

Ride Home Form

Here's how it works:

1. Everyone rides to the event together, as a group, on the bus.
2. Ride Home Forms (RHF) must be completely filled out, signed, and submitted to a director by the designated time, which is normally one day prior to the date of travel.
3. At the end of the event, parents will go to the band bus their child rides, find the chaperone with the sign out list, and sign their kid out. That will not happen until the event ends. Students may not leave an event earlier than the designate end time. If the child is not properly signed out and leaves, that child will ride the bus home after every remaining event until otherwise told differently.
4. Only mom, dad, or legal guardian may sign out their child. In other words, child's grandma may not sign child out from event. Mom, dad, or legal guardian may sign child out and then let grandma take child. If mom, dad, or legal guardian does not go to the event, then they are not at the bus to sign child out, thus child rides home on the bus.
5. Student is responsible for making sure that their uniform and instrument is put up properly upon the band returning to Carthage.

If that is confusing, please contact a director so you are clear about who we will release the kids to.

Having this system in place for many years now, we know this is not always convenient. But we are putting the safety of your child above convenience on this one.

If you have extenuating circumstances that may warrant special consideration to this policy, please do not hesitate to talk to a director with as much advance notice as possible. These circumstance are rare. For instance, death in the family, family member goes to emergency room, etc. Instances that are not considered special, poor planning or communication on the part of the student, parents going out of town and there is nobody at home to watch student, student wants to spend the night with a friend and parents aren't going to the event, etc.
