

If current events force your academic institution to quickly adapt to online learning, here are some ways that STS Education can assist your school system:

- Provide a “home teaching” bundle for your faculty who likely have only their laptop. We can directly ship to your teachers one or two monitors, a compatible docking station, keyboard and mouse, audio headset, 1080p webcam and an optional USB document camera to make them more productive
- Provide low-cost and certified pre-owned laptops and Chromebooks to ensure home access for all your students
- Supplement your current technical staff to provide online hardware technical support if students or teachers are experiencing any technical difficulties. If physical repairs are needed, we can ship packaging to the student or teacher, arrange for loaner equipment, and quickly repair their computer.

In addition, please visit <https://www.linkedin.com/company/school-tech-supply/> to access a short 3:30 video with tips from our Chief Academic Officer, along with the attached 1-page resource guide, highlighting free authoring, content and virtual learning tools your school system may not currently be using. Please contact STS Education at 866-499-2580 and speak with our specialists to answer your questions and help in any way possible.