

DISTANCE LEARNING

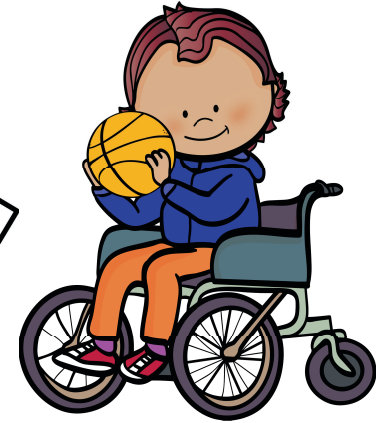

What is it?

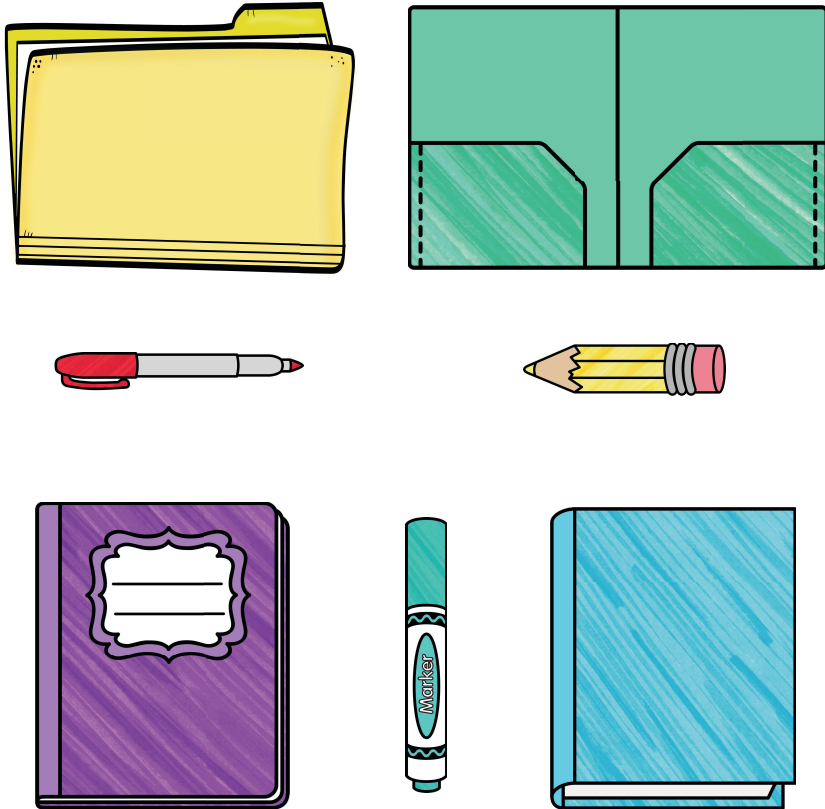

Sometimes, when schools are closed, I need to do something called distance learning.

