

Dr. Barrett Huneke, DVM, the new veterinarian at the Heartland Clinic in Plainview will be offering the community care for large and small animals.

New Doctor welcomed at Heartland Vet Clinic

Heartland Vet Clinic's Plainview office has a new face in Dr. Barrett Huneke, DVM, who started in the last month serving the Plainview area.

Huneke and his wife-to-be, Dr. Karla Buller, both recently graduated from the University of Nebraska's veterinarian program, of four years in undergrad at UN-L and then a "2+2" program of two additional years at UN-L and finishing at Iowa State University.

Huneke was originally from Wilber and his future wife was from Henderson. Huneke said he was raised on a dairy farm that milked around 200 head. After selling the cows, he said his family still had a small cow-calf operation, horses and dogs around home.

He was involved in 4-H and FFA in his younger years, and even participated in high school rodeo - and some of that experience carried over to his desire to be a veterinarian.

Huneke will be serving as a "jack of all trades" for Heartland, but said his main interests lay in large animals - cattle and horses - specifically in bovine reproduction services, artificial insemination and embryo transfer.

"I am very happy to be here as I have reached a career goal of being a mixed animal veterinarian practicing in a rural community," said Huneke, saying he has already really enjoyed the diversity of the work he can experience right here around Plainview with cow-calf operations to feedlots and the variety of smaller animals in the area as well.

The couple has purchased a home south of Plainview, where they will reside after a honeymoon to Disney World following their June 30 wedding.

Huneke will be holding regular Plainview office hours, from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and Saturdays from 8 a.m. to noon. He can be reached through the clinic at 402-582-4511 or after hours at 402-644-3078.

Highway N-12 proposal on August 3 NDOR agenda

The Nebraska Department of Roads (NDOR) will hold an Information Open House August 3 to solicit feedback on a newly developed alternative for the proposed improvement of Nebraska Highway 12 (N-12), known as Niobrara East & West, in Knox County.

The open house will be held from 5:00 - 7:00 p.m. at the Niobrara High School - Gymnasium, 247 North Highway 12, in Niobrara.

There will be a short presentation beginning at 5:00 p.m., prior to the open house.

NDOR applied for a Section 404 of the Clean Water Act permit from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (Corps) in September of 2015. As part of the permit process, the Corps held a public hearing on November 9, 2015. At that time, the public had concerns and recommended an alternate solution should be sought. The public cited hardships on landowners, farms, and ranching operations.

Concerns were also expressed regarding icing and snow removal challenges on a roadway adjacent to the bluffs. In a letter to the Corps, NDOR requested that the permit application be withdrawn.

NDOR has developed a new alternative (A8) adjacent to the existing highway to provide a long-term transportation solution for N-12. NDOR has hosted meetings with the Corps, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), and the National Park Service (NPS) to evaluate this alternative and the environmental impacts in advance of a permit decision.

The proposed project includes two segments of the existing N-12 roadway east and west of the Niobrara. The highway experiences flooding and damage due to high water levels associated with the Missouri River. The NDOR is proposing to improve N-12 to eliminate damage caused by flooding and provide a reliable, stable and safe roadway for the region.

Personnel from the Department of Roads will be available to answer questions, receive comments, and discuss any aspect of the proposed highway improvement project. Information regarding the project will be available after the meeting on the NDOR website at www.roads.nebraska.gov/projects/future-projects/ by clicking on the "Niobrara East & West" link.

Grant will provide flow meter cost assistance

The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) received a grant from Nebraska's Water Sustainability Fund (WSF) and has cost-share available for producers who have yet to install flow meters on their irrigation wells. All irrigation wells in the LENRD will need a district approved flow meter installed by January 1, 2018.

To assist landowners with the expense of this requirement, the LENRD will provide financial support of $500 per flow meter. It is important to note that landowners must first apply and be approved for reimbursement, prior to purchase and installation of the meter.

Application for the flow meter cost-share can be completed by visiting your local Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) office and filling out the appropriate application forms. These requests are then forwarded to the LENRD for processing.

In addition, the LENRD will offer incentive payments of $250 per flow meter to producers who are approved for the Environmental Quality Incentive Program (EQIP) funding. The EQIP program is administered by NRCS and offers a host of incentives for irrigation water management.

LENRD water resources manager, Brian Bruckner, said, "The deadline to have flow meters installed on all irrigation wells is January 1, 2018. These incentives are available for producers who get signed up for the cost-share by June 30, 2017. The maximum payment that a producer can receive is $5,000 per year for irrigation practices."

