

GREENVILLE

CENTRAL SCHOOL DISTRICT

International Baccalaureate District

June 16, 2020

As a district we firmly believe in our Mission statement, "Where everyone learns, teaches, and belongs." In light of recent protests and events across the United States, we are focusing on the importance of belonging to ensure that all of our students, staff, and community feel safe and represented in our learning environment.

We are confident that our mission and values continue to be relevant and meaningful, as we prepare students for community life and leadership. Our mission lives out in our classrooms as children and teachers engage in meaningful academic content, and it thrives when students connect their learning to the larger world. It is here that we have the opportunity to explore what it means to value the importance that "everyone belongs."

Change comes not only from our words, but our actions. While we continue to grow, this is an ongoing process. Moving into the 2020-21 school year, we will continue to research and promote educational measures meant to positively impact school culture and climate with our children and teachers. Long-term actions include reviewing our curriculum and character education work to purposefully address issues of race and bias. We look forward to partnering with parents as we refine this area of our learning together.

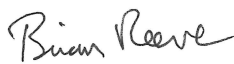

Together we are Spartan STRONG.
