

Kenner Discovery Health Sciences Academy PTO

Next week is Teacher Appreciation Week! Even though we are learning remotely, we still want to show our teachers & staff just how much they are loved, missed and appreciated, now more than ever!

Below you'll find a couple of fun, & easy tips we thought we'd include for our parents simply as suggestions-

1. Send an e-card using <https://www.hallmarkecards.com/ecards/collections/teacher>.

This is 100% free!

2. Use Giftly.com to send a present or gift card for any retailer, for any amount, for any gift you would like!

3. Send an eGift Card from Amazon.com! Everyone loves Amazon. They can shop for whatever they would like, and the balance of the gift card never expires!

4. Follow our weekly schedule for a more personal touch.

Make a fun video, post a picture, and when it comes to Wednesday for our co-curricular day record a song for your music teacher, draw a picture for your art teacher, show your favorite PE teacher how you're keeping active, share a favorite book with our librarian or show your computer teacher something that you've been working on that you know she'd be proud of.

Anything that you can think of, to let them know that you miss them & think they are great!

We can't wait to see everyone's pictures next week! Be on the lookout for specific albums to post your pictures/ videos in each day of the week!

*All of the social media activities above are things that parents/ students can participate in by sharing on the KDHSA parent Facebook page OR by sending it to KDHSAconnect@discoveryhsf.org
