Senior Class Report

The Senior Class began its last year at H.H.S. with Mrs. Stevenson as class adviser. The class officers were elected as: Wendall Leonard, President; Sandra Andrews, Vice-President; Janet Goodspeed, Secretary; Marilyn Kitchen, Treasurer. Laughton Jewett and Rita Robinson were Student Council members.

The chief objective of the class was to raise money for a class trip. The parents joined with us to help add to our treasury by sponsoring a Sunday Dinner. The class sold candy, ice cream, Italian sandwiches, held record hops, had suppers, a Hunters' Breakfast and held a Christmas Ball. The boys also hauled sawdust on weekends.

A school project the class participated in was the annual Magazine Drive. Rita Robinson served as General Chairman and Clarice Appleby as assistant. Wendall Leonard was captain of the Senior Class.

Gary Boulier represented the school in the League Spelling Contest and Sandra Andrews was the D.A.R. Candidate.

Rita Robinson and Clarice Appleby were secretaries to the principal for the year. Other Senior girls in the commercial department also helped throughout the year.

Members of the class in the National Honor Society were Gary Boulier, President; Janet Goodspeed, Vice-President; and Rita Griffin, Secretary-Treasurer.

The members of the class participating in Boys' basketball were: Laughton Jewett, Alan Dorr, Wendall Leonard, Glenn Duplisea, and Robert Burgess. Those on the girls' team were: Sandy Andrews, Carolyn Hansen, Janet Goodspeed, Rita Robinson and Judy McGinley. Carolyn Hansen won the foul shooting contest held among the girls on the team. Boys playing fall and spring baseball were: Laughton Jewett, Wendall Leonard, Alan Dorr, Glenn Duplisea, and Robert Burgess. The girls on the varsity Cheering Squad were Marilyn Kitchen, Captain; Clarice Appleby and Rita Griffin.

Janet Goodspeed was the Editor of the Microphone; Gary Boulier, Business Manager; Sandy Andrews, Literary Editor; Glenn Duplisea, Boys' Sports Editor; Rita Robinson, Girls' Sports Editor; Laughton Jewett, Joke Editor; and Typists: Clarice Appleby, Gladys Butler, Diana Fowler, and Marilyn Kitchen. Clarice Appleby also drew the pictures used for the cover, division pages, and others in the book. We appreciate her help very much.

The year being completed we wish to thank everyone who has helped to make it a success. Although we will be glad to leave, we will also be wishing that we could come back again next fall.

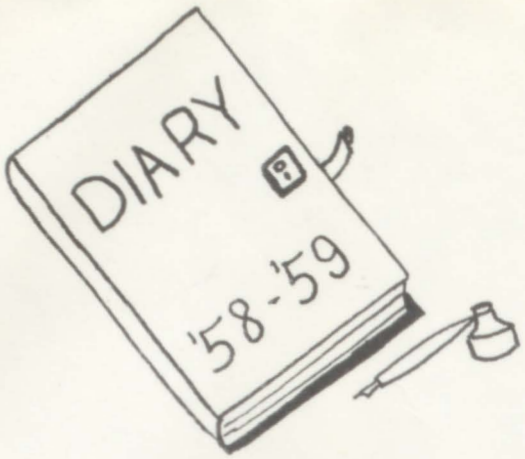
HHS
ACTIVITIES



September

School days finally caught up with us again and everyone left the warm carefree days of summer to return to work. H.H.S. was a quiet place for a while with new teachers and all, but we soon got back into the groove.

It was a busy month beginning with the annual magazine drive. The Seniors highlighted it with the first record hop of the year.

We had a reason to be proud of our baseball team with all their wins to start the fall season off right. They lost a few members from last spring also.

October

Why are all the girls so busy lately? Not tryouts for cheering already? The seven chosen went right to work to earn money for their new uniforms. I guess everyone enjoyed their supper. At least mom didn't have to do dishes last night.

The F.H.A.-ers had their annual UNICEF drive on Halloween by trick or treating for pennies. I heard they did very well too. The Sophomore class concluded the evening with a record hop. Did you try the hula hoop? I heard the photographer got some pretty good pictures.

November

The Freshman class held everyone's suspense before their record hop. Who did the mystery D.J. prove to be? I understood it was a Senior boy.

Basketball season officially started with the Round Robin at Hampden. Did you notice any players missing from last year's teams? Maybe we'll have a chance!

The F.H.A. girls attended the District Convention in Brewer getting a few ideas for their club, while the Safety Council held theirs in Augusta.

Did you enjoy your Thanksgiving Dinner?

December

The month got under way with the Basketball schedule in full swing. Many set out on a long trip to Stonington before vacation. Did I hear someone say that they were scared of bridges? Well it's over now.

