The Plainview Park Board has invited everyone to a special town hall open house for the new park equipment on Thursday, Sept. 14. The meeting is part of the grant application process that the group is hoping to complete to help pay for new park equipment in Childers Park.

The open house will be held at the Plainview Public Library from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. on the 14th, with three options and playground maps available for viewing. All are invited to attend to help consider plans, layout and equipment.

School renovation open house on Sept. 17

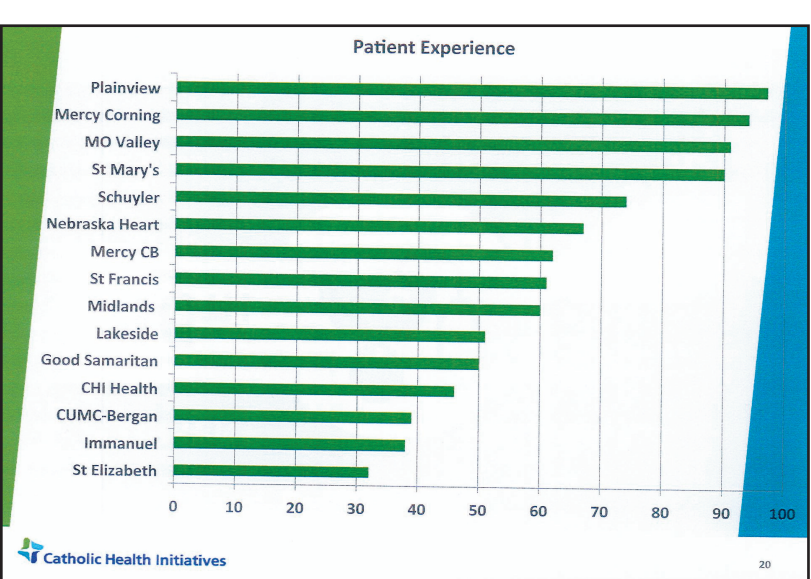

Plainview Public Schools will be hosting an open house for District patrons to visit the school and view the extensive restroom and other renovations that were completed this summer.

The open house will be held on Sunday, Sept. 17 from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Plainview Public High School.

“This is likely the only opportunity for folks to see the locker rooms which underwent the most extensive renovations,” said Superintendent Dr. Darron Arlt. “The restrooms they will see if they come to school events, but if you don’t have kids or grandkids in the system, stakeholders likely don’t come to school.”

“We want to show our stakeholders how we have invested their tax dollars. Board of Education members and community members will be on hand during the Open House to guide their tour and answer any questions they might have about the decision-making process to make this half million dollar investment in modernizing our facilities and what might be under consideration in the next year.”

At the Board of Education meeting on Monday, Sept. 11, the board approved another $500,000 in tax request for the special building fund for building restoration planned for the next year.

CHI Health Plainview takes lead in services

August 10-12 Catholic Health Initiatives, or CHI Health, parent company of the Plainview hospital, clinic, and home health systems, held a two-state-wide retreat at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln.

Attending from Plainview were administrator Greg Beckmann, nurse practitioner Lisa Montgomery, and community board member Dennis Vossberg.

Also attending were representatives from 11 other Nebraska hospitals and three from Iowa, all of which are attached to CHI of Nebraska, headquartered in Omaha.

The purpose of the retreat was to inspire service and leadership, provide information about national healthcare issues and trends, promote healthcare provider engagement, and share hospital measures and accomplishments. There were also plenty of opportunities to give feedback, exchange ideas, and network with other participants.

In the course of reviewing the last fiscal year’s accomplishments, the Plainview representatives were pleasantly surprised to find that the Plainview facility compared exceedingly well against its peer group.

In fact, Plainview was revealed to have led or shared the lead in several key measures. Measures in which Plainview shared the lead were in provider satisfaction, overall quality of service, and safety.

Plainview was the overall leader in the key rating of patient experience with a score in the 97th percentile of the national database.

Of course the larger facilities led in terms of overall revenue and profitability, mainly because of a larger patient base, but the Plainview board felt strongly that the local employees have done their best in what was within their control, and that they deserve high commendation and wished to recognize all employees for their dedication and focused work.

The hospital, clinic and home health employ 72 full and part-time workers, making it one of the Plainview community’s largest employers.

CHI is the largest health care provider in Nebraska. The Plainview facility was purchased from the city by CHI (then known as Alegent Health) in January of 2012.

Legion holds flag burning ceremony

Members of the Plainview’s American Legion Claire Fryer Post #148 held a flag burning ceremony on Monday, Sept. 11 – Patriot’s Day – retiring a number of flags that had been collected in the past year or so.

Commander Gene Thomsen emceed the ceremony, with assistance from Chaplain Brian Buckle, Sergeant at Arms Oran Gloe and Bob Burriell provided “Taps.” Multiple members assisted with the disposal and burning of the flags.

The flags were collected through the American Legion’s disposal site outside the southeast corner of the American Legion Club at the west end of downtown Plainview.

Multiple members assisted with the disposal and burning of the flags.

Sergeant at Arms Oran Gloe and Bob Burriell provided “Taps” during the ceremony.

Boyer served as Ambassador in rural leadership program

Tyan Boyer, a junior at the University of Nebraska – Kearney was selected to serve as a Rural Futures Institute Ambassador over the summer, providing camps and training for students in McCook.

Boyer was a 2015 graduate of Plainview High School, and is the son of Dean and Christi Boyer of Plainview.

The RFI program is provided by the University of Nebraska, and connects rural communities, the university faculty and students into a central “nexus” that allows for innovative projects to better rural Nebraska.