Nebraska's Natural Resources Commission approved nearly $11.5 million in projects through the WSF, with $900,000 being awarded to the LENRD for water and soil conservation. The LENRD will provide a match of $600,000. This will allow the district to have $1.5 million available for cost-share assistance on irrigation flow meters.

Visit the LENRD website to sign up for emails from the district. Like us on Facebook, and follow us on Twitter. www.lenrd.org

Des Moines University student interns at Plainview Hospital

CHI Health Plainview Hospital has had, and will have a new provider working for a few weeks, a visiting physician's assistant student from Des Moines University.

Skyler Bentley, originally of Omaha, has been at the hospital for the past few weeks, and will continue in her service until August 5 as the second of her 12 rotations necessary for her education.

She has been seeing patients, while being supervised by Plainview's current providers, and has been helping out with Emergency Room calls during her time in Plainview.

Bentley said she is living in Plainview during her time here, and has enjoyed the pool and park, noting that they both were very nice additions for the community, and noted Subway's ice cream shop as one of her most liked locations in town so far.

Bentley is in her 14th month of her 25-month training program to become a Physician's Assistant, and she expects to complete her training in June of 2017.

The Pioneer Farm award was sponsored by the Ak-Sar-Ben Foundation and the Nebraska Farm Bureau. It is awarded to farm families who have maintained continuous ownership of property for 100 years.

This year, Pierce County presented the award to three families: the Larry D. and Anne M. Muhs farm, the Fred W. and Emma Meyer farm and the Harry and Verna Schlote farm.

The Schlote farm award, in particular, was received by numerous past and present Plainview families, as pictured with Lubkes, Hardistys and Schlotes all in attendance to represent the family.

The farm of Harry and Verna Schlote was homesteaded in 1887 by Daniel Brooks. Harry Schlote's grandparents, Herman and Bertha Luedtke, purchased the farm in 1912. It was passed down to his parents, George and Marie Schlote, in 1940. The farm was then passed to Harry and Verna Schlote in 1973. He passed away in 2011, and the farm is still owned by Verna Schlote.

Mary (Bichlmeier) Petersen was specially honored at the 2016 Pierce County Fair last week for her efforts over the last 25 years as the Pierce County Ag Society's treasurer. Shameless Self-Promotion

In this edition of The Plainview News there are 12,639 words. That's 82,000 characters and about 45 hours worth of work on primarily a Monday and a Tuesday.

That's 12,639 words that will be forever inscribed into paper, microfilm and scrapbooks of all of us, hopefully for a long, long time.

It includes social news, obituaries, sports, youth events, bowling, columns, municipal news and public notices, thoughts, card showers, considerations, retellings, statistics and, of course, color pictures.

This past week the staff and April and I drove about three hours northeast to Sheldon, Iowa to visit our printing plant at White Wolf Web. There's a bit of a story to follow next week, but the capabilities we've come to, the possibilities we have - certainly outshine the negatives, plates and regular press runs of the past.

I've had the benefit of seeing both sides - the "old" way and the "new" way. I'm a pretty nostalgic person, and I resist change when I have too many questions without solid answers and some math to prove up.

We're printing in full color, and were one of the first in northeast Nebraska to do so - we've had a website for at least 20 years, from very humble beginnings to what we're producing now - we've got the Facebook/YouTube/Twitter trifecta and have been increasing our commercial printing capabilities by leaps and bounds to compete on a global, internet market.

All of that, we typically sell for at least 30 percent less than you can find such a thing in Norfolk or another surrounding community - especially if you're considering some shipping or not.

As far as the newspaper is concerned, I'm not sure whether to be worried or not. We've got about 500 households in this community, and we've got about 1,000 subscriptions.

But with the advent of the internet, cell phones and online publications, I've been getting quite a few emails about things being "free."

One person, in particular, had commented that they had felt that the fact we don't release all our complete obituaries online for free was absurd in "this day and age."

While we've made some huge advancements, we haven't fired much staff, cut our overhead, turned off too many lights, or eliminated computer and software expenses.

The "fun math" is that you can receive 12,000-plus words, tons of color pictures (and the good-old-black and white), cartoons, columns, crosswords, puzzles, nationwide columns and advice, all the scrapbooking material, historical possibilities and record of our lives - for 62 cents a week - delivered.