The Senior pictures are here and with Christmas just around the corner they can save a little on the budget. After all it's only the thought, not the gift, that counts.

Gee! How come everyone looks so happy? Could it be vacation or the Seniors' Christmas Prom?

January

The Seniors seem to have a little extra energy lately. It must be that graduation is getting closer. The year they've been waiting for is finally here—1959. Well they had better come back to earth first because mid-years are here.

We got the basketball season started again, so we didn't beat Newport! There are still six more games to go. Did you see that thriller last night? The varsity beat East Corinth in an overtime!

What's everyone all dressed up for? Not the yearbook pictures already! I hope they all wore their Ipana smiles.

February

Now just four games left! Seems as though the season just got started! Did you see the alumni games? I guess the mothers gave the girls quite a run for their lives, as well as a good show for the large audience.

What? We made the playoffs? I knew we could beat Oakland! Now to Madison! Well I really didn't think that we could beat Newport but the boys did give them a good game. What happened in Skowhegan on the way home? It couldn't be that the bus broke down could it?

With basketball season over for this year the Seniors are really getting busy to earn money for their class trip. They made a good dent in their goal, too! How did they ever get all those boys to work?

I guess most everyone spent their vacation at the tourneys. How about you?

March

What are all the Juniors studying for? It must be time for Junior Prize Speaking again. Were you scared? Well, the Seniors know how to sympathize with you.

"Come to the Freshman Hop" was the slogan for the Freshman record hop. It turned out to be quite a success too! Ralph Tozier and Sharon Reardon were chosen as king and queen of the class.

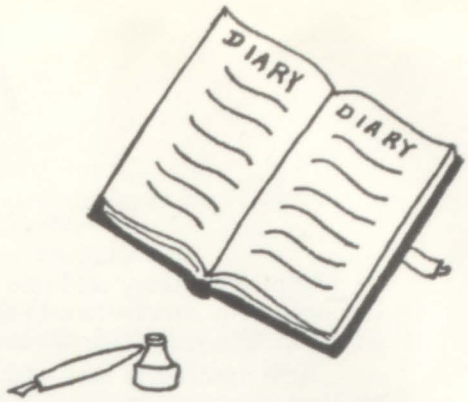
Not tests again? Well don't let it worry you, there are only two more to go. That means only two more months to go this year. Is that why all the Seniors look so happy?

Did someone say today was the first day of spring? But the ground is still covered with snow! At least that makes baseball season a little nearer.

April

April is here at last and the Seniors are planning for a trip during vacation. Where will it be, Seniors? Paris? Well, maybe not that far, but I hope you have fun wherever you go.

What is that smell? Is it coming from the Lab or could it be the moth balls that the baseball suits were stored in? Guess it is time to get warmed up for the big season ahead. I understand the team is out to win the trophy. Is that true boys?



May

Doesn't everyone look nice in his spring outfit? The winter seemed longer than it really was. The F.H.A. girls are busy planning for their annual spring fashion show. I wonder what the new fashions will be like this year?

What happened to all the Senior commercial students? Not out working already? They have a chance to show off their skills now.

Are you ready for final exams? The teachers really tried to scare us didn't they? I knew they'd be easier than they said they would.

June

The big month is finally here! In a few days the Seniors will be free from this place forever! I'll bet they will miss it when next fall comes. They will wish they were Freshmen again, starting all over.

Did you pass your finals? I passed mine with flying colors and am glad it's over.

The night is finally here! And then we go out to face the world alone! But no matter where we go or what we do we'll always remember the good times we had at Hermon High!

The Discovery of the Orange

Captain Ashley and one of his deck hands, Thomas Taylor, who were the only two survivors of the ship; wrecked off the coast of what is now Florida. They drifted to shore on part of the ship's wreckage.

Anticipating a long stay on the desolate land, they began to build a shelter and to gather food. What little they could find didn't last very long.

On one of their searches for food, they came across some large trees, with strange orange fruits growing on them. After inspecting the fruit more thoroughly, Captain Ashley picked one and fingered it a bit. He squeezed it and a juice ran out onto his hand which the Captain cautiously tasted. He couldn't decide whether he liked the taste or not; so he tasted it again and much to his delight, found he liked it.

The men drank only the juice of the fruit, until they could no longer satisfy their thirst with it. One day, while Mr. Taylor was out gathering more fruit, which because of its color, they called oranges, he decided to eat a whole one. He bit into one, peel and all, and found that although the outside was bitter, the inside tasted very delicious.

The explorers were rescued soon after this discovery, but they had a big supply of oranges left, which they took back to their homeland and introduced to the people there.

Since then, the orange has become popular all over the world.

"A TINY BIT OF HUMOR" (AND "A TINY BIT OF FOOLISHNESS")

There was a young cat from Mars,
Who played "rock and roll" with jars.
Said his Ma "Cut the noise!
Go play with your toys,
Or you'll soon be seeing stars!"