Boyer was part of such innovation, hand-picked by his instructor, Nate Bickford, to carry out the plan of a grant award that Bickford had received to start health camps for middle school kids by incorporating various educational platforms by way of “camps” directly into communities, in this case, McCook.

In essence, Boyer, and his friend and classmate, Collin Fleecs, were placed into the community of McCook and spent June 5 to July 14 hosting camps for middle school youth covering topics from Aquaponics and Hydroponics to health and exercise, nutrition and technology.

The RFI typically serves communities through “servicships,” of a similar nature, but this one, because of its direct impact inside McCook specifically, and its length of time providing camps, was a new venture for the organization – since the staff, and students, at the University of Nebraska – Kearney, approached RFI about the project, and then pitched it to the community of McCook as well. Typically communities come to RFI and are matched with projects that are already on-going.

While hosting the camps in McCook, Boyer and Fleecs, also performed various projects for the Economic Development Director in McCook and the McCook Community Hospital. At the City, Boyer said he sat in on town meetings and helped design videos to highlight businesses in McCook, and for the hospital, the team presented information on exercise and nutrition to staff, and designed a weight-loss competition amongst businesses in town for bragging rights as the “healthiest business” in the community.

Along with all of that, Boyer said he also spent time shadowing physical therapists at the hospital, as his major in Exercise Science with a minor in Health Science has led him to want to attend Physical therapy school, and pursue a doctorate and practice in an outpatient clinic.

There are plans for Boyer and Fleecs to go back to McCook and provide the camps again, however the overall goal of the program has been to bring on other students to train them to take over the camps. Grants have been applied for, and received, to continue to grow these camps.

The camp started by Boyer and Fleecs will again be in McCook next summer, but will hopefully expand in the following years, perhaps up to five communities, with potential for

So far, the group has begun gaining some statewide attention with news coverage by local newspapers, as well as a special on Nebraska Television, highlighting the RFI program and the other communities that were impacted this past season by students.

The RFI group, launched in 2013, serves to “provide an initiative to continue to help allow rural communities to thrive and prosper in the face of urbanization.” From the group’s Vision Story: “Rural America unleashes the full potential of its leadership, economic capacity, cultural creativity and natural resources, creating explicit value for small and large communities within and beyond its geography. Rural places have become the legitimate best choice for leaders, businesses, families, graduates and explorers. Rural people earn global respect for fueling the future of humankind.”

Babbling Brook

It's tax time!

I suppose it would be a bit pretentious to attempt to convince you that I have that Christmas song "it's the most wonderful time of the year" playing in my office right now?

It's budget season for all the "taxing agencies" in America - September 20 is Budget-Day, and all the government(s) are required to attempt to act like they're listening when people try to tell them where they want their tax dollars going.

It's such a catch 22 during this season - you really want nice, new things, but you'd also like to actually keep that 48 percent of your money that goes toward paying for things you don't like most of the time.

This is the time of year where we can all gather together and attempt to forge our own destiny through this short time we have.

Will we fund the new park equipment?

Will we add on to the renovations at the school?

Will there be enough to pave roads to help build new houses or to renovate our power system?

Will someone finally listen to me and cancel our property tax request for the City of Plainview so we can be the first municipality in the state to not charge property tax?

Will our school have the privilege of continuing to be self supporting? Not relying on state aid to make our ends meet?

Will peaches from Colorado finally be in great enough supply that everyone can have at least one lug, as God intended?

All these questions can be answered during budget season, folks. Especially if you incorporate some of the budgeting tactics into your own home (for peach purposes, of course.)

I mean, if you're going to argue about things - who's going to argue about new toilets and plenty of peaches to go around. Not this guy.

If you were going to argue about passing the buck off because you're too tired to do the work yourself and find a reasonable answer for the problems facing our community that have existed for 20 years and no one bothered to answer?

Yep, that can be done during tax time, too. Fear not fellow budgeters! Crazy, right?!

Why be responsible in your own efforts when you could take advantage of someone else's low interest generosity, keep the wheels of the future greased and moving forward - and actually deliver on those lugs of peaches you were promised.

Someone has to pay for the things we all want and need to live in our civilized society - as they say, no peach is free, but it is always discouraging to find out just how much you're having to contribute to keep the old wheels of prosperity moving.

Hopefully, the tax fairy will visit each and every one of you this season and make your payments equitable to what you're receiving. That's really the rub of the entire thing, isn't it?

If you're obtaining things of value (permanent value, in fact) that are worth what you're paying in, no one would complain. The trouble is when your hard-earned money is forcibly removed from your pocket, perhaps at a rate greater than you desire, and you still have to complain about the same things that were wrong when you still had your own money. Accountability - it isn't just for accountants.

Board approves $4.8 million request

Plainview's Board of Education members held their regular meeting on Monday September 11th at 5:30 p.m. for two special hearings, review of policy, and regular reports from the administration.

The two special hearings were for the school district's budget and tax request.

Superintendent Dr. Darron Arlt began the first special hearing for the 2017-2018 school budget by giving a power point presentation to board members outlining the proposed budget. He reviewed the school's primary sources of revenue and expenditures and compared them against the district's financial numbers in past years.

Arlt reported that, overall, property valuations for the district, the largest source of revenue for the school, were down from last year. The budgeted tax request remained relatively the same, going down only slightly from $4,826,283.79 last year to $4,823,232.28 for the proposed budget.

These two factors will drive the tax rate up for land owners from approximately .645 to .660 for the 2017 tax year.

