A Letter from the Superintendent

Dear Lyndonville Community,

June was a busy month for our campus with numerous events and incredible celebrations, from our pre-school graduations and Kindergarten and sixth grade moving-up ceremonies to the commencement ceremony for our Class of 2022. We are so proud of the many accomplishments of our students. While we will miss our graduates, we know they are a gifted group of individuals and will continue to make us proud. I can't wait to see how every one of them impacts the world in a positive way.

Congratulations to our retirees: Joe DiPassio (Business Administrator); Lori Lamay (District Clerk and Assistant to the Superintendent); Margaret Dix (bus driver); Joanne Suhr; Laurel Pitzrick; Lisa Lewis; Amy Beutel and Jim O'Connor (teachers). We will miss your wisdom and witnessing the daily impact you have in the life of a child.

Congratulations to teachers Kimberly Dumond and Elaine Thompson on earning tenure. We also had three gifted teachers receive the Educator of the Year Award: Jenna Goheen, Katherine Strusienksi, and Joanne Suhr. Each received a Board of Education grant for an individually chosen educational enriching activity.

This summer is off to a busy start with elementary students participating in our Math & Reading Camp and Summer Recreation. Seventh through ninth-grade students are working with Mr. Qamoos in Tech Camp. In addition, teachers are preparing for the 2022-23 school year with professional development and curriculum meetings. Our counseling team is working together to support our students academically and to create programing for social/emotional learning.

Under the direction of Steve Grabowski, our Buildings and Grounds staff is working hard with student cleaners to improve and maintain our campus. Deep cleaning is occurring throughout our schools, repairs are being made to the kitchen in the Main Street school building, and painting is being done to the gymnasium and in multiple classrooms.

Please join me in welcoming Bart Schuler as our new Business Administrator and Aimee Chaffee, a Lyndonville alumna, as our Director of Special Education, Data and Grants. Tanya Marek has moved from the Business Office to the Office of the Superintendent, as the Assistant to the Superintendent and District Clerk for the Board of Education.

I am honored to begin my first full school year as the Superintendent of Lyndonville Schools. I look forward to a safe and healthy year filled with student achievement and growth, kindness and a bit of fun too. Please contact me and/or one of our administrators with any concerns or questions. Our direct contact information can be found within our 2022-23 District Calendar & Information Guide and on our website. Your continued partnership is invaluable to us as we work together to provide your child the best possible school year.

Sincerely,

Sharon Smith

Educators of the Year

Each year Lyndonville CSD selects an "Educator of the Year" who is exceptionally dedicated, knowledgeable and has been an inspiration to others within the school community. Each of the award winners received a commemorative plaque and a $1,000 grant to further educational efforts in their classroom or department. We would like to congratulate Jenna Goheen, Katherine Strusienski and Joanne Suhr for being named our 2022 Educators of the Year.

Jenna Goheen is an elementary teacher who loved teaching first grade but has enjoyed the transition to second grade this year. She stated she likes Lyndonville's close-knit community and has found building relationships with the District's families rewarding. Ms. Goheen intends to use her grant to promote reading by purchasing a new book each month (September-June) for each student in her room. It is her goal to build her students' personal libraries to encourage reading for fun when they are home.

Katherine Strusienski is a K-6 reading teacher for Lyndonville. She stated that teachers must build a strong rapport with their students. By getting to know them and learning who they are, both in and outside of school, she is able to find what works for them. She truly loves to see that light-bulb moment when a student grasps a new concept or skill and will celebrate accomplishments no matter the size. Mrs. Strusienski intends to purchase a book vending machine to help foster a love for learning and strengthen reading/decoding skills. Students will be able to select from a myriad of books within the vending machine to find the perfect story for them.

Joanne Suhr stated that she was honored to be considered as a teacher who inspires. During her 30 years, she has taught fifth, fourth and third grades. "Lyndonville has my heart, and I am blessed by this close-knit community," said Suhr. She attributed students' success to the amount of attention and personalized assistance they receive. Although Mrs. Suhr is retiring, she is exploring a service-learning project for the science and social studies departments.

Congratulations to each of our award winners. Thank you for your hard work and commitment!

Awards of Tenure

Two LCSD teachers, Kimberly Dumond and Elaine Thompson, received tenure during the June 13, 2022, Board of Education meeting.

Mrs. Dumond works within Special Education and focuses on helping students develop and enhance their life skills. She was described as tireless in her support of children's success.

Mrs. Thompson's classroom was described as calm and peaceful with students who love school and work hard. Mrs. Thompson teaches elementary education and is known for her "feisty" literacy and math skills.

Congratulations to you both!

District Retirees

Please join us in congratulating Amy Beutel, Joe DiPassio, Margaret Dix, Lori Lamay, Lisa Lewis, James O'Connor, Laurel Pitzrick and Joanne Suhr on their retirement. Thank you for your many years of service to the Lyndonville School District and for your dedication to our students. We will miss you.
