Parent Tips of the Week - Love

As we all know Valentines Day was last week! It is a special day to show those we love a little extra! I want to encourage you to let your student know every day that you love them. Love comes in many forms, a smile, a pat on the back, a hug, etc. However, there is nothing greater than someone hearing the words "I love you"!

Take a moment each day to tell your student I love you and teach them the importance of showing and telling others they are loved!