Superintendent Arlt commented that budgeted amounts rarely reflect what the school actually spends and told board members that the school district typically spends about 90 percent of what is budgeted.

Last year the reported school disbursements from the general fund was $5,175,465.00 out of last year's budget of approximately $6.1 million, which was about 83 percent. Despite the district spending below the typical 90 percent budgeted number, the new proposed budget for the general fund for the 2017-2018 school year remained relatively the same from last year at $6,108,224.00.

The floor was then opened to board members and district patrons for questions about the proposed budget. One inquired about talk of using school funds to pave the gravel street near the football field, and if that cost was justified in helping educate students.

Board member Vicki Petersen responded by saying that she saw it as more of a safety issue concerning the rain, mud, and drainage problems for both vehicles and students. She also commented that they were only exploring their options for a potential project and its costs, and no decisions had been made about pursuing it.

Another comment from the public during the special School Budget Hearing was about the $1,200,000 number for the building fund and what was planned.

Superintendent Arlt responded that the budget was only requesting $505,000.00 for the new budget year which was similar to last year's request. A board member said that the money was planned to upgrade and replace systems in the high school and elementary in the coming years, much like the bathroom and locker room projects that were completed over the summer.

Students and parents from the public also commented how nice the project turned out and how it will look and function to the public, faculty, and students who will use it.

During the regular meeting, school board members ended up passing both the proposed budget and tax request for the 2017-2018 school year.

Board members continued to review and take action on a number of district school policies. The second reading of new policies on Employee Fundraising and Parent and Family Member Engagement were both passed by the board.

Changes in language to other policies included Objectives for equal educational opportunities for students, acceptable use of computers, technology and the internet were passed as well.

Other School Business

-Homecoming will be Sept 29th with coronation starting at 2:30 p.m..

-Parent teacher conferences will be held on September 21st and 22nd.

-High school students average ACT score were 22.6, up .3 from the previous year and above the state average of 21.4.

-Principal Novicki mentioned the possibility of changing the honors given to students at graduation. She said several school have been shifting from the traditional valedictorian and salutatorian honors in favor of distinctions such as summa cum laude. She suggested that the change not be made for current year.

17-18 City budget on agenda for Sept. 19

The Plainview City Council will gather for a special meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 19 to discuss the proposed budget for the 2017-2018 year for the City of Plainview.

The hearing and meeting will begin at 5:30 p.m. on the 19th, and is open to the public for a hearing time of comment for the "purpose of hearing support, opposition, criticism, suggestions or observations of taxpayers relating to the proposed budget."

As in previous years, the "City" budget reported here includes the entirety of the City operations, including the operation of the Plainview Manor/Whispering Pines Assisted Living and all its income and expenses, resulting in higher "total budget" numbers than just the City by itself.

According to the official budget notice (elsewhere in this edition) the 2017-2018 budgeted disbursements and transfers will be requested at $6.1 million with a cash reserve of $1.8 million.

Those combined numbers, however, are broken apart during the tax request, as the City of Plainview is the only entity allowed to collect property tax (not the Manor).

This year, the administration is requesting approval for $295,013.93 raised from property taxes at a levy of .682308 per $100 of valuation.

The 2016 tax request was $291,618, and the tax rate requested was .675939 per $100 of valuation.

Technically, the City of Plainview's general fund tax request is "capped" at 50 cents per $100 of valuation, so the remaining $1.82308 will be requested for "bonded" repayment.

Hearings will be at 5:30 p.m. for the budget, 5:45 p.m. for the tax request, and the Council will have to vote to approve both and send them to the County for final approval.

Tee Talk

Same as last week: short, but not sure how sweet.

Old and New: 25 soup-loving guys, some of whom made use of the course, were out last Thursday evening. Those that did play, didn't want to quit as the street lights were on before they stopped swinging the hickories.

There is certainly enough chili left for another go, and probably then some. A favor to the kitchen and clean-up staff would be for the golfers who want to play late, would be to eat early....at least before 8 p.m.

Course will be closed this Saturday, the 16th, until three-ish, depending on whatever playoffs are necessary for the Plainview Girls' Invite.

Next week will have results of the Senior Two-Man Scramble, and then a couple of weeks of reviewing the season with some recaps, some stories, and some commentary if the commentaries pass the muster of the censors.

An example of stories to be related could be titled: "Manager Runs Tight Ship." On the Sunday of Labor Day weekend, three older gentlemen came from Norfolk to pay the green fees and play some golf. One gentleman remarked that regular prices should be discounted since it was September.

The Manager replied the Club didn't change prices throughout the regular season. The man repeated his opinion in kind of a belligerent manner. The Manager retorted that no one was making him play.

The guest quietly paid the fee, along with the other gentlemen, and ended up playing a second nine and paying additional fees without further comment.

The membership and Board need not worry, because, the "Club is in Good Hands."

Heads up all golfers: Lost clubs turned in, about a dozen of them, the majority being wedges. Also turned in was a Top Flight single-faced putter and a Delta left-handed 8 iron. If a golfer plays more than one round a year, one would think the golfer would notice his/her putter is missing.

Bright Horizons to host Diaper Drive

Bright Horizons of Norfolk will be collecting diapers for the entire month of September to donate to families in need in communities throughout northeast Nebraska.

The "Diaper Drive" notification came with the following information about diapers: diapers average a cost of $100 per month (8-12 a day); no public assistance covers the cost of diapers and disposable diapers are required by daycares.

Diapers can be dropped off at the Norfolk office at 305 N. 4th or the O'Neill office at 318 E. Douglas.

They are especially looking for diapers in sizes of 4, 5 and 6, and wipes.

