

Marysville School District Student Recognition Breakfast February 25, 2020

The Marysville School District held its second district-wide student recognition breakfast to honor students who have received awards through community organizations including Kiwanis Club, and Marysville Soroptimist, and the District's Indian Education Department.

"It is such a beautiful thing to witness our staff and families coming together to celebrate the wonderful successes of our students in such a meaningful way," said Jason Thompson, Superintendent.

Soroptimist and Kiwanis students of the month include:

Legacy High School

Trinity Baron-Soss
& Xanth Moen

Marysville Getchell High School

Elise Sumsion
& Ian Crosby

Marysville Pilchuck High School

Alexis Bennett
& T.J. Severn

Indian Education students of the quarter include:

Quil Ceda Tulalip

Brutal Madrigal and Maleia Kicking Woman

Marysville Middle School

Dominik Kendrick

Marysville Pilchuck High School

Melissa Carpenter-Hammons

The breakfast was made possible through the collaborative efforts of the District's Child Nutrition Services Department, Transportation, Board of Directors, Superintendent's office, and most importantly, the students and their families.

The Marysville School District is proud of each of our students and congratulates those who have received awards and recognition for their accomplishments. "We would like to thank our families and service organizations for their partnership," said Superintendent Thompson.