Subscribers are part of the life-blood of my organization(s) - regardless of how much internet service I provide, how many free things I give away - I have 14 staff overall right now, printing costs, full color to pay for and postage of an almost unbelievable amount.

That's not meant to complain or throw out worry - it's just to implore you all to subscribe.

For 62 cents, less than....well, everything really, you can eight to 12 pages of history delivered to your post box or home with all of the above listed benefits.

We have the opportunity in this world to receive limitless information "for free" - but I can guarantee you no one will ever do what my staff does "for free." It's just not possible.

In the realm of advertising - newspaper, print, radio, posters, calendars, television, internet, Facebook - there just aren't enough dollars to go around to fully support everyone that believes they can do it.

I can't stress enough that when all the fads are gone, all the "new" wears off and when people are tired of having to search for the news they want - we will still be here, doing what we do. It's a tried and true process and business model that isn't even close to failing.

Contrary to popular belief, and much local differences, the Plainview News still publishes all news for free. And we always will - when you're paying to publish your information online elsewhere, just remember to "CC" us so we can do it for free, the same way we've been doing it for 100 years, and will continue to do in one shape or another for another 100.

YOUR VIEW

We wanted to extend a big thanks to everyone from Plainview for a great Jr. Legion Baseball season.

Curtis and I have been coaching youth baseball, basketball, and football for many, many years and we wanted to acknowledge the fact that this year, coaching Junior Legion baseball in Plainview, has been one of the best all-around experiences we've ever had coaching.

All the way from the players, a great assistant coach, Kevin Masat, the parents, Ballbackers, and fans, we couldn't have asked for more. The community of Plainview should be proud of the programs you have there and the amazing Ballbackers group as well.

Most people don't realize the amount of time and effort that's needed for these programs so this group deserves a lot of recognition!

"Understanding our community"

By: Michael Holton
City Administrator

There are times when we need to sit back and reflect on the positives of where we live and not get caught up in the quicksand of what used to be.

We all have favorite memories of a time gone by but they are just that, memories. Plainview is 130 years old. There are times that I don't always agree with Brook and we have learned to be able to discuss and productively argue over some of his columns and opinions. This is what is called a professional relationship and together we can want the same things but in different ways.

Last week in his column, Brook spoke of the positives of Plainview and what they look like compared to the many communities that he frequents each week. I thought he was spot on in every word that was written. People need to sit back and remember what some of the problems were in Plainview in the past and what has been done to correct them.

As a city administrator I get to listen to folks who dwell in the past and sometimes the present but not in the future. I don't have the luxury of dwelling in the past or the present some days. Everything that I do is geared to the future at least five years out if not longer. This is strategic planning.

There are several obstacles that often get in the way, both physical and politically but I need to work through these and do the best I can. There are several other people that I have watched lately that are getting on that same wave length and it has been refreshing.

As Brook pointed out there are several communities that look to Plainview for guidance because of what we have done well. The latest phone call to my office came from a small town northeast of us seeking to put in a new swimming pool and wanted to know how we got the funding and support.

Another community called to know why our electrical system seems work so well and what can they do to make theirs better or more efficient. I did not have the heart to tell them that there are people in Plainview that feel that our electrical system is worthless and needs completely replaced. Several communities are seeking ways to improve their water or sewer systems and have looked at Plainview as a model.

When I tell them that we have our own problems with the water and sewer system, they just laugh. Usually they respond with "you don't know what problems are."

Fullerton is dealing with high selenium in their water system and are having to replace wells to help lower the high counts. Wayne, for example has tested high in selenium, nitrates, copper, radon and uranium. Our biggest contaminant in the water system so far has been nitrates which have been increasing for several years due to the agricultural practices of the past.

As part of a larger effort to identify the areas affected by nitrates, Plainview has joined with the Natural Resource Districts in the area to use the most modern technology to locate the hot spots through mapping by air. You have probably noticed the helicopter flying low over our area lately. This is what I am talking about when it comes to looking at the future. The question that you have to ask yourself is not what Plainview will look like today but what will it look like in five years. Then you plan accordingly.

In the meantime, look at supporting our schools, ball programs, music programs, swimming pool, parks, businesses, Frisbee golf course, etc. These all help to make Plainview a nice and friendly town for future families.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

ARC/PLC sign-up deadline Aug. 1

U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Nebraska Farm Service Agency (FSA) Executive Director Dan Steinkruger reminds farmers and ranchers they have until Aug. 1 to enroll in Agriculture Risk Coverage (ARC) and/or Price Loss Coverage (PLC) programs for the 2016 crop year.

