Contact us by November 1, 2023 for special access to the Educators Rising curriculum for the 2023-24 school year!

WHO

Educators Rising offers curriculum and clinical experiences to high school/ middle school students who are interested in pursuing a career in education.

WHAT

Educators Rising is a career and technical student organization (CTSO). Educators Rising provides Grow Your Own programming through the Educators Rising curriculum and student activities. Districts can develop a new program with Educators Rising or enhance an existing one.

Schools have multiple options for bringing Educators Rising to students. Options Include:

- Educators Rising as a comprehensive career and technical student organization with lessons in a variety of customizable formats and after-school activities.
- Educators Rising as an after-school club where a space is provided for students who share a common interest and excitement for education.
- Educators Rising as project-based learning assignments in the classroom.

BENEFITS

Students receive access to resources for college preparation, scholarship opportunities, develop teaching and leadership skills, qualify to register for the annual conferences, and so much more!

School districts are able to build a Grow Your Own teacher pipeline with district-grown educators. Teacher leaders provide students guidance and inspiration for the career as they teach future educators and gain professional development.