I once knew a sweet girl named Sherry,
Whose nose looked like a strawberry.
She said to her Dad,
"Now don't you be sad,
Or I'll go and commit Hari Kari!"

I once knew a Comrade from Russia,
Who wanted to be a movie usher.
Said the Manager, "No soap,
You old Communist dope!
We hire only ushers from Prussia!"

There was a young girl named Sandra,
Who fell in love with a big panda.
They married last June,
And her parents would swoon,
When they held hands on the veranda.

Alone

When I'm very much alone, with not a thing to do;
I sometimes think of the heavens, with their beckoning skies of blue.
And how it would be to journey on a trip upward so far,
To see the planets and the universe and every shining star.

Other times when I'm all alone, my mind will go astray,
And I'll picture all the wonderful things which take place in nature's way.
The rise and setting of the sun, the change from day to night,
All seem to me a wondrous thing, and a truly marvelous sight.

Then, sometimes, when I'm left alone, I dream of far away.
Of places where I've never been, but hope to go some day.
Of distant lands and mighty seas, and different people, too.
I think it's fun to stay alone. Why doesn't it appeal to you?

Premeditated Murder

The stillness of the night was broken by the sudden sound of gun shots, then all was quiet again except for the sound of running footsteps on the sidewalk. There was a long shadow figure moving along the big factory building, and down the alley towards the pier. The footsteps ceased, then came a splash and they proceeded down the next alley.

At the shrill sound of a siren, the police came down the street in the direction of the alley and suddenly halted. The car door was flung open, and a man jumped out yelling, "Down this alley, I saw him go this way." Bright flashlights came on and down the alley darted the policemen.

The sound of sobs could be heard coming from behind a pile of trash cans. A boy was standing there, a big boy for his age. "I killed her, I had to, and I threw her body in the river." "I didn't want to do it, I didn't want to hurt her, but I had to, I couldn't see her suffer any longer, I couldn't get enough for her to eat."

They dashed to the river and started to hunt for the body. Someone pulled out a bag. What did they have? What was in the bag? Was it the gun? No, it wasn't hard. Was it a baby? They ripped open the bag and there it was . . . A little kitten!

Country Life

Farming isn't what it's cracked up to be,
If you read this, what I mean you'll see.

It isn't romantic, like "making things grow."
A lot of dirt and sweat goes with the things you saw,

Plowing and harrowing and planting seeds,
Sweating, swearing, and pulling weeds,

Trapping coons and shooting crows,
If you think that is fun, ask one who knows.

Pitching hay from dawn to dusk,
A rotten job, but it's a must.

Fighting black flies, winds, and rain,
Until you wonder what you gain.

Then in the winter you do what you should—
Head for the timber and start cutting wood.

The roar of a chainsaw, pounding in your head,
Swinging an ax till you think you're half dead.

Life on a farm has good points too,
It's only fair that I tell you.

City life is a hubbub, the country life serene,
A country home should be anyone's dream.

There are rolling fields and cool green woods,
No question about it, the country life's good.

The country is quiet, no shriek or roar,
For every advantage the city has, the country has four.

I know there will be arguments on what you have heard,
But I still say city life is for the birds.

Josephine: "Oh, a diary?"
Wendall: "No, stubs in a check book."

Sandy: "Are you kind to animals?"
Carolyn: "Why are you looking for a favor?"

Mr. Lord: "You missed my class yesterday, didn't you?"
Alan: "No, sir, not a bit."

Mr. McDonald: "Where was the Declaration of Independence signed?"
Harry: "At the bottom I guess."