"Producers have already elected ARC or PLC, but they must enroll for the 2016 crop year by signing a contract before the Aug. 1 deadline to receive program benefits," said Steinkruger. "Producers are encouraged to contact their local FSA office to schedule an appointment to enroll."

The programs trigger financial protections for participating agricultural producers when market forces cause substantial drops in crop prices or revenues. Nationwide, more than 1.76 million farmers and ranchers are expected to sign contracts to enroll in ARC or PLC. Covered commodities under the programs include barley, canola, large and small chickpeas, corn, crambe, flaxseed, grain sorghum, lentils, mustard seed, oats, peanuts, dry peas, rapeseed, long grain rice, medium grain rice (which includes short grain and sweet rice), safflower seed, sesame, soybeans, sunflower seed and wheat.

For more program information, contact the local FSA office or visit www.fsa.usda.gov/arc-plc. To find the local FSA office, visit <http://offices.usda.gov>.

Funeral Services

Cynthia K. Miller, 49

Services for Cynthia Kaye (Kudera) Miller, 49, of Osmond were held at 10:30 a.m. on Tuesday, July 26th at United Methodist Church in Plainview.

Pastor Kola Akinnigbagbe and Pastor Donna Runge officiated. The remains will be interred at a later date at Pleasant View Cemetery in Plainview.

Miller was born to Duane and Kathleen Shearer Kudera Sept. 29, 1966, and died Saturday, July 23rd, at Plainview Manor in Plainview.

She attended Plainview Public School and graduated from Plainview High School in 1984.

On April 5, 1985, she married the love of her life, Andy Miller, and they were blessed with two children, Monty and Kayla. Miller enjoyed attending her children's activities and coached soccer for nine years.

She was secretary for the United Methodist Church from 1998 to 2016, and was also employed at Osmond Republican 10 years, worked at and was a board member at Osmond Public Library six years, and was a safety director for Double R Trucking Company in Pierce seven years.

Miller worked with the Plainview Ministerial Association in the organization and planning of the Plainview Food Distribution Program; she was instrumental in its day-to-day operations.

She was an avid reader, collected stamps and enjoyed gardening and time with family and friends.

She was preceded in death by her father, Duane Kudera, and grandparents Marvin and Leona Shearer and Charles and Mary Kudera.

Cynthia Kaye Miller is survived by her husband, Andy, of Osmond; daughter Kayla of Osmond; son, Montana, and his wife, Cindy, and their children Kaleigh, Addison and Jaxson of Osmond; mother, Kathleen Kudera of Plainview; brother, Tim and wife, Beth, and children Tyler, Lindsey and Ryan of Plainview, and several brothers-and sisters-in-law, aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces and nephews.

Tee Talk

The 18th was a little warm for the Ladies but 30 of the devout played a round and partook of Ms. Wacker's Windsor Loin dinners.

Ladies Club tourney is next Monday, August 1, so come and play at your leisure, but remember this will be a serious golf night for the record books. Relax after the tense time with taco salads provided by Candi Johnson and friends.

The Ladies had a warm night on Monday, but Thursday night was just plain HOT for the Fun Nite on the 21st, but six three-man teams still played all kinds of different scramble formats, which is a break for the guys playing on Thursdays so the drawing of teams will probably return again this season. Twenty-eight enjoyed the ribeye dinners with Frahm boys serving.

The Stag this Thursday, the 28th, Greg Mullins is in charge serving barbecue pork sandwiches, potatoes and salad. Supposed to be nice weather, come out and enjoy.

The adult-child tourney, the best tourney the Club offers, was held on Sunday, the 24th, with 21 teams participating. The teams were divided into three flights with three winning places in each flight.

Following are the winners listed in order of 3rd, 2nd and 1st in each flight:

Third: Jake and Kim Zuhlke, Kenny and Todd Hart, Jessica and Tim Hoffman

Second: Jaxson and Cassy Jelinek, Guy and Jeff Wortman, Teegan and Erik Burns

First: Gunnar and Tim Knaak, Lexyn and Matt Meuret, Chase and Dan Largen

The young ones used the appropriate tees by age and the rules said at least three tee shots had to be used by each team member. In some cases it turned out that the adult was having trouble getting their share being used, so it was a fun afternoon for all.

All types of prizes were handed out to the younger team members and most players stuck around to scarf up burgers, hotdogs and friends which was the Sunday evening meal. A total of 48 were served in the evening with the Dummars doing the dirty work.

