Story of Huello

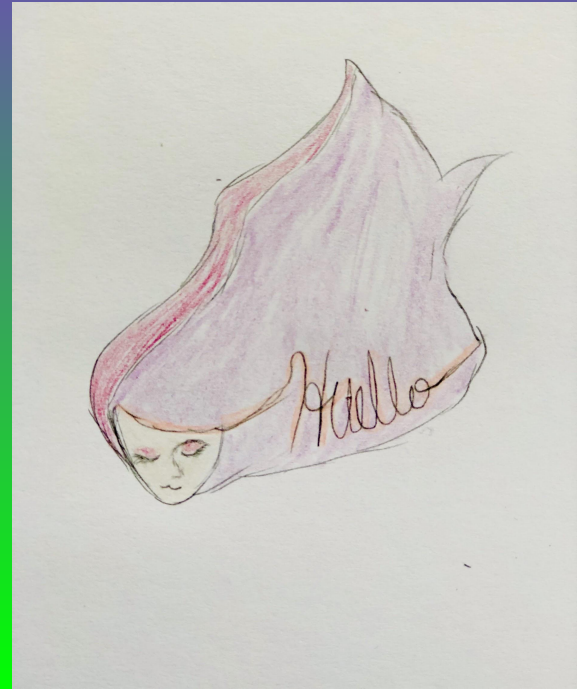

"NO! You cannot dye your hair! It tears apart your hair!" is what my mom screams at me almost daily, so I thought what if there was a hair dye that didn't hurt your hair? That's how I came up with Huello!

Well, I have hair putty that doesn't hurt my hair. To create it I would have to buy a lot of the putty, fill the jar that it comes in with water and swirl it around a lot. I would sell my dye anywhere I could and anytime I could!

I hope that all the people who wish to dye their hair but can't because they or their parents (in the case of children) don't want their hair torn up

Charity

I chose a charity called Wigs for Kids created by Jeffrey Paul whose mission is to help children feel good about themselves. They are related to Huello because we both want kids to feel good about themselves and they both involve hair.

Profit

Cost=535,000

Payments=50$=hair putty 1100$=advertising

$50$ + 1100$ = 1150$$

$535,000$ - 1150$ = 532,950$$
