Seaboard Foods recognizes strong communities begin with strong leadership and exposure to educational opportunities is essential for building those skills.

Feedback

Seaboard Foods is committed to encouraging students' educational goals in the communities in which we do business and where our employees live. We recognize that vibrant communities begin with strong leadership and exposure to educational opportunities is essential for developing those skills.

Community Scholarship Program

Seaboard Foods is continuing its community scholarship program this year by offering scholarships to students who live in communities where Seaboard Foods has business operations and where our employees live. Seaboard Foods will offer 40 $1,000 scholarships to students who graduate with a high school diploma or equivalent who attend full-time higher education (four-year, two-year or technical education) for the 2019-2020 academic year.
