Welcome to RHS Continuous Learning

For our continuous learning plan, all teachers will be using Google Classroom. While students are already familiar with it, Google Classroom is new to a few teachers. Students should check their school email to get new classroom codes for those teachers. In addition to a few new Google Classrooms, each teacher will have a new continuous learning syllabus that will give students and parents a brief overview of assignments and expectations for distance learning as we embark on this new journey together.

All teachers will have daily “office hours” from 10am to 3pm. Students and parents are encouraged to contact teachers during that time with any questions about assignments. Specific contact information will be on each teacher’s syllabus.

For students without internet access:

Students/parents will need to pick up a weekly learning packet from RHS. These packets will include assignments, materials, and detailed instructions from each of the student’s classroom teachers. Packets will be picked up and returned at the school in a drive-thru process. This is only for students without internet access. See below for the dates and times for pick-up/drop-off.