The organization also has an ongoing "wish list" of paper goods, cleaning supplies, air fresheners, disinfectant wipes/spray, dish/laundry soap, fabric softener, trash bags in all sizes, light bulbs, hand soap, food items, bottled water, zip lock bags, bedding (twin and full), storage totes, ice melt, coffee, filters and creamer, baby care items, baby wipes, baby formula, hygiene products, over the counter medications and first aid supplies.

West Nile virus in Holt county

North Central Health District O'Neill

One mosquito pool in Holt County has tested positive for West Nile Virus.

Across the state, 69 mosquito pools have tested positive for West Nile Virus. In addition, the state of Nebraska has had thirty confirmed human cases and ten asymptomatic blood donor cases. West Nile Virus is still circulating in the environment.

Residents not only in Holt County, but all across Nebraska should continue to take precautions to protect themselves until the first hard freeze.

Three tons of waste collected at RC&D event

The Northeast Nebraska Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) Council in partnership with four communities, Cedar County and the Ponca Tribe of Nebraska hosted Household Hazardous Waste and Electronic Waste recycling events last week which served 115 households.

These events were funded in part by a grant awarded to the RC&D from the Nebraska Environmental Trust. Since 1992 the Trust has provided over $265 million in grants to more than 2,000 projects across the state.

Leftover household products that contain corrosive, toxic, ignitable, or reactive ingredients are considered to be household hazardous waste (HHW). Almost three ton of material was properly disposed of or recycled at these HHW events. This included 675# of pesticide, 5030# of paint, 46# of acids, 22 gallons of used oil, nine gallons of antifreeze, 13 gallons of 2-4D, two gallons of Roundup, 41 florescent light bulbs, and 180# of recyclables.

Red Willow County Household Hazardous Waste of McCook was the contractor.

Nebraska Electronics Recycling & Disposal of Norfolk was selected as the contractor for the electronic waste recycling. Households were able to properly dispose of 4.5 ton of electronic items including computers, TVs, printers, batteries, and more. TVs are very difficult to dispose of and people who brought the 79 that were collected during these events were happy to finally have a proper place to get rid of them.

These events are held annually if possible and the RC&D Council moves them around their six-county service area in an effort to reach out to all citizens. For more information on these or other RC&D projects, call the office at 402-582-4866 or via email at northeastrcd@plvwtelco.net.

The RC&D Council continually strives to offer projects that citizens request and that will make life better for people in Antelope, Cedar, Dixon, Knox, Pierce, and Wayne counties.

* Limiting exposure when outdoors by wearing long sleeve shirts and pants.

* Limiting time spent outdoors during when Culex mosquitoes are most active, typically dusk to midnight.

* Getting rid of standing water that mosquitoes may breed.

West Nile Virus is contracted through mosquitoes that have bitten an infected bird. Generally birds cannot pass the virus to humans. West Nile Virus symptoms are flu-like and can include a slight fever or headache. Severe symptoms are not likely, but can lead to encephalitis, which can cause inflammation of the brain, disorientation, convulsions and paralysis. People over 50, infants, and pregnant women are especially susceptible to this disease.

nant women are especially susceptible to this disease.

Mosquitos are trapped in several locations across the North Central District Health Department (NCDHD) nine-county region. NCDHD will continue to trap mosquitos and will take calls regarding sick or dead birds that have been found. If you would find a dead bird that may have died from West Nile Virus, report the bird to NCDHD at 1-877-336-2406.

For more information call North Central District Health Department at 1-877-336-2406 or visit the DHHS Web site at: <http://dhhs.ne.gov/publichealth/Pages/wnv.aspx>. North Central District Health Department serves Antelope, Boyd, Brown, Cherry, Holt, Keya Paha, Knox, Pierce, and Rock Counties.

Funeral Services

Wallace M. "Wally" Jernigan, 74

A celebration of life service was held Friday, Sept. 8 at the Bel Air Chapel in Omaha.

Wallace M. Jernigan was born on April 26, 1943 in Emporia, Va. to Carl and Anna Mae Jernigan, and he died on September 4, 2017.

Graduating from Tech High in 1961, he joined the Marine Corps serving four years, 10 months, and 28 days.

Jernigan became an Omaha Police officer in June of 1968. It was his hope that someday the real person that put the carp in the women's toilet at the police station would be brought to justice.

After retiring from the Police Department, he worked at Central High, Tarascio Auto Body, then served as Nebraska's State Athletic Commissioner under Governors Mike Johanns and Dave Heineman.

Jernigan was very artistic, pursuing many hobbies with a basement full of "treasures" to show for it. He loved sports—as a participant, a spectator and a coach. Two of his favorites were coaching boxing and the 2008 National Champion Senior Softball team.

His proudest times were watching his son, Michael, coach Westside's wrestling and football teams.

Seeing and listening to his grandchildren, Gable, Gibson and Grifey, brought the biggest smiles to his face. He will forever be their "Papa Wally."

He was preceded in death by parents, Carl and Anna Mae Jernigan; father-in-law, Earl Albin; niece, Carrie Thomas.

Wallace M. "Wally" Jernigan is survived by his wife, Sandy; son, Michael; daughter-in-law, Robyn; grandchildren: Gable, Gibson, and Grifey; sister, Cathy (Milt) Footer; mother-in-law, Peggy Albin; sisters-in-law, LaDonna (Gene) Thomas and Nadine Ault; nephews: Trevor Korn, Ryan Nootz, and Kevin Reis; nieces, Stephanie Dunlap and Stacey Roach; many dear friends.

Services were provided by Heafey Hoffmann Dworak Cutler Mortuary.