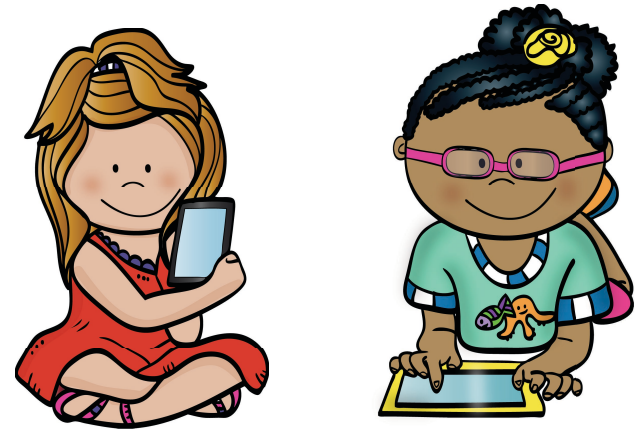

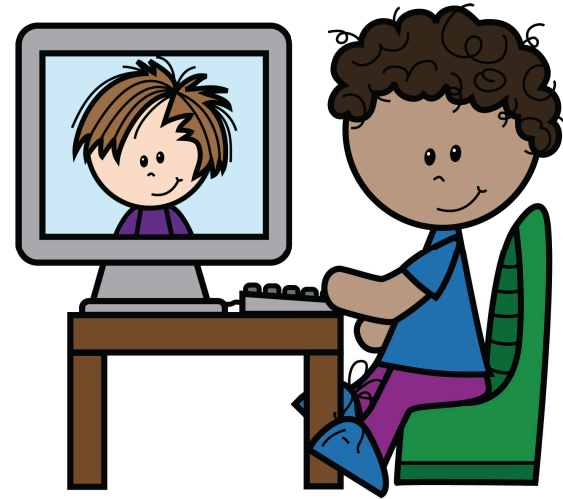

Distance learning means that I will do my learning and schoolwork at home. I will not go to my school.

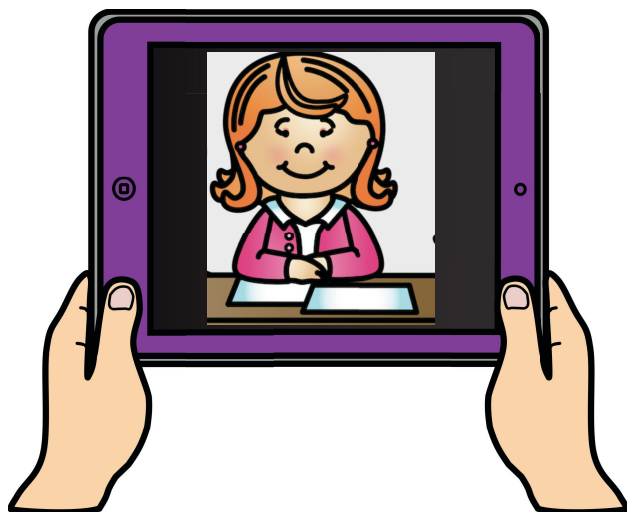

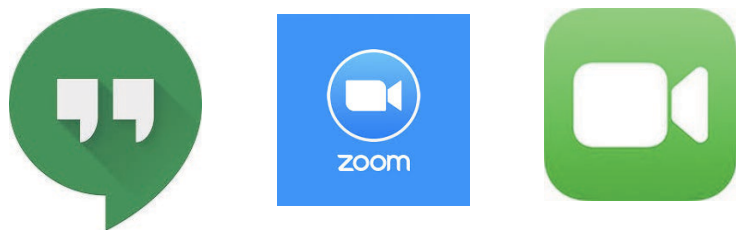

There are many ways to learn during distance learning.

Some teachers will send home packets, binders and assignments on paper. I can use pencils, pens or markers for these activities.

Some teachers will teach online. That means that I will get my schoolwork on a computer, laptop phone, or tablet.

I might even get to talk to my teacher on the phone, or see them on a video! This might be through Google Hangouts, Zoom, Facetime or other programs for video chatting.

My family or an adult will help me figure out how to do my work during distance learning.

Distance learning is different. I have never done it before. I can try my best and that will make my parents and teachers proud of me!

It is very important that I try to cooperate with the adult who is helping me with distance learning. This is new for my whole family and they are all doing their best to figure it out. I can try to be helpful.

My teachers aren't sure how long distance learning will last, but they will tell me when it is time to come back to my school building.

When distance learning is done, I will get to go back to my school building. It will be so fun to see my teacher and friends!

AUTISM LITTLE LEARNERS

Copyright © 2020

Terms Of Use

This product is free, and I give you permission to distribute, copy and use as you wish. When able, give credit to Autism Little Learners or Tara Tuchel and refer people to my website: www.autismlittlelearners.com

Connect!

AUTISM little LEARNERS
WEBSITE/BLOG

Instagram

Credits

Thank you for purchasing this activity from my store! I hope you find these materials as useful as I have in my classroom. Be sure to come back for newly added products!

Thank
You!

Tara Tuchel, Speech/Language Pathologist