BIOLOGY FIELD TRIP

Ms. DeTrolio's Biology and AP Biology classes are participating in a program run by the Great Swamp Watershed Association known as SWaMP, School Water Monitoring on the Passaic. SWaMP is a free program that teaches high school and college students in communities along the Passaic River and its tributaries about the importance of caring for our watershed.

As the first part of the program, students utilized their double block lab period to travel to the area of Loantaka Brook near Kitchell Pond. Staff members of the GSWA, Sandra LaVigne and Adam Palmer, met MHS students there to facilitate the trip. Through hands-on experiences, students learned about the impacts of pollution and land use on water quality. Students performed visual, chemical, and macroinvertebrate testing. The information was recorded by student groups on data sheets which were given to the GSWA members. They then post the data to the public on an interactive website that shows all test sites, which school tested the site, and the results of those tests. This helps to keep tabs on the health of the water in our watershed, which is the source of our drinking water.

Ms. DeTrolio's students will continue to engage in activities with the Great Swamp Watershed Association for the duration of the school year, including another trip to Loantaka Brook in the spring. These trips bring many topics of the biology curriculum to life for students, showing them real life scenarios of why what they are learning about matters.
