Greg Clark, Superintendent

Dear Parents,

First let me say how sorry we are that the Covid 19 pandemic has caused such a disruption on your child's education. Our goal, for our students in the Central Plains School District is to provide as much normalcy as possible during these trying times.

As we move forward, your child's education will look much different. Rest assured that we are here to help and provide any and all help as you, the parent, take an even bigger role in your child's education. Our quality teaching staff are busy this week making plans to educate your children and continue to meet their needs. The delivery of information will be different, depending on the age of your children. We plan to utilize technology and send out lessons that will help your child continue to progress that is required. Our goal is to start this new instruction model on Monday March 30th. Your child's teacher will be in touch with you this week.

One important factor during these unrepresented times is caring for your child's emotional health. The last few weeks have resulted in a big change for your child and we are here to help in that area as well. Our school counselors are ready and willing to help. If you should need such services, call your child's school and they will get you in touch with our counselors.

I would also like to remind everyone, to sign up for our breakfast and lunch program. There are no income requirements for students to qualify for this program. Many parents are busy working and if getting lunch and breakfast for the student takes one thing off your plate, please let us help you. If you have not, please call the district office at 785-252-3695 and they will be happy to add you to our list. We will even deliver to the communities we serve without schools and to our students that live in the country.

We are in the process of developing a tab on our district web page www.usd112.org that will have links to many health and educational sites. We will update this as needed.

Lastly to our Seniors! We have not forgotten you and the building administration, teachers, and superintendent are putting plans in place to honor you and your achievements! We are proud of you and your accomplishments and you deserve to be recognized! Stay tuned!

The greatest asset the Central Plains school district has is our community support! Our communities care deeply about the schools and the students we serve. This is a time we can all come together and support one another.

Sincerely,
Greg Clark