Kenneth Ober, 89

Mass of Christian Burial for Kenneth Ober, age 89, of Bloomfield, was held Tuesday, September 12, 2017, at St. Andrew's Catholic Church in Bloomfield.

Rev. Tim Podraza will be Celebrant, with burial in St. Paul's Catholic Cemetery in Plainview.

Kenneth died Thursday, September 7, 2017, at Good Samaritan Society in Bloomfield.

Kenneth Duane Ober, son of Jesse and Ruby (Benedict) Ober, was born April 28, 1928, in Plainview, and on September 7, 2017, he passed away at Good Samaritan Society in Bloomfield at the age of 89.

He attended a country school by Creighton until the eighth grade, when he was needed on the farm.

Ober married Kathleen Bessmer on June 27, 1950.

They farmed until 1956, when they moved into Plainview where he got his first job in dirt construction. He fell in love with the work and had a natural talent for it.

In 1958, Ober bought his first machine, "Ole Susie," moved to Bloomfield, and Ober Construction Co. was established.

Ober continued in the dirt business until 2009. He touched most of the dirt in Knox County and surrounding areas with building dams, the Devil's Nest, feed yards, roads, and landscaping.

During the Obers marriage of 32 years, seven children were born, Connie, Ricky, Randy, Debbie, Patti, Sandi, and Kandi.

In 1983, after Kathy's death in 1982, Ober married Ramona Jordan Stark.

In this 25 year marriage, they did a lot of traveling and having fun with friends. He had a love for flowers and plants, Nebraska football, dancing, and watching his grandchildren and great-grandchildren. His wife, Ramona, passed away in 2009.

He was preceded in death by wives, Kathy and Ramona; sons, Ricky and Randy; granddaughter, Tonya; his parents; two brothers, Virgil and Clayton; and sister, Vivian Musick.

Kenneth Ober is survived by his daughters: Connie Kuhl, Debbie (Jerry) Nipp, Patti (Doug) Ketelsen, Sandi (Corey) Miller, and Kandi (Rick) Eissenhauer; daughter-in-law, Cheryl Karel Ober; 17 grandchildren; 18 great-grandchildren; and Pal, his chocolate lab.

Brockhaus Funeral Home in Bloomfield is in charge of arrangements.

Club Meetings

Zion Ladies Aid

Zion Lutheran Ladies Aid met in the fellowship hall September 7th with seven members present.

President, Carol Hall, showed a picture of Connie Spatz, Lois Stueckrath and Lois Huebner, whom she had visited at the Manor earlier that day. She opened the meeting with the poem, "Thank You God for Little Things" by Helen Steiner Rice.

Pastor Brian Bucklew then conducted opening devotions, opening with a prayer. He read from 2 Kings, Chapter 4, about Elisha, the prophet, who pointed ahead to Jesus. "God is our prophet. All of Scripture points to Jesus instead of ourselves." He also explained his chaplain job which is starting in January – January 8th to February 9th.

The fall LWML Gathering will be a brunch, October 7th at Clearwater with registration from 8:30-9:00 a.m. It was again suggested that the members begin saving stamps.

The president reported receiving a call from Patty Haage, Grace Lutheran Church in Neligh about hosting a benefit for hurricane victims. It will be a barbecue, planned for September 30th at the 4-H building in Neligh. The Ladies' Aid will be donating 10 dozen cookies. Lois Gloe and Arla Bauer volunteered to make the cookies.

The birthday song was sung for Helen Scott and Shirley Doerr. Pearl Laycock read "I Miss Some Things" while mites were collected. The fun jug and roll call thought was "What is your favorite sport?" Following the meeting, a picture of the members was taken for the scrapbook page.

Prayers were said and lunch was served by the hostess, Janyce Warneke, assisted by Arla Bauer. Hostesses for October will be Lois Gloe and Arla Bauer.

"It's my job to instill some confidence in you losers!"

Walking marathon begins on Sept. 18

Submitted Article

CHI Health Plainview will be hosting a "Sidewalk Marathon" program, starting Monday, Sept. 18 at the local facility.

All are invited to attend and participate in the program, which kicks off on the 18th at 5:30 p.m. From the program's information:

"It reduces your risk of heart attack and stroke. It boosts your mood, helps you lose weight and prevents dementia. And it's free.

It's walking – you can do it with your dog, in a trek around the neighborhood or as another way to get to the grocery store after ditching your car.

CHI Health wants to make it easy and fun for anyone to reach their walking goals. So we're inviting you to join us in our second year of "Sidewalk Marathon."

You don't have to run a marathon – 26.2 miles – you can walk it in 30 days. That's about one extra mile a day. Sidewalk Marathon comes with a step-by-step program for you to follow with exercise plans, healthy recipes and advice from expert health coaches.

Some reasons to lace up the sneakers:

Walking 20 extra minutes a day can burn seven pounds of body fat a year!

You'll have more energy. Walking boosts circulation and increases oxygen so you feel more alert and energized.

It can reduce your stress, cholesterol and blood pressure while it fights dementia, arthritis, depression and diabetes.

You'll smile more. Studies show that even a 5 to 10-minute walk can make a difference. Your brain releases dopamine, serotonin and norepinephrine, which make you feel good.

Join us for our Sidewalk Marathon kickoff on September 18th. It's a fun-filled afternoon with a wide range of activities:

Overweight? All Is Not Lost!

