Access to Recreation programs are specifically for people with disabilities. Staff ratio is 1:4. Clients who need one-on-one assistance may bring their own caregiver, or register for Inclusion Services. Registration for all activities is required a minimum of five business days before the event in order to ensure adequate staffing. For some classes registration is required six business days due to C-Van scheduling. If this is your first time and wish to be on the event ride please notify our office 6 days in advance at 360-487-7058. You are required to call and check ride times prior to class. Complete an Inclusion Intake/Assessment form in person or at cityofvancouver.us/inclusion.

To use DDD family support/respice money to pay for classes, notify your caseworker of the classes you want. Provide them with the barcode #, class name and fee. They will send us your registration. If you are unable to attend a class, you must notify your caseworker at 360-418-6108 and our office at 360-487-7058.

For special modifications, contact Inclusion Services at 360-487-7057. See page 39 for more information.

Leisure counseling is available to assist in planning recreation activities. To schedule an appointment call Debbie Gibbs at 360-487-7058 or Teresa Williamson at 360-487-7060.

Please schedule arrivals and pick-ups no earlier than 30 minutes before or after the activity. If attendee is dropped off too early or not picked up, we are required to report to child/adult protective services.
