

Philosophy of Athletics

The role of interscholastic athletics at St. Clairsville High School is one of compatibility rather than exclusiveness. As the fundamental goal of any high school to enter society as a productive and responsible member, we feel that through participation in the athletic program, a student may grow and mature as he/she progresses through the many athletic experiences afforded by the school program.

Specifically, the St. Clairsville High School Athletic Department believes:

- In the values that interscholastic athletics provide.
- That there are substantial educational outcomes from a soundly conceived and executed program for the players, the student body and the school as a whole.
- That the potential values to the participants are genuine by providing adolescents the opportunity to develop ideas and habits of fair play, initiative, achievement and emotional control under prescribed regulations and policies.
- That students find purpose in their schoolwork and in their lives through a program of interscholastic athletics.
- That student can be taught to win with grace and lose with dignity.
- That athletics can provide for substantial physical and emotional growth and stability for the student-athlete.
- That the athletic program though differing in nature from the academic program, justifies itself by providing a wide variety of educational experiences, which are not normally found in the classroom.
- That among other values, those of determination, self-sacrifice and commitment to personal achievement are stressed in any athletic program.
- That any interscholastic sports program should operate within a framework of sportsmanship, discipline and competitiveness.
- That sports, approached properly, can serve to greatly enhance the overall school spirit and morale.

Sportsmanship, Ethics and Integrity

The Board of Education recognizes the value of extracurricular activities in the educational process and the values that young people develop when they have the opportunity to participate in an organized activity outside of the traditional classroom.

Participants and responsible adults involved in Board approved extracurricular activities are expected to demonstrate the same level of responsibility and behavior at practice and competitions as is expected in the classroom. The Board further encourages the development and promotion of sportsmanship, ethics and integrity in all phases of the educational process and in all segments of the community, including administrators, participants, adult supervisors, parents, fans spirit groups and support/booster groups.

Hazing Recognition and Prevention

It is the right of a student who is participating in high school athletics to be safe and free from humiliation and intimidation. The following information is what you need to know about recognizing and preventing hazing in your school.

Defined: Hazing can be a difficult term to precisely define as the hazing activity may be engaged in on a voluntary basis or be seemingly “light hearted” in nature. Typically in the high school setting, older members of the group force new members to show subservience to the veteran team members. As a result, the self-esteem of the new members is lowered because of being forced to complete humiliating acts or to endure intimidation. Hazing is an act, including physical, mental, or psychological, which subjects another person, voluntarily or involuntarily, to anything that may abuse, mistreat, degrade, humiliate, harass, or intimidate him/her, or which may, in any fashion, compromise his/her inherent dignity as a person. In most hazing incidents, student athletes are asked to violate school policies and state or federal law (ie., use of tobacco or alcohol).

Definition of hazing from the NFHS Interscholastic Athletic Administration magazine (winter, 2002):

Hazing can be defined as any act or ceremony, which creates the risk of harm to the student or to any other party and that, is committed as a form of initiation into a particular club or activity. Hazing includes, but is not limited to, activities that involve the risk of physical harm, whipping, branding, ingesting vile substances, sleep deprivation, over-exposure to heat or cold, restraint, nudity, or kidnapping. Hazing could also include actions or simulations of a sexual nature, activities that create a hostile, abusive, or intimidating environment for the student.

Clearly, statutorily mandated active preventative policies against hazing must by definition include student discipline when and if hazing should occur. Such policies (including discipline) actively enforced are mandated both to protect students and to avoid the civil and criminal liability of school personnel.

SPORTSMANSHIP

Student Pep Groups

All support organizations share the responsibility for promoting sportsmanship at games and events. Their intended purpose is to provide support, despite the outcome, in a positive manner. They have an enormous influence on behavior and are an important part of the educational process.

- Establish yourselves as leaders in your conduct before, during and after contests and events. Always provide positive support.
- Assist with chants and be a working part of pep assemblies with preparation, organization and involvement.

- Treat opposing players, coaches, fans and support groups with respect and enthusiasm.
- Conduct yourselves in an exemplary manner. Remember, you represent your school both home and away.
- Refrain from taunting or making any kind of derogatory remarks to your opponents during the game, especially comments of ethnic, racial or sexual nature.
- Respect the integrity and judgment of game officials. Treating them with respect, even if you disagree with their judgment, will only make a positive impression of your group, your team and the community in the eyes of all people at the event.
- Only use positive cheers in support of you team.
- Work within the guidelines established by the administration, and cooperatively contribute to the coach's efforts whenever possible.
- Remember that you are at a contest to support and yell for your team and to enjoy the skill and competition, not to intimidate or ridicule the other team and its fans.
- Remember that interscholastic athletics are learning experiences for students and that mistakes are sometimes made. Praise student athletes in their attempt to improve themselves as students, as athletes and as people.
- Remember that a ticket to an interscholastic athletic event is a privilege to observe the contest, not a license to verbally assault others and be generally obnoxious.

Sportsmanship Continued

The St. Clairsville-Richland City School District and the St. Clairsville Athletic Department recognize the value of extracurricular activities in the educational process and the values that young people develop when they have the opportunity to participate in an organized activity outside of the traditional classroom. If the full benefit of athletics as an educational tool is to be utilized, educational institutions must immediately concern themselves with the player, coach and spectator sportsmanship.

Ethical consideration is as follows:

1. 1. Recognize the official as a person of integrity and qualification, and respect the decision accordingly.
2. 2. Refrain from creating the disturbances, which would be detrimental to the flow of the game and or to the safety of the participants involved.
3. 3. Refrain from harassment, profane language or obnoxious behavior in respect to players, coaches and spectators.
4. 4. Become familiar with the rules of the game in order to enjoy it more and to understand the decisions made by the officials.
5. 5. Exhibit respect for the local policies and regulations regarding the use of athletic facilities.

6. Exhibit team loyalties and support without negative action toward the opponents, officials or spectators.

All athletes will comply with the specific training rules and regulation for their sport distributed to them by their coach.

Situations not mentioned above will be handled by the coach of the team and will be referred to the director of athletics and principal.

The Athletic Board retains the right to reprimand any athlete for attitudinal reasons or any other cause, which would reflect unfavorable on the St. Clairsville-Richland School District, its athletes, academics, faculty, or administration.