Need to shed 15 or 25 pounds? Try this trick: Pick up a 15- or 25-pound turkey in the grocery store (or a bag of soil at the nursery). Then carry it around for a few minutes. Did you find it tough to do? Extra pounds take a toll, don't they? But weight gain is often such a gradual process that you might not even realize it's happening.¹

Sadly, more and more people are dying from weight-related health problems. This includes high blood pressure, cardiovascular disease, cancer, and other conditions. In 2015, 40 percent of 4 million deaths linked to weight were in people who weren't even considered obese, just overweight.² And for those who gain more, the risks are even greater. For example, 44 extra pounds in midlife increases your risk of type 2 diabetes by 10 times.¹ There's an emotional toll as well. A recent study found that heavy kids faced three times the risk of depression in adulthood.³

Okay, enough of the scary statistics. I'm here to also say that even small changes can make a big difference. For example, did you know that losing just 7 percent of your body weight can cut your risk of diabetes by 60 percent?⁴

So what can you do? As I'm sure you're aware, there's no shortage of weight-loss tips out there. Here are a few backed by recent research:

- Weigh yourself regularly, especially during times of life transition, such as pregnancy or marriage. See the number going up? Nip that trend in the bud before it gets even harder to do.¹
- Down water instead of other drinks. Following 16,000 adults, researchers found that drinking a glass of water instead of a beer every day reduced the risk of obesity by 20 percent. Substituting water for sugar-sweetened drinks lowered the risk by 15 percent.⁵
- Be wary of artificially sweetened drinks, though. Among 1,000 subjects in seven clinical trials, aspartame, saccharin, and sucralose showed no major weight-loss benefits. In fact, data from 30 observational studies involving 400,000 people showed a link between artificial sweeteners and obesity. These kinds of studies, however, can't prove a cause-and-effect relationship.⁶
- "Keep on walking, keep on walking," to paraphrase Dory from Finding Nemo. A global study looked at "activity gaps" and found that waistlines have widened in places where walking rates have declined.⁷ The great thing about this activity is that nearly everyone can do it. And it doesn't cost much, just the price of a good pair of shoes. On your walks, you can also try a few quick bursts of fast walking or running to burn extra calories.⁸
- Get enough sleep. This link might be something you don't think much about. But studies have shown a lack of sleep may contribute to obesity.

Of course, it goes without saying that you need to focus on healthy food choices, too. Eat more vegetables, fruits, lean meats, fish, and nonfat dairy products. And don't tempt fate. Keep sugary, starchy foods out of your house, if you can.⁸

If lifestyle changes aren't quite enough to be effective, your doctor may prescribe a medication or other measures. As you know, I'd be glad to share my insights. Good luck!

“Be still and know that I am God”

By: Rev. C. Brian Bucklew
Pastor, Zion Lutheran Church

“Be still and know that I am God” (Psalm 46:10).

If you read the headlines of the news, and the ways of our every changing culture, you quickly start to realize that the world is anything but still. Hurricanes, fires, wars, rumors of wars, and ever changing, quickening technology can make us feel like we are on a train that will not slow down. In fact, the train is not only not slowing down, but it is speeding up.

But you don't have to watch the news to feel the rush of life's fast pace. Our schedules are becoming increasingly busier with more deadlines, bigger farming, and extra extra-curricular activities.

Our vacations even start to become over scheduled with all those people and places to see. And it's not just our vacations that are busy. Not even Sundays are sacred anymore.

Even out here in rural Nebraska we are not immune to a 'city-like,' fast paced environment, because it's in the air of the culture. It seems like our culture's motto is to worship our work, work at our play, and play at our worship. We are so exhausted by Sunday that we find ourselves needing at least one day to play. And that sacred time of worship on Sunday morning just feels like another day of 'doing and going.'

So then sacred time becomes play time because really we have forgotten how to “be still and know that I am God” (Psalm 46:10).

But God wants us to be still and to know that He is God. Now what does He mean by that? Doesn't He know what one hour or so a week at church costs me? Doesn't He know that that few minutes of time in the morning and evening in prayer costs me? It disarranges my whole schedule! And yet the Lord softly speaks to us and would even have us pray in Psalm 46:10 to “be still and know that I am God.” Why?

Because God knows what it costs us when we are not still before Him, when we rely on our own time, our own works, and even our own efforts at trying to worship Him. It costs us dearly, because we lose the priceless treasures of true peace, love, and joy that are only found in the Divine Service that He gives. God wants us to be still and know that He is God so that He can enact His gracious work of forgiveness and peace upon us.

In fact, God paid for us to be still and to know that He is God. Jesus paid the cost of the debt of our sins, even our sins of profaning God's sacred time, so that we find true rest and stillness in knowing God. Jesus' death on the Cross stilled the wrath of God over our sins so that we truly know God as our loving Father. By faith in Christ who comes to us in the baptismal river of His cleansing blood, we are made glad as the city of God, as the holy habitation of the Most High (Psalm 46:4).

So what does it mean to “be still and know that I am God”? It means that worship is the Divine Service where God meets us and He enacts His favor upon us. He is not still.

Worship then, first and foremost, is being still and knowing that He is God, that He is the doer. Where the good news of Jesus' death for the forgiveness of your sins is preached, there God is serving you while you are still. Where the river of Holy Baptism is poured out upon you in God's Trine name, there He is serving you while you are still, so that you know that He is God. Where Jesus' sacred Body and Blood is given to eat and to drink, there God is serving you while you are still. Here, where the Lord serves you His marvelous gifts, you can be still and know that He is God.

By these, His sacred means of grace, given in set apart, sacred time, you are given true rest from an ever restless world. This is how God interrupts your schedule to have you be still and to know that He is God.

The Lord be with you.

