student weaknesses but any skills can be practiced on those websites.
- We have a new Hugh Bish webpage. Go to lawtonps.org and search for Hugh Bish Elementary School.

Thank you all for attending conferences this week. I am proud to say that I had 100% attendance. The conversations that took place are appreciated and will benefit your child.

Enjoy spring break and love on your child. I look forward to seeing them on Monday, March 20.

Mrs. Krusinsky
