_____ when she comes”

Here are a few examples:

(Hint: Have fun! Be silly!)

“She’ll be driving a big yellow bus
when she comes”

“She’ll be driving a big white dog when she comes”

“She’ll be driving a big blue bucket
when she comes”

Colors for Kids

Children typically learn about color during their toddler or preschool years. Recognizing colors and identifying color names is an important part of a child’s development. Early identification of colors helps to create the cognitive link between visual clues and words. Children are naturally attracted to bright colors and they also have a natural affinity to understand the world around them. Since we are surrounded by a world full of colors, here are a few tools that can be used to help children learn about them!

Read books with colorful illustrations
Bill Martin Jr / Eric Carle

Get creative with paints, crayons, markers, etc.

Play games that focus on teaching colors

“I Spy” - play it everywhere! (in the car, on a walk, at the grocery store)
