Plants help keep animals safe.
A rabbit can hide in tall grass.
A bug can hide on a leaf.
A deer can hide near the trees
in a forest.

Plants also make food for animals.
Some animals, such as sheep,
eat only plants.
Plants give these animals all the food they need.

Pollen helps the flowers make seeds.

Squirrels dig holes for acorns.
They plan to come back
and eat them later.
Sometimes they forget!
Then the acorns grow into trees.
