The pathways through high school are memorable ones. We hope that through this book, we have portrayed a span of these pathways to the future upon which each of us travels.

Education is in itself a wide and heavily traveled pathway. There are many forks in this pathway--each leading to some goal set by those who are traveling upon it.

Just as some roads are unpaved, so are some pathways to success unpaved. There are many rough and threatening sections. However, if the goal is kept in view, all difficulties can be surmounted, and the pathway will have served its purpose of furnishing a means of guidance.

We are proud of our faculty who are the guideposts along our pathway through high school. Without them our trek would be futile.

With all these things in mind, we present to you the 1969 WILDCAT.
The 1969 WILDCAT is proudly and respectfully dedicated to Mr. Billy Carol Simpson. Those who know him can only approve of our choice of Billy as being the right one. We hold him as most popular man and long-time friend, in high-esteem for his unselfish devotion to Boise City High and its student body. Pep rallies, assemblies, games---are but a few of the activities that involve the services of this untiring, always cheerful, and patient man, who has put first above all things the school and the people within it.

Mrs. Janette Coltharp
Mrs. Ruth Overton
Mr. Jack Hardway
Mr. Eddie Gipson
Sunday morning dawned bright and sunny—a perfect morning for attending church services. So, President Spencer Hegwood popped out of bed and started dressing for church. He was going to attend the Roman Catholic Church where the service was going to be conducted by Pope Eddie Miller. Accompanying the President were his First Lady, Cheryl Hankla, and his bodyguard Mike MacLeran. He and his entourage were driven by their intelligent chauffeur, Terrye Potter, who holds a Ph.D in Driver's education. The party was greeted by Sunday School Superintendent, Johnny Coltharp, and the service was very inspirational.

After the President returned from church, he took up the Sunday paper. On the sports page, Johnny Henley, coach of the Green Bay Packers', was headline news. As Mr. President glanced over the society page he caught the by-line name Janell Holloway, who is editor for the “Advice to the Lovelorn” column. With the coming of the morning mail, there was some more interesting news from old classmates. Peggy and Richard Trantham sent a birth announcement of their seventeenth child! What a family!

The next morning, a meeting of the Food and Drug Administration, headed by Patti Camilli, was scheduled for 10:30. Then President Spencer settled a range war between Charles and Rogene, who raise cattle, and Jerry Risley, who runs sheep. After this important issue was settled, Mr. President made his annual appointment for a health check-up with his personal physician, C.D. Riggs.

That evening the President’s family attended the Pulitzer Prize Banquet. This banquet was honoring Sandy Morris, winner of the Pulitzer Prize for Poetry, who was declared a rival of Robert Frost, and Nancy Fowler, who won the Pulitzer Prize for writing a sequel to GONE WITH THE WIND. By the way, Sandy is the wife of the Pope, which is the first marriage ever for a Pope.

Tuesday morning, a presidential conference took place in the White House. Those in attendance were Don Burdick, Vice-President (in charge of vice); Alex Hernandez, Ambassador to Mexico; and James Farris, Director of the FBI. They all enjoyed lunch together while they reminisced about high school days at BCHS. The President cut the interview short in order to watch his favorite afternoon “soap opera,” YOUNG MARRIED, starring Leanell Trembl. The script is written by Dwilene Stockton. While the President gazed at the TV set, the First Lady’s hairdresser Susie Embry did Cheryl’s hair for the opera that evening. When the Presidential party arrived at their opera that evening, they saw many famous personages. Among the celebrities were Zaphryn Tandy, featured singer at Carnegie Hall and Jim Hines, Famous nightclub entertainer who specialized in “wine, women, and song.” So ended a pleasant though hectic day.

On Wednesday morning, there was a conference for the President and chairman of the Physical Fitness Commission, Phyllis Wells. On his way to the conference, Mr. Spencer met Janice Strong, President of a computer dating agency, who was coming to enroll his daughter. After the Physical Fitness Conference, he had an informal talk with David Collins about David loaning the federal government some money. Mr. Collins is the first man to become a millionaire by redeeming Coors Bottles. Then, the President retired so that he might be rested for the ballet, “The Swan,” that evening that was starring Wayne Bearden and Beverly Triplett.
President Hegwood woke on Thursday morning with a severe cold, thus having to stay in bed all day. C.D. Riggs, his physician and leading surgeon at Walter Reed Hospital, came and gave him some measure of relief. To pass away the hours, Spencer read in the Boise City Times about two old friends, Stanley Smoot and Mike Barnes, who are now the "Most Eligible Bachelors" on the French Riviera. Then he flipped a switch, turning on the TV for an afternoon wrestling program. Featured women on the show were Judy Kincannon and Judy Heppard, the World Champion Tag Team Wrestlers. Next on the set was the famous LAUGH-IN starring Leroy Randolph and Bobby Merkley, who are now interested in antique cars. The First Lady came to see them on her way to the General Motors Pavillion at the Boise City World's Fair, designed by that artistic ex-classmate Kathy Harman, who was assisted by her hubby, Steve. After she left, the President drifted into a deep sleep until the next day.

Friday morning the President was awakened early by Tom Benton who phoned to offer him a lifetime subscription to the magazine of which he is the layout director. The magazine— PLAYBOY! After squarely meeting the day with an icy shower and a boiling cup of coffee, the President greeted an old friend, Micky Hipp, showing him around Washington. Mickey is a wild game hunter in Africa. In his spare time, Mick tames hippos and digs canals.

The President rose early Saturday in preparation of the Christening of the Ocean Liner SS HEGWOOD, Rear Admiral Randy Freeman presided over the ceremonies. After the Christening, President Hegwood returned to his White House office where he read a report from Ellen French and Gail Houts. They are head of the computer programing in the new floating space station. Then President and Mrs. Hegwood lunched at the White House with Connie Daniel, founder of a world-wide chain of babysitting agencies. That afternoon, he watched the National Rodeo Finals broadcasted from Oklahoma City. Because of his childhood interest in rodeos, he avidly searches each of the contestants faces for someone he knows. Aha! There's Sherry Labrier, World Champion Barrel Racer. After the excitement of seeing an old friend, the President settles down for the night. What a rough week indeed does the President lead!!!