Royal School House Treasures now open

Royal School House Treasures is a new flea market business that opened its doors this summer in the once-abandoned Royal School building.

Owner, Cheryl Holliday of Orchard, has converted parts of the 1912 three-story brick building into an entrepreneurial venture, featuring numerous vendors offering their unique variety of vintage crafts, antiques and flea market items – suitable for home and yard décor. The market area retains much of the original school rooms, refurbished fixtures adding to the charm of the shopper's experience.

Royal School House Treasures is located three block south of the water tower off of Highway 20, and is open during the warm season, all day Saturdays, and Friday and Sunday afternoons.

Jaelyn Shaver of Orchard was a recent, overnight guest of her grandparents, Chris and Mary Williby.

Marlowe and Earleen Jensen and Justin Jensen attended the Rae Valley plowing contest on Saturday and Sunday, where they demonstrated their wheelwright skills.

Plainview Public Schools Board of Education Meeting

Monday, September 11, 2017

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education of District 5 of Plainview, NE, was preceded by the budget public hearing and tax request hearing, all in the secondary media center on Monday, September 11, 2017. The rules for open meetings were posted at the back of the room for both hearings and the regular meeting.

A public hearing to present the proposed 2017-2018 budget was called to order at 5:30 p.m. by Mike Sausser, president. Krause moved, Peterson seconded to declare an open meeting. Upon roll call vote, the ayes were unanimous. Motion carried. Roll call was answered by Sausser, Vicki Peterson, Jan Krause and Krista Hanks. Jason Ashburn and Mike Scott were absent and excused. Peterson moved, Krause seconded to approve the agenda. Upon roll call vote, the ayes were unanimous, with Ashburn and Scott absent. Motion carried.

Superintendent Arlt reviewed details of the proposed budget. State aid increased by $44,000 and the district property valuations decreased by $17,675,678.00. The decrease in valuation is (2.36%). General Fund resources available for 2017-2018 are estimated at $6,826,858.00, including $5,438,224.00 budgeted for non-special education purposes, $670,000.00 budgeted for special education and $718,634.00 for cash reserves. Tax asking for 2017-2018 is $4,823,232.00 down $3051.00 from 2016-2017. Discussion followed. The hearing closed at 6:01 p.m.

A hearing for the purpose of considering the tax requests for the 2017-2018 budget was then opened by Sausser at 6:02 p.m. Peterson moved, Krause seconded, to declare an open meeting. Upon roll call vote, the ayes were unanimous, with Ashburn and Scott absent. Motion carried. Sausser, Peterson, Hanks, and Krause answered roll call. Jason Ashburn and Mike Scott were absent and excused.

It was indicated that the budget, discussed at the previous hearing, would require a 0.591332 tax levy for the General Fund and a 0.069162 levy for the Building Fund, for a total tax levy of 0.660494, compared to 0.645292 in 2016-2017. With the proposed budget, there will be a 1.3 cent increase to support the General Fund and a .0016 cent increase to support the Building Fund. Those levies will generate approximately $3,051.00 less into the General Fund in 2017-2018 and no increase in real dollars into the Building Fund compared to last year's levy. The total tax asking will decrease by about $3051.00. Discussion followed. The hearing closed at 6:10 p.m.

In 18th-century England, Scotland and Ireland, wealthy landowners hired persons to grow their hair, not wash, and live as “hermits” on their estates. This symbolized elite awareness of melancholia and mortality amongst the nobility. Towards the end of the century, erecting statues of such figures replaced the actual hiring of persons to live the part on one’s property, and it is supposed that the placing of smaller statues commonly called “gnomes” in one’s garden evolved from this practice. - Brenda Weaver

* Stuffed peppers bake nicely when put into the wells of a greased muffin tin.

* Wondering which loan you should focus on first in your debt-free strategy? Shoot for the one with the highest interest rate, generally. Or, if you’re the type who needs motivation beyond the knowledge that you are freeing yourself financially, stack them smallest to largest. When you pay off the balance on the smallest loan, fold that extra payment up to the next smallest loan and so on until you are debt-free!

* Toothpaste is a mild abrasive, and it’s suitable to buff out small scratches in a CD. Just dab a bit on, rub lightly with a soft cloth and rinse.

* *Want a nice smelling hamper? I give a coffee filter a spritz of perfume and put it in the bottom. There’s no bad smells in my closet, even with a hamper full of workout wear.” — E.L. in South Carolina

* “Pickle juice: What is it good for? Lots! You can drink it if you have a muscle cramp, or in the summer when it’s really hot and you’re working out to keep from getting dehydrated. But I sometimes like lightly pickled veggies (carrots, cukes and peppers), so when I’m done with the last pickle, I pour the juice and some rough chopped veggies in a saucepot, bring it to a boil and put them right back in the pickle jar. Put it in the fridge, and you’ll have pickled veggies in a few days!” — M.A. in Alabama (Be sure to eat within a week!)

* D.M. in New York writes: “If you are making chocolate cake, replace the water in the recipe with an equal amount of chocolate syrup for a good, deep chocolate flavor.” Yummy! Or, just add a squirt to a box mix. That works, too.

Pirate football falls to GACC

The Plainview Pirate varsity football team took on the Guardian Angels Central Catholic BlueJays on Friday, Sept. 8 in the team's third game of the season, falling to the opposition on their home gridiron, 60-26.

"Our boys played an out-standing game," said Coach Blake Mosel. "We were controlling the offensive and defensive lines, wearing out their defensive backs, and our backs were playing more physical. However, we allowed a couple long punt returns and were not focused defensively which allowed GACC to pull away. I'm still very proud of the first half we put together but in order to be a top 10 team we have to play both halves with that intensity."

