1. As you've probably heard, Governor Edwards extended his "stay-at-home" order through April 30th. This means that schools remain closed until probably May 4th. As we receive updates, I will let you know.
2. We are increasing our efforts to reach out to students electronically and with print media as they are prepared. A schedule for physical pickups will be issued next week for you to take advantage of, if you choose to.
3. Presently the best thing we can do is to follow Governor Edwards stay-at-home order. The best way we can do that is minimizing the possibility of contact with people and places which increase the potential for spread of coronavirus illness.
4. We received guidance yesterday concerning high school credits and a "how to" related specifically concerning students who are seniors. We will be sharing that with senior parents in the next few days.
5. Continue to take advantage of all resources available to assist your child in continuing his education while away from school.
6. Stay safe and continue to follow best practices to resist coronavirus.
