Read the selection to learn about Pandora's box. Then answer the questions that follow.

Pandora's Box

Zeus was the ancient Greek god who was the ruler of all heaven. One day, he was very angry that a giant named Prometheus had given people fire. He created a beautiful woman, whom he named Pandora, which means "all-gifts" in Greek.

Zeus sent Pandora down to earth with a little box that had a big lock on it. He told her never to open the box, and he gave the key to Pandora's husband. But Pandora was very curious about what was in the box. She begged her husband to let her open it, but he always said no. Finally, one day, when he fell asleep, she stole the key from him and opened the box.

Out of the box flew all the troubles that people had never known before. There were Sickness, Worry, Crime, Hate, Envy, and all sorts of other bad things. Pandora was very sorry that she had opened the box! She tried to catch the bad things and put them back in the box, but it was too late. They all flew away.

Pandora began to cry, but then a very strange thing happened. The last thing to fly out of the box, as Pandora sat there crying, was not as ugly as all the other horrible things. In fact it was beautiful. It was Hope, which Zeus sent to keep us going when all the nasty things in life get us down.

Looking at Nature

I like to look at forests,
The trunks of many trees,
Their branches spreading out
Reaching towards the sky with leaves.

I like to look at meadows,
Their flowers moist with dew,
Windy grasses bending
Across the open views.

I like to look at the ocean,
Its untamed waves of green
That splash upon the shore
To make a lovely scene.

I like to look at mountains
Rising to the sky.
Up to their tops I'd go
If only I could fly!

Nature has so many things
Wonderful to see;
Just use your many senses,
I'm sure you will agree!

Shore Walk

Each morning I awake
And walk along the shore,
To watch the rising sun
And hear the ocean's roar.

Each morning I awake
To watch the seagulls fly—
They flap their pointed wings
And sail into the sky.

Each morning I awake
To smell the salty sea—
The scent is in the wind
That blows so wild and free.

Each morning I awake
To look for shiny shells,
And stones, polished smooth
By mighty waves and swells.

At night I go to sleep
And dream of pleasant seas,
Of rising in the morning
To greet the ocean breeze.
