Foreword

What education did you gain this year? Life is a continual learning process. Even though the seniors are leaving, their education goes on. Some will go on to school, but all learn by experience.

Another part of learning is in the social world. Will you remember the 1964-65 school year with its parties, dances, games, and wrestling matches? How about the nights you spent studying when you would rather have been doing something else, or the nights you did the something else?

As you look back on this year, we sincerely hope that whatever your memories may be, you will have had a profitable 1964-65 school year.

Student Council Works For School And Students

The Student Council for 1964-65 has endeavored to establish and maintain a good student-faculty, faculty-student relationship and also to better the school and students' attitude through projects.

The Football Homecoming was centered around bringing the alumni to a closer relation with our new school. The Student-of-tention of the student body students who excell in citizenship. The Month of Democracy, featuring a school election in the form of an actual national election, brought the students closer to the workings of our government.

This year's Student Council will pass on to the Student Council of 1965-66 a spirit of government, leadership, and harmony among the-Month was a project to bring to the at- students, faculty, and administration.