The Pirates will have a "bye" this week, and put the pads back on next week, Sept. 22 for a game against Wakefield's Trojans on their home field at 7 p.m.

During the GACC game, the scoring was even in the first, with both teams putting up 20 points on the scoreboard in the first quarter. The BlueJays jumped up six points in the second quarter, to take the lead 26-20 heading into the halftime break.

In the third, GACC continued their scoring streak, with 20 additional points, with the Pirates putting up another six. In the fourth, GACC tacked on another 14 to stretch the lead to the final 60-26.

Matt Hoffmann continued his streak from last week of all-purpose yardage over 200 total for the Pirates – with 231 yards during the GACC BlueJays game, 116 rushing, 74 kick return, eight punt return and 33 yards off an interception.

AdeDamola Akinningbagbe was next for the Pirate offense, pushing 149 total yards from 49 rushing, 35 reception and 65 in kick returns. Keaton Eichberger posted 64 yards, Jacob Hoffmann had 59, Collin Gale had 13, Alizae Mejia had three and John Novicki had two.

SIDEBAR

In last week's Pirate football coverage, a page of defensive stats was missed, leaving out two Pirates who contributed in a big way to the win over Winnebago.

Seniors Micah Williams and John Novicki both marked tackles – four solo and five assisted for Williams and four solo and nine assisted for Novicki – to add to the team's 29 total solo tackles and 70 assisted, and 99 total tackles for the game's defense.

Williams posted one sack, along with Jacob Hoffmann and Nate Christensen as well.

Lady Pirate golfers stay busy at away competitions

The Plainview Lady Pirate golf team finished a busy few days with the Battle Creek Invite on September 11 at the Evergreen Hill golf course.

The Lady Pirates placed eighth of the 10 team participating with a score of 548. West Holt won the meet with 394 while Norfolk Catholic was second with 409. Evergreen Hill is a links style course with tall native grass lining both sides of the fairways.

"Once a ball was hit into the native grass, the ball was very seldom found. This produced some scores higher than normal scores," said Coach Larry Knaak.

Elle Kment continued to lead the Pirates as she placed 19th with 112. Kment opened with 59 and then recorded a career nine-hole total of 53 on the back. "Kment is getting closer all of the time to obtaining a medal," said Knaak. "Hopefully this will occur at the Plainview Invite on September 16."

With Tabby Johnston home with the flu, the Pirates had only a team of four instead of a team of five.

Aaliyah Brown had scores of 78-65. The 65 was a career low for Brown in her first year of golfing. Brown had only one double-digit hole on the back nine.

Jessica Stark was right behind Brown as she recorded 73-71. The 73 was a career low for Stark and then she lowered the career low to 71.

Kayla Johnston playing in place of her sick sister ended the team scoring with 79-70. "Johnston had several good holes but let a high double-digit score on the front nine ruin her front nine," said Knaak. "A rare event then took place as two of the team wanted to practice some more after the meet so they played six more holes at the home course. It has been a long time since this has ever occurred."

The Pirates host their own Invite on September 16 and they would welcome some spectators coming out to watch them, said Knaak.

All seven of the girls will be participating either as a varsity or reserve member.

At Pierce

The Plainview Lady Pirate golf team traveled to the Pierce golf course for the Pierce Invite on September 9.

The team finished 10 out of the 14 teams that participated with their lowest team score of the year of 521. Their second round team score of 248 was the lowest score of the year. Pierce edged out West Holt with a score of 390 to 392.

Tabby Johnston led the Pirates with her lowest rounds of the year of 61-58. "Johnston has the ability to go even lower when she masters the putting game," said Coach Larry Knaak.

Elle Kment had a lost ball on the opening hole that set the tone for the next few holes before she settled down and played better. Kment shot 66-59 that is around her average for the year.

Kayla Johnston had her two lowest round of the year also of 73-64. "Johnston is a left-hander and it is hard for her to observe a correct swing. However, she was able to see a good swing and has been improving since," said Knaak.

Becca Kment continued the trend of shooting her lowest scores of the year as she shot 73-67.

"Kment's opening round had a high-lite of recording her first par to off-set a double-digit hole," said Knaak.

Aaliyah Brown had her scores of 74-77 not used in the team score. These are Brown's best scores playing in a varsity role, said Knaak.

At Stanton

The Plainview Lady Pirate golf team traveled to Elkhorn Acres to for a dual with Stanton.

The Stanton squad was short of girls so they were unable to record a team score.

The Pirates had a team score of 283 that was not much higher than their 275 against Norfolk Catholic at home.

Elle Kment and Tabby Johnston led the team as each had 63.

"Kment was unable to score well on the three hardest holes but otherwise she played well on the other six," said Coach Larry Knaak.

Johnston avoided any double-digit holes but she was close on the three hardest holes.

"Both girls scored high when they were in the rough on these holes. The rough was so thick that if a golfer were in the rough, they had to almost step on the ball to find it," said Knaak. "This also added at least one-half hour to the round so that there wasn't any rhythm to any of the girls' rounds. The rest of the team had problems with the rough also."

Kayla Johnston shot 76 as she struggled with the rough on several of the holes.

Alexa Meyer ended the team scoring with 81. Becca Kment, who was feeling ill, had her score of 84 not used.

Aaliyah Brown and Jessica Stark played in a reserve role. Brown finished with a 74 that was also her career round score. Stark tied her low round with a 77.

Next action for the Lady Pirate team will be Saturday, Sept. 9 at the Pierce Invite before traveling to Battle Creek for the Invite there.
