March 27, 2020

Greetings patrons, staff, and students,

It has been a productive week. I have witnessed the work of our educators and staff. It has been nothing less than impressive. Our administrative team has planned for all known contingencies. Our teachers have made plans to address instruction and relationships. They have worked tirelessly to re-create school for our students in five days. I don't know that I can accurately describe what this challenge has entailed or how hard our professionals have worked to re-design the school experience. I simply cannot do it justice.

Our roll-out of instruction begins in earnest on Monday. Are our teachers and students ready? Likely not. Have we addressed all possible stumbling blocks? Certainly not. I don't know how any school leader could answer those questions affirmatively. There will be problems. There will be confusion and frustration. I can promise this. We will roll out our plan and continually adjust to address issues as they arise. In the meantime, we will move forward knowing we have a lot to learn. We will do so knowing we have the capacity to adjust and the passion to improve.

Thank you for your understanding and grace in this difficult time. Please never hesitate to contact teachers, principals or myself with questions or as problems arise. Make it a terrific weekend. Stay healthy.

Sincerely,

Lonnie Moser, Superintendent