Key Hole Spy

Hi friends! 1959 is here and time again for a nice, juicy inside story on H.H.S. I'll bet no one can guess who that rising young "Party" leader is in the Junior Class, with the "Ipana" smile and the upset nervous system. Do you suppose it's S.S.? Seems to me there are two Senior boys namely G. D. and A. D., who are always finding fault. Could it be that they are jealous? How come a certain Sophomore girl seems to be having trouble with her attendance this year? Can you tell us, N. S.? Hey Man! Who could that real, nervous cat be in the Senior Class? Seems as though we've noticed a certain G. W. snapping his fingers a lot lately. Why did four Sophomore girls get stranded on Main Street with L. J.'s car? Was it because J. J. couldn't drive Standard shift or just couldn't drive? By the way, what two Sophomore girls aren't getting along so well? You know all's fair in love and war, S. L. and S. M. I guess K. H. broke the record for sleeping in Eighth Grade History! What's this I hear about A. D. winning a popularity contest in the Junior room? I thought he was a Senior. Maybe we should ask the Junior Girls about that one! Have you ever wondered how an "Off" and "On" romance works? I've heard of a couple authorities on the subject. Just as V. B. and G. H. I heard the other day that a certain Seventh grader B. C. had quite a time getting her kerchief at noon. I wonder who tied it to the lights, W. H.? Hey, who's been digging graves in Levant lately? Huh, P. W.? While we're on the subject of Levant, who was secretly wearing P. R.'s ring? Perhaps it was N. S. Who are the two Senior girls who have so many nicknames like . . . "Bugs," "Lulu," "Boo Boo," "Shrimp" and "Pantry"? Can anyone tell us why S. A. is called "Speedy"? I wonder if it has anything to do with one of Mrs. Myers' classes. I wonder what would happen if a certain sophomore's wavy locks should run into a pair of scissors. There'd probably be a third World War! How about it, V. B.? Top Secret! How did J. J. celebrate her sixteenth birthday? If you want to know, just ask her! What certain Sophomore gets his French done for free? Ask R. F. He has a ready answer! Mrs. Stevenson seems to think M. K. is the noisiest girl in the Senior Class. Maybe that's why she sits right in front of the teacher's desk! Who's the Big Daddy in the Sophomore class? Could it be J. F.? Have you seen the admiration that handsome Junior boy with the blond crewcut has been receiving since he put on his gorgeous red shirt? How about it, B. C.? The Seniors thought they had a new recruit one day when they went to English Class. It seems that a certain Sophomore boy, K. K., had fallen into a deep coma in World History and didn't come out of it until Senior English was half over. Does anyone have any idea why J. R. was calling M. K. and D. F. "teacher" during Basketball season? Could it have anything to do with being experienced? Who do you suppose was the first diamond catcher in the Senior Class this year? How about it N. P.? What do you do with a teacher who likes Peter Gunn so well that she can't get him off her mind! Not even in English Class! Huh, A. M. R.? Who's the angel in the Senior Class, with a broken halo. Is it you, C. H.? I wonder who the Senior boy was who lost his teeth at the Howland basketball game. Could it be L. J.? Why did P. D. and D. F. go to the Plymouth dance one night? Could it have anything to do with tires? Did anyone hear anything about Mr. Mc finding a kerchief in his coat pocket? Or was it really his coat pocket? I think you'll find out that it was Mrs. M's coat. I wonder why it is lately that every time you walk into the girls' basement there's a family feud going. I guess we could find out if we asked some of the Sophomore girls, they always seem to be involved. What's the name of the blonde bombshell in the Junior Class, who has all the Hampden boys aglow? Maybe it's S. C. Who was it that carried on an experiment with citric acids (using an orange) in Physics Class one day right after lunch? Was it really for the sake of Science or because the lunch hour wasn't quite long enough, W. L.?

Dirigo State

Dirigo Girls and Boys State is an organization that provides governmental instruction, sports activities, and the opportunity to meet many fellow high school juniors from the state. It is held at Colby College for the girls and the University of Maine for the boys. Instruction courses started after arrival Sunday evening and each day thereafter courses were distributed throughout the day with time allowed for athletics, band, etc. Instruction courses consisted of lectures on town government, county government, state government, and Maine courts. We held actual town meetings, legislative sessions, and a mock trial. To be chosen as a citizen of Dirigo State is an honor and a great opportunity for any student.

Varsity Basketball

The Hawks, under their new coach, Clyde McDonald had a good 1958-1959 season. They played a total of twenty games, winning seven and losing thirteen. The high scorers and their total points were Laughton Jewett with 229 and Alan Dorr with 221.

During the season they played one overtime game with East Corinth. Hermon won, 49 to 48 when Alan Dorr scored the winning basket.

In a playoff game with Oakland at Hampden, the Hawks came through by winning, 73 to 64. Two days later they went to Madison where they met Newport in the Regional Playoffs. Newport, who had beaten them twice during the regular season beat them again, 68 to 50.

The team will lose Wendall Leonard, Laughton Jewett, Alan Dorr, Glenn Duplisea and Robert Burgess while the guards returning next year are Herbert Jordan and Barry Carle and forwards are Melvin Duplisea and George Cousins.

Herbert Jordan represented Hermon in the foul shooting contest at the University of Maine where he scored 43 out of 50 baskets.

Girls' Basketball

The girls' basketball season was quite successful this year, except a forfeited game with Hartland. There were fifteen girls who received suits and practiced faithfully for the season, six of whom were Seniors.

The coaching was done this year by Mr. Lundquist, our new principal, who gained our respect and confidence immediately. This type of extra-curricular activity is certainly appreciated by the student body.

Have what it takes to build up our community: ambition and initiative—priceless qualities, which we value highly at our bank. Many of our substantial accounts have grown from modest beginnings. Our hats off to the young people and our latch string is always out to them.