Should have made mention of the D&K fund raiser scramble held on the 16th as there were 80 golfers taking over the Course. The Tourney can be rated as a success as 80 golfers had fun and there was decent money raised for the high school bowling teams.

The foursome of Josh Homme, Brett Korth and Courtney and Josh Kounovsky won the scramble with a fine score of 59. Most golfers know the adage, "Drive for show, putt for dough." In the winning group there were three macho types who could pound the ball, but young Mrs. Kounovsky was the one who made the dough, making three putts for birdies and one for an eagle.

The "Best of the Best" is this Saturday. A four man scramble with a large cash prize for the winning team. Some entered teams could be considered local and some are coming from a good distance and from out of state.

There will be some outstanding golfers who are very good and some golfers who think they are good, so come out and watch. The gallery should absolutely remember golf etiquette and if children are brought along, put a lease and muzzle on them if necessary. That's a funny, so don't start thinking child abuse. Tee-off is at 10 a.m.

The Steak and Sweet Corn feed will be August 4. For $20 a patron will receive a ticket for a refreshment, and a ticket for a meal consisting of ribeye steak, and all the corn, onion rings, and Redosti-Naprstek tomatoes the patron desires.

In a decent restaurant the comparable pricing would range from $30-$50. All the corn, onions and tomatoes a guy wants to eat is a pretty good deal, and it's tasty.

Everyone is welcome - as long as your birth certificate certifies you are a male and born before August 3rd, 1998.

Club Meetings

VFW Auxiliary

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5330 Auxiliary met July 25, 2016 at the Plainview Social Center. The evening began with a 5:00 p.m. meal at the center, followed with the business meeting.

President Betty Ristow opened the meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance. Loydell Swan served as Chaplain, Marjorie Beed was Patriotic Instructor and Jennifer Weinrich was guard.

President Ristow reported that Linda Vogel will be at the next meeting on August 22 for inspection. It was reported that the District meeting will be at Bloomfield, Sunday, Sept. 18 at 12:00 o'clock noon. Registration will begin at noon. Lunch will be served following the meeting. Cost to attend is $5.00 per person.

It was reported that a reminder of the membership dues will be sent out shortly. A correction to the minutes is that the used book sale will be sponsored by the Rescue Mission.

The topic for the Patriot's Pen Contest is "The America I Believe In." The topic for the Voice of Democracy Contest is "My Responsibility to America." Deadline for both contests is November 1.

It was discussed and voted on that the group will donate $100 to the Social Center to help defray their many expenses.

The meeting closed with prayer and the group reciting the prayer for Eaton Rapids Children's Home. The group's next meeting will be Monday, August 22, 2016.

Grandmother's Vases

Q: My grandmother was raised in Weymouth, Massachusetts. In 1909, when she got married, she received three vases crafted by William Henry Grueby, a Boston potter. Although I am not all that familiar with pottery from this period, I think all three are in the Arts and Crafts style. Are Grueby pieces worth keeping? — Ramona, Augusta, Maine

A: According to Schroeder's Antiques Price Guide published by Collector Books, your vases could be quite valuable.

William Henry Grueby began working with tiles when he was about 15 years old. He later founded the Grueby Faience Company in Boston and began experimenting with art pottery. He developed glazes in blue, gray, yellow, brown and cucumber green. What made his glazes unique is they were executed in soft shades without gloss. In 1900, Grueby exhibited his work at the Paris Exposition Universelle, where he won three gold medals.

Grueby's pottery was hand-thrown and hand-decorated. While making art pottery, he also continued to design and produce tiles. I can't find any evidence that his art pottery was made after about 1910. Depending on the style of your vases, they could be worth several thousand dollars each. For example, a six-sided vase with leaves in green recently sold for $2,000. Some of his others have sold for even more. I suggest you hire the services of a good certified personal property appraiser and get them documented for insurance purposes.

Q: I am enclosing pictures and need you to identify and tell me what these two pans were used for. I bought them at auction about 35 years ago and have never seen others like them. I also need a price range value. Ð- Linda, Darlington, Indiana

A: Your question is a little like showing me a picture of a brick and asking me what kind of structure it came from. Your pans could have been used to prepare food on a working farm. My grandmother had several such pans, which she used when preparing apples for cider and grapes for juice. I don't make appraisals, and since it is not known where your pans were made or by whom, I can't provide any additional information.
